Hello Bravo:

Hello Bravo! Judy West,1996 For Those They Serve Gwyn Roberts,2013 For Those They Serve is an action packed thriller about a plan to steal the Crown Jewels of Great Britain Because of the world crises Major Wilson s rifle company has been involved in near continual combat situations causing the Major to grow disillusioned and angry at the way his men have been killed and injured due to the British Government s foreign policy One day the Major is sitting in the officer s mess when one of his officers tells him he has heard of a hypothetical plan to steal the Crown Jewels while their battalion is on public duties in London The more Wilson thinks about it the more he feels this simple plan might actually work Ultimately he decides that if the British Government doesn t care about compensating his men for their sacrifices then he will do something about it himself Along with the officers and Senior NCO s of his rifle company Wilson hatches a plan to carry out the most audacious robbery in the history of the United Kingdom But then of course every plan has its shortcomings Born in the Welsh town of Dolgellau and raised in Shrewsbury Shropshire in the UK Gwyn Roberts joined the army in 1973 and served with the 1st Battalion The Royal Welch Fusiliers for ten years After being discharged he found work with the British Railways Now retired he currently lives in Stafford with his partner Barbara and a border collie called Max Apart from writing he is involved in scale military modelling and fundraising for the Royal Naval Association of Stafford Publisher s website <http://sbpra.com> GwynRobert

With the Royal Tank Regiment in Korea Jim Selway,2025-07-02 Jim Selway s memoir offers a vivid account of his experiences as a Royal Tank Regiment officer during the Korean War and Cold War This book tells of the awe in which the veterans of World War 2 were held by the post war generation the close bonds of trust and loyalty within tank crews and the deep respect often expressed through humour between tanks and infantry It also gives a human feel for the early Cold War conditions in the British Army of the Rhine Brigadier Gavin Thompson Colonel Commandant The Royal Tank Regiment Jim James Selway a subaltern with the Royal Tank Regiment in the Korean War relates a young officer s experiences from 1949 until his retirement from the army in 1959 initially as a Tank Troop Commander and later as B Squadron s Battle Captain Jim s hard earned experience of soldiering in combat and peacetime gives a rare and fascinating flavour into the life of an RTR officer In Part One Jim Selway writes about his initial service and training in the Post war British army He recalls the disappointment of Officer training which didn t capitalise on real world lessons and the vastly more valuable training environment within the regiments He talks about the experience of preparing for and travelling to a distant misunderstood war and his experiences on the ground as a troop commander in Korea the last time British and United Nations forces held off an numerically overwhelming politically indoctrinated but technically inferior force The motto of the Royal Tank Regiment is Fear Naught and Jim s account will show how the Regiment lived up to it in the face of what Brigadier Brian Parritt vividly described as Chinese Hordes and Human Waves in his book on the conflict Following the unrestrained fighting in Korea Part Two of his memoirs describes through the lived experience of postings to Suez Britain Germany and Norway how budgetary constraints and the challenges of the Cold War diluted the focus of the army from operational excellence with the requirement to maintain morale Jim argues that the brass s insistence on various values particularly the retention of sporting traditions helped overcome the disappointments and challenges of budget soldiering in a peacetime army Technology may have changed much since the 50s but this deeply personal memoir provides insight into the leadership styles and challenges faced by a generation long exposed to war and remains relevant for soldiers today We should neither forget nor
