Reflective Parenting with Teenagers in Mind Sheila Redfern, 2024-03-21 Have you ever wondered what s going on in your teenager s mind This engaging book will give you the tools to understand just that to ultimately help you keep the close connection you both need during these tricky years Following on from her acclaimed book for parents of younger children Sheila Redfern brings the reflective parenting model to parents of teenagers Teenagers can be experienced as prickly and hard to get close to like a cactus but Dr Redfern shows us how this stage of your child's life can be more enjoyable and connected than you'd imagined. Rather than focusing on their behaviours, this book emphasises how we can teach teenagers to manage their feelings and relationships in safe ways. It advocates theories underpinning reflective parenting, mentalizing, attachment and neuroscience as essential for building resilience and security in young people, which is crucial through the storm and stress of adolescence. Chapters are filled with everyday relatable scenarios and practical advice on pressing issues such as self-harm, social media and gaming risk and ASD. There is also a chapter devoted to adoptive parents and foster carers. This practical guide aims to help readers become more reflective and available as parents and understand what might be in their teenager's head. It also serves as an essential resource for clinicians working with families. Parenting Your

Internationally Adopted Child Patty Cogen, 2008-05-07 A guide for adoptive parents from preparations for a child's arrival through the teen years. What Parents Need to Know about Teens David A. Wolfe, 2007 As a parent you want practical accurate and user-friendly information to help raise your teen. You want to know what's considered normal adolescent behaviour, how to determine whether your child is on a good path, how to encourage your teen's healthy development and how to get help when problems arise. What Parents Need to Know about Teens is an easy-to-read booklet that addresses these issues. Author David A. Wolfe is a clinical psychologist who has worked with children and teens for more than 25 years. He holds the RBC Chair in Children's Mental Health at the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health. In his work, Dr Wolfe has often encountered parents who describe feeling overwhelmed with the problems their teenage children bring home, especially when some of these difficulties didn't exist when they were growing up themselves. This booklet is a response to parents' concerns. Written in chatty down-to-earth language, What Parents Need to Know about Teens addresses the facts and myths of teen life and teens' relationships with parents. The booklet focuses on strategies to help parents prepare teens for new responsibilities and the pressures that may accompany them. Each section of the booklet is devoted to a different parenting strategy: 1. Be an effective parent. Balance sensitivity and firmness. 2. Place an emphasis on safety, responsibility and obeying rules. 3. Teach, don't just criticize. 4. Understand your teen's development and how it affects your relationship. 5. Understand the pressures and the risks your teen faces.
