Faith And The Sources Of Faith:

Where the Rivers Flow Scott Walker, 1986 Christian Faith Hendrikus Berkhof, 1991 In today's secular world the Christian faith is viewed as only one aspect of what could be called religious life Acknowledging this Hendrikus Berkhof begins this thought provoking study with a sketch of religion and faith in general before narrowing it down to a discussion of the specific place of Christian faith in all of reality Fact, Faith, and Experience Watchman Nee, 2002-06 Throughout his life of ministry in service to the Lord Watchman Nee demonstrated a proper balance between knowing the objective truths in the Bible and experiencing the subjective realities contained in the divine relation This book begins with the article Fact faith and experience Subsequent sections contain messages that relate to the topics of fact faith and experience The Faith, the Cross, the Gospel, and the Worship of God Arvil Jones, 2008-06 This book is different from most other books of the same genre It simply takes another approach at expounding upon these great Biblical themes The author has taken the letters of each theme and has built a chapter or chapters upon each letter The author simply believes that there is something else to be said than what has been said so far about The Christian Faith the faith which was once delivered unto the saints May God bless each reader who reads these few pages Dr Jones was born in the small Southeastern Kentucky community of Girdler He is the youngest of fourteen children seven boys and seven girls He and his wife Carolyn now reside in Hamilton OH Dr Jones has earned a Masters degree in Theology and a Doctorate in Religion having held five pastorates in over thirty years of ministry This present work is his fourth book The Faith that Does Justice John C. Haughey, 1977 Faith at the Crossroads Dov Schwartz, 2002-05-01 Religious Zionism emerged as an organized political movement in 1902 rebelling against the ethos of passivity endorsed by a mostly anti Zionist Eastern European Orthodoxy The book presents religious Zionists as a new religious type driven by distinct theological conceptions that reexamine fundamental notions including God faith and historical process Schwartz's detailed analysis exposes the roots of a political movement that has proven crucially influential in Israeli politics both before and after the establishment of the state Faith Negotiating Loyalties Stephen W. Martin, 2008 Faith Negotiating Loyalties draws readers into the world of Christian faith in South Africa and the question of loyalties in the new post apartheid state It carries out its investigation in two parts Part one examines Christian faith and loyalty during the first nation building exercise following the South African War positioning the creation and contestation of three Christianities corresponding to three nationalisms each of which imagined South Africa in a particular way shaping faith accordingly The idea of an undifferentiated South African Christianity gives way to contesting and contested Christianities nationalism gives way to nationalisms and faith emerges in tension with and in criticism of these loyalties Part two discusses the American theologian H Richard Niebuhr in South Africa Three kinds of faith in his writings are set forth social faith racial faith and reconstructing faith Contextualized within the South African story Niebuhr's ideas suggest self and society as constituted by hybridities and suspended in a web of loyalties Faith Negotiating Loyalties suggests the message for faith in a post apartheid South Africa is the importance of negotiating covenants which allow for crossings hybridities and contestations

Faith and Rationalism George Park Fisher, 1879 The Existence Of God And The Faith... Howard P. Kainz, 2010-10 The Origins of Christian Faith Terrance Callan, 1994 The Origins of Christian Faith is a scholarly treatment of first century evidence of the beginnings of Christian faith Professor Callan carefully analyzes the different layers of New Testament tradition to discover how the first Christian communities grew step by step in their understanding of the mystery of Jesus as the Christ He explains historically each foundational level on which our Christian faith rests The result is the story of the early church s development of its faith in Jesus Handbook of the Christian Religion for the Use of Advanced Students and the Educated Laity Wilhelm Wilmers, 1891 Making Faith-sense Robert L. Kinast, 1999 Making faith sense is a new term for an ancient practice It is what the early Christians called mystical or wisdom theology understanding life in the light of God s participation recorded in the Gospels recognizing the signs of God s presence in everyday events and shaping one s life accordingly In Making Faith Sense Robert Kinast shows all who seek to unify their life experience around their belief in God how to follow that ancient practice Drawing upon the award winning process he has used with students for the ministry Father Kinast explains how to make sense of family work and cultural experience from the perspective of Christian faith Each chapter contains numerous real life examples and practical guidelines that can be used privately or with a group Making Faith Sense begins with a discussion of wisdom theology and its revival in modern times highlighting the turn to experience that characterizes feminist liberation and inculturated theologies The methods for making faith sense embrace three main components experience reflection and action The first section describes what is meant by experience the value of narrating it how to analyze it and what to pay attention to so that experience will reveal its theological meaning The second section explains the role of reflection its similarity to prayer techniques for connecting experience to theological tradition and the most useful theological resources for making faith sense The third section affirms the importance of putting reflection into practice of ensuring that action flows from reflection of planning and evaluating the effect of one s practice and of using practice as the starting point for continuing the process of making faith sense Examples from work family and cultural life are used throughout to provide illustrations of these general points A concluding chapter summarizes the reemergence of practical theology since the 1980s as an effort of church communities to make faith sense of their collective lives Chapters are What Is Faith Sense How to Make Faith Sense Getting Started How to Make Faith Sense The Heart of the Matter and Enacting Faith Sense The Culmination of the Process Robert L. Kinast PhD is a pastoral theologian specializing in the field of theological reflection Through the publications and services of the Center for Theological Reflection Indian Rocks Beach Florida he contributes to the ministry training programs of many denominations in the United States and Canada Father Kinast is the author of the Vatican II Act II series and Let Ministry Teach published by Liturgical Press The sources of theological knowledge. God. Creation and the supernatural order

Joseph Wilhelm, Thomas Bartholomew Scannell, 1890 On Divine Revelation: The Teaching of the Catholic Faith Vol. One Fr. Reginald Garrigou-Lagrange, 2022-05-27 In On Divine Revelation one of Garrigou Lagrange's most significant works here available in English for the very first time he offers a classic treatment of this foundational topic. It is an organized and thorough defense of both the rationality and supernaturality of divine revelation. He presents a careful yet stimulating account of the scientific character of theology, the nature of revelation itself, mystery, dogma, the grace of faith, the powers of human reason, false interpretations thereof, rationalism, naturalism, agnosticism, and pantheism, the motives of credibility, and much more. Though written a century ago, On Divine Revelation will restore confidence in theology as a distinct and unified science and return focus to the fundamental questions of the doctrine of revelation. It also serves as a salutary corrective to contemporary theology's anthropocentrism and concern with what is relative in revelation and religious experience by reorienting our theological attention to what is most certain, central, and sure in our knowledge of divine revelation: the Triune God who has revealed his inner life and salvific will. Readers will see the great splendor of the gift of divine revelation, radiant with credibility before the gaze of reason, and drawing our supernatural assent to the mysteries through the gift of faith. As Fr. Cajetan Cuddy O.P. observes, On Divine Revelation is a stunning work of inestimable value. No other subsequent work on this topic has come close to meeting it, much less surpassing it. The Faith of Christendom Brian Albert Gerrish, 1963 This book makes available to all who are interested in Christian thought and history the principal creeds and confessions of the Church, with introductory historical and theological comment to aid in understanding them. Democratic Faith Patrick Deneen, 2009-01-10 The American political reformer Herbert Croly wrote, "For better or worse, democracy cannot be disentangled from an aspiration toward human perfectibility." Democratic Faith is at once a trenchant analysis and a powerful critique of this underlying assumption that informs democratic theory. Patrick Deneen argues that among democracy's most ardent supporters there is an oft-expressed belief in the need to transform human beings in order to reconcile the sometimes disappointing reality of human self-interest with the democratic ideal of selfless commitment. This transformative impulse is frequently couched in religious language, such as the need for political redemption. This is all the more striking given the frequent accompanying condemnation of traditional religious belief that informs the democratic faith. At the same time, because so often this democratic ideal fails to materialize, democratic faith is often subject to a particularly intense form of disappointment. A mutually reinforcing cycle of faith and disillusionment is frequently exhibited by those who profess a democratic faith in effect imperiling democratic commitments due to the cynicism of its most fervent erstwhile supporters. Deneen argues that democracy is ill-served by such faith. Instead, he proposes a form of democratic realism that recognizes democracy not as a regime with aspirations to perfection, but that justifies democracy as the regime most appropriate for imperfect humans. If democratic faith aspires to transformation, democratic realism insists on the central importance of humility, hope, and charity. The Arc of Faith-Based Initiatives John P. Bartkowski, Susan E. Grettenberger, 2018-05-17 This volume offers an in depth examination of a diverse range of faith based programs implemented in three different geographical locales family support in rural Mississippi transitional housing in Michigan and addiction recovery in the Pacific Northwest Washington Oregon Various types of religious service providers faith intensive and faith related are carefully examined and secular organizations also serve as an illuminating point of comparison Among other insights this book reveals how the three C s of social service provision programmatic content organizational culture and ecological context all combine to shape the delivery of welfare services in the nonprofit world This book warns against simplistic generalizations about faith based organizations Faith based providers exhibit considerable diversity and quite often remarkable resilience in the face of challenging social circumstances An appreciation of these nuances is critical as policies concerning faith based organizations continue to evolve
