Dr Peter Toon

Faith Of The Managers When Managerialism Becomes Religion:

Faith of the Managers Stephen Pattison, 1997-01-11 According to Stephen Pattison managers have become the cultural heroes of our time In this book he examines some of the values assumptions beliefs and practices they embrace Managerialism he argues is a form of religious faith and he criticizes the utopianism of those whom managers look upon as gurus He suggests that managers should apply to their faith some of the critical spirit that theologians have applied to religious belief His book will be of interest to all who want more from management than manipulative technique and incomprehensible jargon

Ecclesial Leadership as Friendship Chloe Lynch, 2019-03-01 When it comes to talking about the activity of directing the church the language of leadership and leaders is increasingly popular Yet what is leadership and how might theological narratives better resource the discourse and practice of leadership in ecclesial contexts In identifying and critiquing managerialism as a dominant narrative of leadership in the Western church this book calls for an alternative approach founded on the concept of friendship Engaging with the wider field of leadership studies the book establishes an understanding of leadership activity and brings it into conversation with an incarnational ecclesiology The result is a prophetic reimagining of ecclesial leadership in terms of a relational kenotic praxis This praxis of mutuality and love is framed here in the rich language of Christian friendship The book also wrestles deeply with the embodiment of such a praxis making explicit the power behaviours typical of friendship leadership and offering constructive guidance for practitioners in the task of implementation within a complex and fractured world This book offers a new vision of the centrality of friendship to leadership of a healthy church community As such it will be of great use to scholars of practical theology ecclesiology and leadership as well as practitioners in church ministry

Tensions in Christian Ethics Malcolm Brown, 2011-01-01 The book draws on the author's teaching of ethics at undergraduate and postgraduate level for the Cambridge Theological Federation since 2000 Its purpose is to introduce the reader to questions in Christian ethics through a careful examination of the fundamental meta ethical questions posed by the state we're in whether understood as a new phase of modernity or as postmodernity Brown draws on sources and authors from a variety of Christian traditions and from Britain the U S A and Europe The book will be of use not only to university departments and denominational and ecumenical teaching institutions but also as a more general exposition of the current state of ethical thinking in the Christian churches

Without Absolutes, God Is Not God Ronald A Train, 2013-01-12 Absolutes As a Christian it is foundational I believe to hold to absolutes For example a Christian should have absolutes about God's ontology the principle of being absolutes about theology the study of God absolutes about Christology the study of Christ and absolutes about pneumatology the study of the Holy Spirit Each of the foregoing absolutes I believe impact upon how one constructs a world view and how one considers the wider implications of God's kingdom work hence why I have titled this collection of essays Without absolutes God is not God I guess the reader will be asking him or herself why is there a requirement to hold to absolutes The need for absolutes is not complex In reality

the argument determines whether one is a believer or non believer in the triune God A believer will weigh whether God revelationally speaks into this world generally and specifically A non believer will object to such a proposition and as a consequence leave him or herself open to other belief systems To perhaps put it another way a non believer is faced with the choice of deciding whether God is a reality or whether God is a creation of human imagination Decision making then is crucial when accepting the triune God and his work Does one make a decision to believe in God empirically or does one make a decision to believe in God from a position of faith It is my view that God cannot be known empirically i e by trial or experience but rather he can only be known by faith However it depends on how we define faith Those who accept other belief systems would argue that they too have a faith or a belief in some god or person In the Christian context however faith is an action based on the accepted evidence In other words if one accepts that the written word of God is substantially true 2 Peter 1 20 21 and that the Word of God Jesus of Nazareth is who he is recorded as being or is who he claims to be John 1 1 5 14 6 7 then faith is given substance But I would go further and argue that authentic faith is derived from a spiritual encounter with God which then enables the recipients faith response to be one which is prompted or ignited by God My argument is supported from Scripture 1 Corinthians 12 9 Ephesians 2 8 9 and from personal experience Both of the foregoing references I suggest argue that faith is a gift which has its origin in God Hence faith is not only prompted by God but also sustained by him The analysis of such faith is that it is revelatory and constitutes an utter reliance on who God is and why he exists Revelatory Faith Evangelicals argue that faith is a gift from God However this argument is treated with caution by others Existentialism suggests that faith is made possible and so granted by the gracious approach and self disclosure of being Interestingly at this point there is no great variance between the latter perspective and Martin Luther who argued that faith originates with or is at least aroused by God Contemplating the third article of the Apostles Creed he wrote I believe that I cannot of my own reason or strength believe in Jesus Christ my Lord or come to him But the Holy Spirit has called me by the Gospel enlightened me with His gifts sanctified and kept me in the true faith Modernists also argue that faith constitutes a persons response but only after having been drawn to Gods work of salvation This argument suggests faith to be an a priori act of God an act that prompts recognition that in the Christ God is endeavouring to share his own life This arousal of faith then affects worship praise and prayer and the practise of Christian discipleship The same argument suggests further that the prior love of God and the response of love that it generates are what shape a persons Christian faith Biblical support for these theological reflections is found in Ephesians

Being the Body of Christ in the Age of Management

Lyndon Shakespeare, 2016-08-26 The church needs effective leaders We must be more missional Better organization is required Such sentiments are commonplace among Christians concerned with the health and sustainability of their local church as well as the church universal Over the past thirty years the desire for more efficiently run effectively led and organizationally sound churches has contributed to an approach to thinking about the church in terms uncritically assumed from the business and management sector This has given rise to treating the church as if it were just another social body in need of better organization The question is what happens when we apply the logic of management techniques to an organization that identifies as the body of Christ Drawing on organizational theory theological anthropology and sacramental theology this book navigates a path for Christians that avoids reducing the church to just another organization while providing a vision for the church as the social body where all are invited to connect and be made members of Christ and each other Such a vision provides an alternative to the social categorization that would define the church by its organizational character rather than its eschatological destiny

The Challenge of Practical Theology Stephen Pattison, 2007 This collection of key writings by Stephen Pattison examines the implicit and explicit beliefs and value systems that guide practice in both religious and non religious organisations Pattison draws on experience from his interdisciplinary interprofessional work in many different settings including community service volunteering mental health care health service management and teaching in health and practical theology to promote a personal practical political and popular approach to belief theology and practice which stresses the importance of responsibility and contemporaneity

The Oxford Handbook of Management Ideas Andrew Sturdy, Stefan Heusinkveld, Trish Reay, David Strang, 2019-03-28 Management ideas and their associated applications have become a prevalent feature of our working lives While their focus is familiar such as efficiency motivation and improvement they range from specific notions such as activity based costing to broad movements like corporate social responsibility This Handbook brings together some of the latest research from leading international scholars on how management ideas are produced promoted and adapted and their effects on business and working practices and society at large Rather than focusing on specific management ideas this volume explores their key socio political contexts and channels of dissemination and is organized around four core overlapping themes The first section sets out the research field in general in terms of both an overall system and of different perspectives and research methods The second section explores the role of different actors and channels of diffusion including the consumers and producers of management ideas and new media as well as traditional players in the management ideas field such as consultancies and business schools The third section focuses on specific features or dynamics of the management ideas system such as their adoption evolution institutionalisation and resurgence while in the final section critical and new perspectives on management ideas are examined highlighting specific socio political contexts and the possibility of alternative ideas and forms of critique With a broad range of perspectives represented this Handbook provides a comprehensive authoritative and enduring resource for those studying management innovation and organizational change as well as for those working in the management ideas industry After the Market Malcolm Brown, 2004 The market economy is dominant in people's lives today and undermines much Christian comment and church practice This book critiques much of the churches recent work on economic issues and proposes a renewed theological seriousness for mission in the economy A Flourishing Practice? Dr Peter Toon, 2014-09-30 A Flourishing Practice looks at the moral problems that currently seem prevalent in health care It suggests how GPs other health professionals and patients can overcome the moral confusion of everyday life in the healthcare system Violence, Desire, and the Sacred, Volume 2 Scott Cowdell, Chris Fleming, Joel Hodge, 2014-01-30 This collection of state of the art interpretations of the thought of Ren Girard follows on from the volume Violence Desire and the Sacred Girard's Mimetic Theory Across the Disciplines 2012 The previous collection has been acclaimed for demonstrating and showcasing Girard's mimetic theory at its interdisciplinary best by bringing together scholars who apply Girard's insights in different fields This new volume builds on and extends the work of that earlier collection by moving into new areas such as psychology politics classical literature national literature and practical applications of Girard's theory in pastoral spiritual care peace making and religious thought and practice Rethinking Management Chris Mowles, 2016-04-08 What do business school graduates learn and how helpful is it for managing in the everyday messy reality of organisations What does it mean to apply best practice or to take up evidence based management and what kind of thinking does this imply In Rethinking Management Chris Mowles argues that many management courses still largely assume a linear and predictable world when experience tells us that the opposite is the case He questions some of the more orthodox conceptual assumptions that underpin much management education and instead encourages leaders and managers to take their everyday experience of working with others seriously People in organisations co operate and compete to get things done and constrain and enable each other in relationships of power Because of this there are always unintended consequences of our actions uncertainty is inherent in the everyday Chris Mowles draws on the complexity sciences the sciences of uncertainty rather than certainty and the social sciences to explore more helpful ways to think and talk about our lived reality He takes concrete examples from contemporary organisations to argue that understanding the radical implications of uncertainty is central to the task of leading Rethinking Management explores narrative alternatives to the ubiquitous grids and frameworks that are routinely taught in business schools and encourages management professionals and educators to recognise the importance of judgement improvisation and the everyday politics of organisational life □□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□ □□, □□□□□□, 2019-12-01 Managing God's Business Malcolm Torry, 2017-03-02 Religious and faith based organisations constitute a large and important group of organisations This is the first book to study systematically their characteristics and the distinctive challenges they pose to the people managing them Malcolm Torry discusses how to define religious and faith based organisations how to study them and the secular context in which they operate in Western Europe and the USA There are chapters on congregations denominations
