Required Markella B. Rutherford,2011-08-03 Adult Supervision Required considers the contradictory ways in which contemporary American culture has imagined individual autonomy for parents and children In many ways today's parents and children have more freedom than ever before There is widespread respect for children's autonomy as distinct individuals and a broad range of parenting styles are flourishing Yet it may also be fair to say that there is an unprecedented fear of children's and parents' freedom Dread about Amber Alerts and stranger danger have put an end to the unsupervised outdoor play enjoyed by earlier generations of suburban kids Similarly fear of bad parenting has not only given rise to a cottage industry of advice books for anxious parents but has also granted state agencies greater power to police the family Using popular parenting advice literature as a springboard for a broader sociological analysis of the American family Markella B. Rutherford explores how our increasingly psychological conception of the family might be jeopardizing our appreciation for parents and children's public lives and civil liberties Feminist Perspectives on Advertising Kim

Clemence Dane Louise McDonald, 2020-08-31 This feminist investigation of the works of Clemence Dane joins the growing body of research into the relationship of female authored texts to the ideology and cultural hegemony of the Edwardian and inter war period An amalgam of single author study and thematic period analysis through sustained cultural engagement this book explores Dane's journalism drama and fiction to interrogate a range of issues inter war women's writing the Middlebrow feminism homo sexuality liberal politics domesticity and concepts of the spinster It examines form and a range of fictional genres drama bildungsroman detective fiction historical saga and gothic fiction It relates back to the genre writing of comparable authors These include Rosamond Lehmann Vita Sackville West Ivy Compton Burnett Dorothy Strachey Dodie Smith Rachel Ferguson May Sinclair Sylvia Townsend Warner Daphne Du Maurier G B Stern and detective writers Dorothy L Sayers Agatha Christie Gladys Mitchell Marjorie Allingham and Ngaio Marsh Offering a picture of an era focalised through Dane and contextualised through her journalism and the work of her female peers it argues that Dane is often markedly more radically feminist than these contemporaries. She engages with broad issues of social justice irrespective of gender and her humanity is demonstrated through her sympathetic representations of marginalised characters of both sexes. However, she most specifically evidences a gender politics consistent with the fragmented and multifarious essentialist feminism that emerged following the Great War, which esteemed womanly qualities of care and mothering but simultaneously valued female autonomy, single status and professionalism. Adopting the critical paradigms of domestic modernism and women's liminality, the book will particularly focus on the trajectories of Dane's extraordinary modern heroines who possess qualities of altruism, candour, integrity, imagination, intuition, resilience and rebelliousness. Over the course of her work, these fictional women increasingly challenge oppressive normative forms of domesticity, traversing physical thresholds to create alternative domesticities in self-defining living and working spaces.
