Stewart, 2017-07-05 Peasant festival imagery began in sixteenth century Nuremberg when the city played host to a series of religious and secular festivals The peasant festival images were first produced as woodcut prints in the decade between 1524 and 1535 by Sebald Beham These peasant festival prints show celebrating in a variety of ways including dancing eating and drinking and playing games In Before Bruegel Alison Stewart takes a fresh look at these images and explores them within their historical and cultural contexts including the introduction of the Lutheran Reformation into the town s institutions and the accompanying re evaluation of the town s popular festivals Stewart goes beyond the black and white approaches of previous interpretations to examine the festival prints in a more complex manner In the first publication of its kind Stewart makes the case for a range of meanings these works held for a sixteenth century audience and for Beham s pictorial inventiveness and his business savvy Beham is credited with inventing the subject of peasant festivals in Northern Renaissance art and for creating a market for the subject by the middle of the sixteenth century with his large scale woodcuts at Nuremberg and with tiny engravings at Frankfurt Stewart shows that the market Beham created for prints with the theme of peasant festivals paved the way for Pieter Bruegel s Netherlandish paintings of the same theme dating but a few years later The Essential Dürer Larry Silver, Jeffrey Chipps Smith, 2011-11-29 Albrecht Dürer 1471 1528 perhaps the most famous of all German artists embodies the modern ideal of the Renaissance man he was a remarkable painter printmaker draftsman designer theoretician and even a poet More is known about his thoughts and his life than about any other

Northern European master of his time since he wrote extensively about himself his family's history his travels and his friends His woodcuts and engravings were avidly collected and copied across Europe and they quickly established his reputation as a master Praised in life and elegized in death by such thinkers as Martin Luther and Erasmus he served Emperor Maximilian and other leading church and secular princes in the Holy Roman Empire Although there is a vast specialized literature on the Nuremberg master The Essential Dürer fills the need for a foundational book that covers the major aspects of his career The essays included in this book written by leading scholars from the United States and Germany provide an accessible up to date examination of Dürer's art and person as well as his posthumous fame The essays address an array of topics from separate and detailed studies of his paintings drawings printmaking and sculpture to broader concerns such as his visits to and interactions with Venice and the Netherlands his personal relationships and his relationships with other artists Collectively these stimulating essays explore the brilliance of Dürer's creativity and the impact he had on his world exposing him as an artist fully engaged with the tumultuous intellectual and religious challenges of his time

Merback, 2018-02-09 A deft reinterpretation of the most zealously interpreted picture in the Western canon as a therapeutic artifact Albrecht Dürer's famous portrayal of creative effort in paralysis the unsurpassed masterpiece of copperplate engraving titled Melencolia I has stood for centuries as a pictorial summa of knowledge about the melancholic temperament a dense allegory of the limits of earthbound arts and sciences and the impossibility of attaining perfection Dubbed the image of images for being the most zealously interpreted picture in the Western canon Melencolia I also presides over the origins of modern iconology art history's own science of meaning Yet we are left with a clutter of mutually contradictory theories a historiographic ruin that confirms the mood of its object In Perfection's Therapy Mitchell Merback reopens the case file and argues for a hidden intentionality in Melencolia's opacity its structural chaos and its resistance to allegorical closure That intentionality he argues points toward a fascinating possibility never before considered that Dürer's masterpiece is not only an arresting diagnosis of melancholic distress but an innovative instrument for its undoing Merback deftly resituates Dürer's image within the long history of the therapeutic artifact Placing Dürer's therapeutic project in dialogue with that of humanism's founder Francesco Petrarch Merback also unearths Dürer's ambition to act as a physician of the soul Celebrated as the Apelles of the black line in his own day and ever since as Germany's first Renaissance painter theorist the Dürer we encounter here is also the first modern Christian artist addressing himself to the distress of souls including his own Melencolia thus emerges as a key reference point in a venture of spiritual ethical therapy a work designed to exercise the mind restore the body's equilibrium and help in getting on with the undertaking of perfection Albrecht Durer Jane Campbell multicolored horses produce nuts without shells and create an egg the size of a human head Giambattista Della Porta's Natural Magic 1559 conveys a fascination with tricks and illusions that makes it a work difficult for historians of science to take seriously Yet according to William Eamon it is in the how to books written by medieval alchemists magicians and artisans that modern science has its roots These compilations of recipes on everything from parlor tricks through medical remedies to wool dyeing fascinated medieval intellectuals because they promised access to esoteric secrets of nature In closely examining this rich but little known source of literature Eamon reveals that printing technology and popular culture had as great if not stronger an impact on early modern science as did the traditional academic disciplines The

Pictorialization of Dürer's Drawings in Northern Europe in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries Kayo Hirakawa,2009 This book examines the unique phenomenon of the pictorialization of Dürer's drawings Representative Northern European painters in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries such as Hans Sch ufelein Jacob Hoefnagel and Jan Brueghel the Elder reproduced Dürer's drawings from single motifs to whole compositions in brilliant colors This publication discusses the character of Dürer's workshop preferences for drawings in Renaissance Germany questions about authorship and ownership around works of art and the reception and adaptation of the Northern Renaissance art in the Prague Mannerism It also demonstrates how in the course of the sixteenth century the evaluation of Dürer's drawings in Northern Europe changed

Signs of Change Nils Holger Petersen, Claus Clüver, Nicolas Bell, 2004 Signs of Change Transformations of Christian Traditions and their Representation in the Arts 1000 2000 focuses on the changing relationships between what gradually emerged as the Arts and Christianity the latter term covering both a stream of ideas and its institutions The book as a whole is addressed to a general academic audience concerned with issues of cultural history while the individual essays are also intended as scholarly contributions within their own fields A collaborative effort by twenty five European and American scholars representing disciplines ranging from aesthetics to the history of art and architecture from literature music and the theatre to classics church history and theology the volume is an interdisciplinary study of intermedial phenomena generally in larger cultural and intellectual contexts The focus of topics extends from single concrete objects to sets of abstract concepts and values and from a single moment in time to an entire millennium While Signs of Change acknowledges the importance of synthesizing efforts essential to hermeneutically informed scholarship in order to counterbalance generalized historical narratives with detailed investigations broad accounts are juxtaposed with specialized research projects The deliberately unchronological grouping of contributions underlines the effort to further discussion about methodologies for writing cultural history
