African Drama and Theatre A Criticism explores critical questions that scholars of African drama and theatre continue to grapple with The contributors to this text investigate the developments of African drama and theatre from the Pre colonial period to the Present While paying attention to issues that characterize the practice of African drama and theatre in each historical period and with illustrations drawn from various parts of Africa the contributors engage particular perspectives theoretical and or conceptual frameworks in their analyses The result is a rich collection of essays that cover a wide range of topics such as the Concept and Nature of Traditional African drama and theatre African Aesthetics in Traditional African drama and theatre Re appropriation of the African Aesthetic in Modern African drama the Growth and Development of Kenyan drama and theatre Theatre for Development in East Africa and Minimalism as a theatrical strategy in Athol Fugard's plays The essays herein reflect a well researched representation of what has and is taking place in drama and theatrical scenes in the African continent It is a book whose insights can be brought to bear upon contemporary discourses on African drama and theatre beyond the confined boundaries of this text About the Editors John Mugubi PhD is a seasoned scholar of Literature Theatre Arts and Film at Kenyatta University He holds a B A and M A from the University of Nairobi and a PhD from Kenyatta University He has widely published in Literature Theatre and Film Charles Kebaya M A holds a Master of Arts degree in Literature with a bias in Drama and Theatre Criticism and a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and Literature from Kenyatta University Currently Kebaya is working on his PhD Dissertation on drama and theatre His research interests are in Postcoloniality in Literature Drama and Theatre

Performative Inter-Actions in African Theatre 2 Kene Igweonu, Osita Okagbue, 2014-04-11 This book is part of a three volume book set published under the general title of Performative Inter Actions in African Theatre Each of the three books in the set has a unique subtitle that works to better focus its content and differentiates it from the other two volumes The contributors backgrounds and global spread adequately reflect the international focus of the three books that make up the collection The contributions in their various ways demonstrate the many advances and ingenious solutions adopted by African theatre practitioners in tackling some of the challenges arising from the adverse colonial experience as well as the one sided advance of globalisation The contributions attest to the thriving nature of African theatre and performance which in the face of these challenges has managed to retain its distinctiveness while at the same time acknowledging contesting and appropriating influences from elsewhere into an aesthetic that is identifiably African Consequently the three books are presented as a comprehensive exploration of the current state of African theatre and performance both on the continent and diaspora

Performative Inter Actions in African Theatre 2
Innovation Creativity and Social Change contains essays that address performativity as a process particularly in the context of theatre s engagement with contemporary realities with the hope of instigating social change The innovativeness of the examples explored within the book points to the ingenuity and adaptive capacity of African theatre in ways that engage indigenous forms in the service of contemporary realities Contributions in Innovation Creativity and Social Change explore forms such as Theatre for Development community and applied theatre and indigenous juridical performances as well as the work of contemporary dramatists and performers who set out to instigate change in society

Decolonising African Theatre
 Samuel Ravengai, 2024-04-16 Decolonisation can be pursued in different ways After many years of developing a critical language to engage coloniality the most urgent need in African theatre is to develop new theories and methods in our manufactories This Element uses Afrosocenology as a theory to read and comment on African theatre The Element particularly focuses on the history of laboratories in which it was tested and emerged the historicization of rombic theatre and the crafting of a theory of the playtext which has been named theatric theory to distinguish it from the Aristotelian dramatic theory The second dimension of the theory is the performatic technique This Element also explain Afrosonic mime through examples drawn from the workshops conducted in training performers

African Theatre in Performance Dele Layiwola, 2013-11-05 In this lively and varied tribute to Martin Banham Layiwola has assembled critical commentaries and two plays which focus primarily on Nigerian theatre both traditional and contemporary Dele Layiwola Dapo Adelugba and Sonny Oti trace the beginnings of the School of Drama in 1960 at the University of Ibadan Nigeria where Martin Banham played a key and influential role in the growth of thriving Nigerian theatre repetoire and simultaneously encouraging the creation of a new theatre based on traditional Nigerian theatre forms This comparative approach is taken up in Dele Layiwola s study of ritual and drama in the context of various traditions worldwide while Oyin Ogunba presents a lucid picture of the complex use of theatre space in Yoruba ritual dramadar drama Harsh everyday realitites both physical and political are graphically demonstrated by Robert McClaren Zimbabwe and Oga Steve Abah Nigeria who both show surprising and alarming links between extreme actual experiences and theatre creation and performance The texts of the two plays When Criminals Turn Judges by Ola Rotimi The Hand that Feeds the King by Wale Ogunyemi are followed by Austin O Asagba s study of oral tradition and text in plays by Osofisan and Agbeyegbe and Frances Harding s study on power language and imagery in Wole Soyinka s plays

The Methuen Drama Guide to Contemporary South African Theatre Martin

Middeke, Peter Paul Schnierer, 2015-11-19 South Africa has a uniquely rich and diverse theatre tradition which has responded energetically to the country's remarkable transition helping to define the challenges and contradictions of this young democracy. This volume considers the variety of theatre forms and the work of the major playwrights and theatre makers producing work in democratic South Africa. It offers an overview of theatre pioneers and theatre forms in Part One before concentrating on the work of individual playwrights in Part Two. Through its wide-ranging survey of indigenous drama written predominantly in the English language and the analysis of more than 100 plays, a detailed account is provided of post-apartheid South African theatre and its engagement with the country's recent history. Part One offers six overview chapters on South African theatre pioneers and theatre forms. These include consideration of the work of artists such as Barney Simon, Mbongeni Ngema, Phyllis Klotz, the collaborations of William Kentridge and the Handspring Puppet Company, the work of Magnet Theatre and of physical and popular community theatre forms. Part Two features chapters on twelve major playwrights including Athol Fugard, Reza de Wet, Lara Foot Zakes, Mda, Ya I Farber, Mpumelelo Paul Grootboom, Mike van Graan and Brett Bailey. It includes a survey of emerging playwrights and significant plays and the book closes with an interview with Aubrey Sekhaby, the Artistic Director of the South African State Theatre in Pretoria. Written by a team of over twenty leading international scholars, The Methuen Drama Guide to Contemporary South African Theatre is a unique resource that will be invaluable to students and scholars from a range of different disciplines as well as theatre practitioners.

South African Theatre as/and Intervention, 2021-11-22 One of the most striking features of cultural life in South Africa has been the extent to which one area of cultural practice, theatre, has more than any other testified to the present condition of the country now in transition between its colonial past and a decolonized future. But in what sense and how far does the critical force of theatre in South Africa as a mode of intervention continue? In the immediate post-election moment, theatre seemed to be pursuing an escapist, nostalgic route, relieved of its historical burden of protest and opposition. But as the contributors to this volume show, new voices have been emerging and a more complex politics of the theatre involving feminist and gay initiatives, physical theatre, festival theatre and theatre for education has become apparent. Both new and familiar players in South African theatre studies from around the world here respond to or anticipate the altered conditions of the country while exploring the notion that theatre continues to intervene. This broad focus enables a wide and stimulating range of approaches: contributors examine strategies of intervention among audiences, theatres established and fledgling, writers canonical and new, texts traditional and innovative, critical perspectives. The book concludes with four recent interviews with influential practitioners about the meaning and future of theatre in South Africa: Athol Fugard, Fatima Dike, Reza de Wet and Janet Suzman.

A History of East African Theatre, Volume 2 Jane Plastow, 2021-11-02 This second volume of A History of East African Theatre focuses on central East Africa on Burundi, Kenya, Rwanda, Tanzania and Uganda. The first chapter is concerned with francophone theatres, comparatively studying work coming out of Burundi and Rwanda.

alongside a focus on French language theatre in Djibouti The chapter is particularly concerned to explore how French and Belgian cultural policies impacted theatre during the colonial period and how the French ideas of FrancAfrique and promotion of elite French language art have continued to resonate in the post colonial present Chapters Two and Three look comparatively at the rich theatre histories of Kenya Tanzania and Uganda and are divided between a study of British East African colonial impact and an analysis of the post colonial period illustrating how divergent political thought and societal make up led to exponential differentiation in national theatres The final chapter on Theatre for Development and related social action theatre covers the whole East African region offering the first ever historicised analysis of this mode of theatre making which since the 1980s has come to dominate funding and opportunity in performance arts     The Cambridge Guide to African and Caribbean Theatre Martin Banham, Errol Hill, George Woodyard, 1994-08-04 Comprehensive alphabetical guide to theatre in Africa and the Caribbean national essays and entries on countries and performers     War in African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2008 This issue of African Literature Today is devoted to studies of how African writers as historical witnesses have handled the recreation of war as a cataclysmic phenomenon in various locations on the continent The theoretical question is whether the fictionalized representation demonstrated equitable balance between socio political messages lessons of war and the sanctity of art aesthetics Contributors have explore the subject from a variety of perspectives panoramic regional national and through comparative studies Was has enriched contemporary African literature but at what price to human lives peace and the environment Publisher s description
