Annual Report International Committee of the Red Cross,1976 The Contemporary International Committee of the Red Cross David P. Forsythe,2024-02-01 The International Committee of the Red Cross ICRC was founded in 1863 and is often considered the gold standard in humanitarian action Despite its many positive achievements over more than 150 years some former ICRC officials believe that the organization is now in decline because of a series of recent policy choices Their view is that the organization has undermined its reputation for independent and neutral humanitarian action while growing too fast and too large which has weakened its reputation for quick tightly focused and effective action in the field David P Forsythe revisits the ICRC policy decisions of recent decades and suggests that the organization is not in fatal decline but that it does need to reconsider some of its policies at the margins Though some errors have been made and some corrections are in order Forsythe argues that its obituary is premature
