Mashed Potato Pizza

Introduction

My grandpa always tells me that people who laugh at their own mistakes will get everyone else to laugh along with them. Yesterday, I learned that he is right.

Beginning of the Story

"Stay in line," Mrs. Martin said. I knew right away that my friend Naomi wouldn't be able to cut. I looked at Naomi and frowned. Soon, the line began to move faster, and I followed along hoping that there would still be pizza.

When I reached the counter, I looked at the choices. I could only see chicken and mashed potatoes, macaroni and cheese, and fish. I could hear the rumbling of my very disappointed stomach.

Then, out of the corner of my eye, I saw one last piece of pepperoni pizza. I got so excited.

"Pepperoni pizza," I said politely. Mrs. Martin handed me the pizza. I took the paper plate so quickly that the pizza slid off the plate. I tried to save it, but the pizza landed in the pan of hot, buttery mashed potatoes.

I could feel my face turning redder and redder. All I could hear was laughter from the kids in line.

As I looked at the upside-down pizza, I heard Mrs. Martin's voice. "Maria, would you like a side of mashed potatoes with your pizza?"

I looked up and saw Naomi. She was laughing too. With a nervous smile, I said, "Of course."

Mrs. Martin smiled and scooped the mashed potato pizza on my plate. I looked around at my friends, and we all laughed again.

I never really believed my grandpa until I saw my friends laughing with me. The laughing made me feel good instead of just clumsy.

Understanding Development and Proficiency in Writing Philip Durrant,Mark Brenchley,Lee McCallum,2021-03-18 Quantitative corpus research on written language development has expanded rapidly in recent years assisted by the ever increasing power and accessibility of software capable of reliably analysing huge collections of learner writing For this work to reach its full potential it is important that researchers have a strong understanding of its methodological foundations and of the existing empirical evidence base on which it can build This book provides the most comprehensive discussion to date of research in this area Covering both first and second language learning contexts it sets out a coherent theoretical framework and systematically reviews studies published over the last seventy years in order to establish what such research has taught us about written language development what it hasn't taught us and what we should do next Timely and original this is an essential reference work for academic researchers and students of first and second language writing Biblical Interpretation in Early Christian Gospels Thomas Hatina, 2008-10-18 The second title in a proposed five volume work volume two following on from the volume on Mark's Gospel concentrates on Matthew's Gospel Contributors consider the function of embedded scripture texts in the context of the Gospels written and read heard in their early Christian settings The project is wide ranging with essays on the function of scripture in the compositional history of the gospels and the collection is broad in scope as a result of current interest in the integration of methods especially historical and narrative ones Advancements over the last 20 years in the study of genre and narrative criticism have left a void in the study of the function of embedded biblical texts in the Gospels This collection of essays will move the study of scripture within scripture forwards

Interactive Storytelling Lissa Holloway-Attaway, John T. Murray, 2023-10-30 This two volume set LNCS 14383 and LNCS 14384 constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 16th International Conference on Interactive Digital Storytelling ICIDS 2023 held in Kobe Japan during November 11-15 2023 The 30 full papers presented in this book together with 11 short papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 101 submissions Additionally the proceedings includes 22 Late Breaking Works The papers focus on topics such as theory history and foundations social and cultural contexts tools and systems interactive narrative design virtual worlds performance games and play applications and case studies and late breaking works Writing the Materialities of the Past Sam Griffiths, 2021-06-14 Writing the Materialities of the Past offers a close analysis of how the materiality of the built environment has been repressed in historical thinking since the 1950s Author Sam Griffiths argues that the social theory of cities in this period was characterised by the dominance of socio economic and linguistic cultural models which served to impede our understanding of time space relationality towards historical events and their narration The book engages with studies of historical writing to discuss materiality in the built environment as a form of literary practice to express marginalised dimensions of social experience in a range of historical contexts It then moves on to reflect on England's nineteenth century industrialization from an architectural topographical perspective challenging theories of space and architecture to examine the complex role of industrial cities in mediating social changes in the practice of everyday life By demonstrating how the authenticity of historical accounts rests on materially emplaced narratives Griffiths makes the case for the emancipatory possibilities of historical writing He calls for a re evaluation of historical epistemology as a primarily socio scientific or literary enquiry and instead proposes a specifically architectural time space figuration of historical events to rethink and refresh the relationship of the urban past to its present and future Written for postgraduate students researchers and academics in architectural theory and urban studies Griffiths draws on the space syntax tradition of research to explore how contingencies of movement and encounter construct the historical imagination
