Interpreting China's Military Power Ka Po Ng, 2005-08-09

Although inter state tensions have generally been easing after the Cold War military power remains a dominant factor in Asian regional politics. As China operating the world's largest army grows stronger there are ongoing debates over the implications for Asia's regional security. This book argues that it is imperative to look beyond the empirical observations and conventional materialist reading of Chinese military development to understand its dynamics and directions in doctrinal terms and put it in a readiness context for evaluation. Military doctrine has long been under studied and is often treated as a subject separate from force development. But as this study contends this factor is necessary for interpreting the making and purposes of China's military power because it forms the intellectual foundation of military structural and hardware development. When loaded with political rhetoric it also communicates to us the intended uses of the military power. The role of doctrine is reinforced in the context of military readiness which defines what for and how the army is getting ready. Force development is evaluated in structural operational and directional terms. The importance of this analytical framework based on military doctrine and readiness is demonstrated in a survey of the evolution of Chinese military doctrine and force development. As the Chinese People's Liberation Army has continued to adjust its military structure and operation to follow the doctrinal lead its switches between the doctrines of local war and total war have seen corresponding changes to the emphasis between operational and structural readiness.

Military Doctrine Bert Chapman, 2009-09-03 This comprehensive volume provides a thorough overview of 20th and 21st century military doctrines worldwide. Military Doctrine: A Reference Handbook takes a thorough look at 20th and 21st century military doctrines around the world. It excerpts relevant English language scholarly and governmental literature to paint a picture of how military doctrine has developed in recent history, what military doctrines are currently operating on the world stage and where military doctrine is heading in the near future. The book casts a wide net scanning the relevant government documents, international agreements, monographs, journals, conference papers and Internet resources to present a thorough overview of the importance of military doctrine in today's highly unstable world. Because military institutions are important formulators of national military doctrine and not merely implementers, this book examines the roles played by military organizations around the world. With the proliferation of independent military scholars and the widespread influence of their work in the Internet age, the book also scans the gray literature and describes its effects on military doctrine.

China's Military Power Roger Cliff, 2015-09-15 Once termed the world's largest military museum, the Chinese military has made enormous progress over the past twenty years. With skyrocketing military budgets and new technology, China's tanks, aircraft, destroyers and missile capabilities are becoming comparable to those of the United States. If these trends continue, how powerful will the Chinese military be in the future? Will its capabilities soon rival or surpass those of the United States? The most comprehensive study of its kind, this book provides a detailed assessment of China's military capabilities in 2000 and 2010 with projections for 2020. It is the first of its kind in outlining a rigorous theoretically and empirically grounded framework for assessing military capability based on not just weaponry but also doctrine, training, equipment, and organizational structure. This framework provides not only the most accurate assessment of China's military to date but an important new tool in the study of military history. PLA Modernisation and Likely Force Structure 2025 Nagender SP Bisht, 2015-02-01. China is modernizing her military very rapidly and as her economy strengthens the pace of military modernization is going to touch higher trajectories. This modernization would impact and alter the existing strategic environment in the world. In the region the impact will be more profound and will force her neighbors to rework their own military modernization programs, war-fighting doctrines, and their present position on relations with China and other regional powers and the US. Today, in addition to issues relating to human resource development, the biggest impediment is the availability of technology to develop new modern weapon systems and equipment. Will the drivers and trends of Chinese military modernization continue to be the same or will there be changes? How will the modernization impact the PLA's behavior especially in its neighborhood? How will the neighbors react to this stupendous pace of militarization in the East Asia? What will be the role of Japan, Vietnam, India, Russia, and the US? How will China's restive periphery and PLA respond to the spread of Islamic fundamentalism? To correctly appreciate these changes, an in-depth understanding of Chinese military modernization is essential. This book is an effort in this direction and attempts to find some answers to the questions posed. The trends of modernization of the four services of the PLA have been analyzed and a capability suggested that the PLA is likely to have by 2025. South Asia Defence And Strategic Year Book - 2009 General Deepak Kapoor, AVSM PVSM, SM VSM Chief of Army Staff (India), 2009. The third edition of the South Asia Defence and Strategic Year Book offers an analysis of defence, economic, and social issues that impact regional security in South Asia. The wide-ranging perspectives give a deep insight into the factors and linkages that impact the emerging international relations of the region with particular emphasis on India, which is an economic, military, and political powerhouse with an expanding footprint in the World. South Asia is a region that is rife with geopolitics. By virtue of its population and location, it is a reflection of the challenges of the interconnected, integrated, and interdependent world. Its security environment is relatively unsettled and is a reason for both hope and despair. Its issues, which have international as well as regional relevance, have their own dynamics and trends that need a deeper understanding. The Year Book aims to provide a comprehensive overview of the security environment in the region by focusing on an in-depth analysis of military capabilities and strategic imperatives obtaining in the region. Apart from outlining the general security environment, detailed military balance, trends in weapon systems and technology, defence industry, missile and nuclear capabilities, and terrorism issues have been highlighted. Growing strategic linkages and independence of nation-states make it imperative to consider the region as a whole to incorporate a holistic approach. The Year Book also contains studies on China and other Southeast Asian nations to that effect Thus the underlying theme of this publication is to enable understanding through information While the threat of terrorism remains at the forefront of most analyses the move towards popular and democratically elected governments in South Asia has not eclipsed the existing challenges to governance in all the countries of the region Poverty and economic disparities coupled with ethnic and social divisions have created political and social fault lines that have been exploited by non state actors with their own agendas Thus we hope to promote peace through understanding by delineating the issues of concern in the region

China's Military Procurement in the Reform Era Yoram Evron,2015-06-26 The decisions that shape the policy of weapons procurement are an important area of national security policy This is all the more true for China which during recent decades has vacillated between different sources and directions of military build up This book explores the politics of military procurement in China under the successive leaderships of Deng Xiaoping Jiang Zemin and Hu Jintao It shows how China's political and military leaders have sought to adjust military procurement policy to meet China's strategic objectives to relate it to non military needs to strike a balance between the import of weapons and indigenous production and to determine the connections between hardware and other components of military power Exploring in detail five major shifts in the nation's military procurement it traces the considerations and negotiations among China's civilian and military leaderships By doing so it offers both a conceptual framework and empirical grounds for evaluating the factors that shape China's military procurement directions as well as their limitations prospects and operational implications As the first book to study comprehensively and systematically the attributes shaping China's military procurement it will be of great interest to students and scholars of Chinese politics Chinese history and military and strategic studies

Relationships in Developing Countries Glen Segell,Dhirendra K. Vajpeyi,2013-12-16 This book examines two sides of civil military relations in developing countries One is the place of civil military relations within a state's political and economic systems the other is the role of the military on a state's maintenance of peace and stability The book thus proposes that the function of soldiers is not only to defend and deter but also to develop The chapters provide a comprehensive analysis of civil military relationship with comparative cases on Botswana China El Salvador Honduras Guatemala India Indonesia Nicaragua Nigeria Pakistan and The Arab Spring Countries of the Middle East including Bahrain Sudan Iraq Jordan Saudi Arabia Egypt Tunisia Yemen and Libya Each chapter analyzes the historical cultural and political factors that shape the direction of the man on the white horse military elite and the politician In doing so this book reveals the potential impact of the nature of civil military relations on democratization political and economic development and on regional international security Dhirendra Vajpeyi and Glen Segell discuss and critique the current models and literature on civil military relations The innovative framework and careful choice of case studies presented in a jargon free accessible style makes this book attractive to scholars and students of civil military relations and development studies as well as policymakers

War and International Relations Balazs Szanto,2021-07-08 This book provides a critical overview of the occurrence of war in the international system by examining the concept from multiple perspectives and theoretical backgrounds War is an essential concept in international affairs if for no other reason than because prevention of war requires an in depth understanding of it as a concept This book seeks to examine the continued occurrence of war in international relations despite the emergence of arguments concerning its obsolescence It provides a new cognitive framework through which to understand war as a phenomenon which can be applied to real world scenarios and policy issues making use of case studies predominantly from China and Japan Theoretically the book is primarily based on a structural realist framework but adopts a significant constructivist component through the emphasis on identity and reputation in the international system The volume offers a nuanced yet holistic approach to the theory of war and seeks to engage critically with the major theoretical approaches pointing out the major criticisms of these ideas and how the theories correlate This book will be of much interest to students of strategic studies foreign policy and International Relations

Rise of China: Indian Perspective Editors: Prof S Gopal, Nabeel A Mancheri, The remarkable rise of China in the last three decades has had a mixed global reaction While many countries have welcomed this rise some of China's neighbours have viewed it with concern if not consternation What does the rise of China signify for India given our none too smooth relationship with China and latter's unqualified support to Pakistan in military and nuclear field What do our leading companies feel about China Would the Indian Ocean be the scene of stiff confrontation between India and China Or is China Threat an exaggeration or hype as some would hold This book is the result of intense discussions on the above questions in a seminar held on Dec 20 21 2011 at the National Institute of Advanced Studies Bangalore The Chapters in this book based on papers presented by leading experts on China both from the Government and the Private sectors covers almost all aspects of China from internal political developments foreign policy to economy S T developments and Strategic capabilities particularly with respect to India China's growing military and economic clout and impressive advances in trade and technology have all been analysed by various speakers who are well known for their expertise on china China's views on India have also been brought out succinctly The Seminar was the first major interaction on a subject of strategic national interest It is hoped that the book would contribute to better understanding of China by both the interested citizens of this country and the policy makers
