At the Intersection Thomas Rosteck, 1999-01-01 This provocative volume is based on the premise that cultural studies and rhetorical studies address specific and parallel questions about culture critical practice and interpretation and that opening up a dialogue between them can enhance both and provide a more complete understanding of society Noted scholars across a variety of disciplines examine overlaps and contradictions between these approaches as well as critical and pedagogical issues that surface with their linkage

The Ancient Novel and Early

Christian and Jewish Narrative: Fictional Intersections Marília P. Futre Pinheiro, Judith Perkins, Richard Pervo, 2013-08-31 This innovative collection explores the vital role played by fictional narratives in Christian and Jewish self-fashioning in the early Roman imperial period. Employing a diversity of approaches including cultural studies, feminist, philological, and narratological expert scholars from six countries offer twelve essays on Christian fictions or fictionalized texts and one essay on Aseneth. All the papers were originally presented at the Fourth International Conference on the Ancient Novel in Lisbon, Portugal in 2008. The papers emphasize historical contextualization and comparative methodologies and will appeal to all those interested in early Christianity, the Ancient novel, Roman imperial history, feminist studies, and canonization processes.

At the Intersection of Hermeneutics and Homiletics Yung Suk Kim, 2025-04-18 While hermeneutics involves comprehensive study of the biblical text, whether through historical or literary or reader-focused approaches, homiletics is concerned with a selected theme, message, and on the composition and delivery of sermonic discourse aimed at a particular audience. But the border between hermeneutics and homiletics is blurry because both disciplines require readers to engage the biblical text from their own contexts. This collection deals with the intersection of hermeneutics and homiletics by exploring two revelatory texts: one from the Hebrew Bible and the other from the New Testament, the book of Ruth and Matthew 15:21-28, a Canaanite woman's encounter with Jesus. Both reflect agonizing issues that readers must tackle: immigration, family, community, identity, agency, race, ethnicity, gender, class, culture, economy, and religion. A diverse group of scholars brings their transgressive perspectives to the above texts. Unfolding new areas of interest, inquiry, and insight, they will transgress authoritative readings of biblical texts, fashion hermeneutic horizons in dialogue with the text, and forge homiletic trajectories toward contemporary audiences. Without limiting interpretation to a box, this volume looks to register bold voices to perennial issues in our day. Homiletic transformation occurs through the relentless, resistant reading of the text and through reimagining our world.

Translation and the Intersection of Texts, Contexts and Politics Mohammed Albakry, 2017-07-27 This book analyzes the impact of historical, political, and sociocultural contexts on the reading, rewriting, and translating of texts. The authors base their arguments on their experiences of translating or researching different text types, taking in fiction, short stories, memoirs, religious texts, scientific treatises, and news reports from a variety of different languages and cultural traditions. In doing so, they cover a wide range of contexts and time periods, including Early Modern Europe, post-1848 Switzerland, nineteenth-century Portugal, Egypt in the early twentieth century under British colonial rule, Spain under Franco's dictatorship, and contemporary Peru and China. They also consider the theoretical and pedagogical implications of their conclusions for translation students and practitioners. This edited collection will be of great interest to scholars working in translation studies, applied linguistics, and on issues of cultural difference.

Psychoanalytic Intersections Elise Miller, 2023-10-09 Psychoanalytic Intersections examines the influence and legacy of the Austen Riggs Center, one of the oldest psychoanalytically oriented psychiatric hospitals in America and home of the

Erikson Institute for Education and Research Former Erikson scholar Elise Miller brings together the work of a wide range of clinicians and scholars who have participated in the Erikson Institute's Visiting Scholars Program Representing a variety of disciplines departments and methodologies the contributors exemplify the cutting edge of interdisciplinary work at the intersections of psychoanalysis and academia psychiatry psychology psychoanalysis and hospital and private practice settings For this unique collection each contributor has selected a piece of their published work to be presented with a new afterword reflecting on how time spent in a clinical setting shaped their thinking and writing These personal narratives also offer a unique opportunity to consider how this kind of scholarship was produced and what it can teach us about the disciplinary crossings and migrations of applied psychoanalysis especially as it continues to extend its insights and influences out into the world around us Psychoanalytic Intersections will be of great interest to psychoanalytic clinicians psychiatrists and psychologists engaged in cross disciplinary work and to academics and scholars of interdisciplinary psychoanalytic studies

Textual Intersections Rachael Langford, 2009 This volume examines the multifaceted ways in which textual material in nineteenth century European cultures intersected with non literary cultural artefacts and concepts The essays consider the presence of such diverse phenomena as the dandy nationhood diasporic identity operatic and dramatic personae and effects trapeze artists paintings and the grotesque and fantastic in the work of a variety of writers from France Germany Spain Britain Russia Greece and Italy The volume argues for a view of the long nineteenth century as a century of lively cultural dialogue and exchange between national and sub national cultures between high and popular art forms and between different genres and different media and it will be of interest to general readers and scholars alike

Intersecting Film, Music, and Queerness Jack Curtis Dubowsky, 2016-04-08 Intersecting Film Music and Queerness uses musicology and queer theory to uncover meaning and message in canonical American cinema This study

considers how queer readings are reinforced or nuanced through analysis of musical score Taking a broad approach to queerness that questions heteronormative and homonormative patriarchal structures binary relationships gender assumptions and anxieties this book challenges existing interpretations of what is progressive and what is retrogressive in cinema Examined films include Bride of Frankenstein Louisiana Story Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer Blazing Saddles Edward Scissorhands Brokeback Mountain Boys Don't Cry Transamerica Thelma Louise Go Fish and The Living End with special attention given to films that subvert or complicate genre Music is analyzed with concern for composition intertextual references absolute musical structures song lyrics recording arrangement and performance issues This multidisciplinary work featuring groundbreaking research analysis and theory offers new close readings and a model for future scholarship

In the Presence of Power Maurice A. Pomerantz, Evelyn Birge Vitz, 2017-12-05 Insights into power spectacle and performance in the courts of Middle Eastern rulers In recent decades scholars have produced much new research on courtly life in medieval Europe but studies on imperial and royal courts across the Middle East have received much less attention particularly for courts before 1500AD In the Presence of Power however sheds new light on courtly life across the region This insightful exploratory collection of essays uncovers surprising commonalities across a broad swath of cultures The pre modern period in this volume includes roughly seven centuries opening with the first dynasty of Islam the Umayyads whose reign marked an important watershed for Late Antique culture and closing with the rule of the so called gunpowder empires of the Ottomans and Safavids over much of the Near East in the sixteenth century In between this volume locates similarities across the Western Medieval Byzantine and Islamicate courtly cultures spanning a vast history and geography to demonstrate the important cross pollinations that occurred between their literary and cultural legacies This study does not presume the presence of one shared courtly institution across time and space but rather seeks to understand the different ways in which contemporaries experienced and spoke about these places of power and performance Adopting a very broad view of performances In the Presence of Power includes exuberant expressions of love in Arabic stories shadow plays in Mamluk Cairo Byzantine storytelling religious food traditions in Christian Cyprus advice and political and ethnographic performances of power

Reflections on the Journey of Faith. Clive William Ayre, 2022-11-01 In a world not attuned to waiting and that frequently desires instant answers and achievement it is important sometimes to stop and reflect on the journey we have embarked upon And life is a journey The life of faith is a journey and it is one that we share with so many others That is important when we think of the journey as one that includes both gift and challenge and encouragement It is obviously a two way engagement As in the first volume the reflections in this book broadly follow the Christian year and are designed to encourage and challenge readers in their shared faith journey It is based on the conviction that where faith and life intersect God is to be found and we are called to reflect the divine image

The Intersecting Realities and Fictions of Virginia Woolf and Colette Helen Southworth, 2004 What might the author of

Mrs Dalloway and A Room of One's Own have in common with the author of the Claudine series and The Pure and the Impure Resisting long held interpretations that Colette and Virginia Woolf had little in common Southworth shows here the links between the two famous writers both real and imagined Often cast in their diametrically opposed roles of elitist bluestocking and risque music hall performer critics have overlooked the many ways in which the lives and works of Woolf and Colette intersect This study provides a broad ranging introduction to the biographical stylistic and thematic ties that link the lives and works of Britain's and France's first ladies of letters of the early twentieth century Situating the two writers within an international network of artists and literati including Jacques Emile Blanche Radclyffe Hall and Una Troubridge Winnie de Polignac Gisele Freund Sylvia Beach and Adrienne Monnier Vita Sackville West and Violet Trefusis this study complicates conceptions of the differences national sexual cultural and intellectual which have kept these two women apart by placing these same differences at its center Southworth develops work already undertaken on Woolf's contacts with France and adds to the body of comparative work on Woolf and her contemporaries This study also highlights as yet unexplored connections between Colette and her British and American peers Southworth's book makes a significant contribution to gay and lesbian studies and the study of modernist culture It also demonstrates the potential of social network theory for literary studies

Intersections of Gender, Class, and Race in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond Barbara

Leonardi, 2018-12-29 This book explores the intersections of gender with class and race in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and their fluid transformation from the Romantic to the Victorian period and beyond exposing how these cultural constructions are deeply entangled with the family metaphor For example by examining the re-signification of the angel in the house and the deviant woman in the context of unstable or contingent masculinities and across discourses of class and nation the volume contributes to a more nuanced understanding of British cultural constructions in the long nineteenth century The central idea is to unearth the historical roots of the family metaphor in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and to uncover the interests served by its specific discursive formation The book explores both male and female stereotypes enabling a more perceptive comparison enriched with a nuanced reflection on the construction and social function of class
