Into Perfect Spheres Such Holes Are Pierced:

Into Perfect Spheres Such Holes Are Pierced Catherine Barnett, 2016-05-30 The family response to the sudden deaths of the speaker's two young nieces is at the center of Catherine Barnett's award winning first collection This series of elegies records the transit of grief observing with an unflinching eye how a singular traumatic event can permanently alter our understanding of time danger the material world and family Marked by clarity and restraint these lyric poems narrate a suspenseful wrenching story that explores the depths and limits of empathy Living Room Altar Except for the shirt pulled from the ocean except for her hands which keep folding the shirt except for her body which once held their bodies my sister wants everything back now If there were a god who could out of empty shells carried by waves to shore make amends If the ocean saved in a jar could keep from turning to salt She's hearing things bird calling to bird cat outside the door thorn of the blackberry against the trellis These heart breaking poems of an all too human life stay as absolute as the determined craft which made them There is finally neither irony nor simple despair in what they record Rather it is the far deeper response of witness of recognizing what must be acknowledged and of having the courage and the care to say so Robert Creeley

Poet's Choice Edward Hirsch, 2006 A collection of revised and expanded writings culled from the author's popular Washington Post Book World Poet's Choice column demonstrates how poetry responds to world challenges and introduces the work of more than 130 writers Into Perfect Spheres Such Holes are Pierced Catherine Barnett, 2001 Best American Poetry 2016 David Lehman, Edward Hirsch, 2016-09-06 Collects poems chosen by editor Edward Hirsch as the best of 2016 featuring poets such as Rick Barot Emily Fragos Philip Levine and Adrienne Su Solutions for the Problem of Bodies in Space Catherine Barnett, 2024-05-07 The loneliness that collects in mirrors and faces at bedside vigils and in city streets quickens Catherine Barnett's metaphysical poems which are like speculative prescriptions for this common human experience Here loneliness is filled with belonging which is in turn filled with loneliness each state suffused and emptied by the other Barnett's fourth collection is part manifesto part how to manual part apologia a guide to the homeopathic dangers and healing powers of an emotion so charged with eros humor and elusive beauty it becomes a companion both desired and eschewed necessary and illuminating In the Ghost-House Acquainted Kevin Goodan, 2016-08-01 These soulful lyrics use allusive imagery and ecumenical diction to consider the pastoral as a life to inhabit not an artifact or idealized place to visit Here the specter of loss makes a world more precious notions of home and love must be ever evolving as colts are stillborn and pigeons slaughtered apple blossoms frozen in spring and dead lambs burned in diesel fire But these poems insist there is beauty in the soil and beauty in birth and death in birth and beauty in death as well And Upon the Earth No Wind Pigeons erupting from a barn Twenty three ewes stand at once ice chunks clinking in their wool I call soft call loud but the mare treads the snow blue Am I born to constant hazard Wood becomes more than wood simply by its burning Steam rises up from the land I call but do not move The moon rising shines even upon all things and I can't tell which is mare and what s weather Silence in eaves ever after It is rare to see a poet work so hard in the physical world serious farm labor and still catch a fleeting glimpse of the spirit Kevin Goodan does this convincingly because his language is so precise and his mind knows when to jump and when to stand still This is a remarkable book James Tate Kevin Goodan received his BA from the University of Montana and his MFA from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst His poems have been published in Ploughshares and other journals

A Broken Thing Emily Rosko, Anton Vander Zee, 2011-09-16 In the arena of poetry and poetics over the past century no idea has been more alive and contentious than the idea of form and no aspect of form has more emphatically sponsored this marked formal concern than the line But what exactly is the line Emily Rosko and Anton Vander Zee's anthology gives seventy original answers that lead us deeper into the world of poetry but also far out into the world at large its people its politics its ecology The authors included here emerging and established alike write from a range of perspectives in terms of both aesthetics and identity Together they offer a dynamic hybrid collection that captures a broad spectrum of poetic practice in the twenty first century Rosko and Vander Zee's introduction offers a generous overview of conversations about the line from the Romantics forward We come to see how the line might be an engine for ideals of progress political ethical or otherwise For some poets the line touches upon the most fundamental questions of knowledge and existence More than ever the line is the radical against which even alternate and emerging poetic forms that foreground the visual or the auditory the page or the screen can be distinguished and understood From the start a singular lesson emerges lines do not form meaning solely in their brevity or their length in their becoming or their brokenness lines live in and through the descriptions we give them Indeed the history of American poetry in the twentieth century could be told by the compounding and often confounding discussions of its lines A Broken Thing both reflects upon and extends this history charting a rich diffusion of theory and practice into the twenty first century with the most diverse wide ranging and engaging set of essays to date on the line in poetry revealing how poems work and why poetry continues to matter

The Far Mosque Kazim Ali,2016-05-30 These gently fragmented narrative lyrics pursue enlightenment in long elegant yet plain spoken dark yet ecstatic lines Ali travels by water and by night seeking the Far Mosque and its overarching paradox that when God and Self are one an ascent into Heaven is a voyage within

Human Hours Catherine Barnett,2018-09-04 Winner of the Believer Book Award The triumphant follow up collection to The Game of Boxes winner of the James Laughlin Award Catherine Barnett s tragicomic third collection Human Hours shuttles between a Whitmanian embrace of others and a kind of rapacious solitude Barnett speaks from the middle of hope and confusion carrying philosophy into the everyday Watching a son become a young man a father become a restless beloved shell and a country betray its democratic ideals the speakers try to make sense of such departures Four lyric essays

investigate the essential urge and appeal of questions that are accursed that are limited and unanswered by answers What are we to do with the endangered human hours that remain to us Across the leaps and swerves of this collection the fevered mind tries to slow or at least measure time with quiet bravura by counting a lover's breaths by remembering a father's space age watch by envisioning the apocalyptic future while bedding down on a hard cold floor head resting on a dictionary Human Hours pulses with the absurd with humor that accompanies the precariousness of the human condition Here, Bullet Brian Turner, 2014-09-01 A first person account of the Iraq War by a soldier poet winner of the 2005 Beatrice Hawley Award Adding his voice to the current debate about the US occupation of Iraq in poems written in the tradition of such poets as Wilfred Owen Yusef Komunyakaa Dien Cai Dau Bruce Weigl Song of Napalm and Alice James own Doug Anderson The Moon Reflected Fire Iraqi war veteran Brian Turner writes powerfully affecting poetry of witness exceptional for its beauty honesty and skill Based on Turner's yearlong tour in Iraq as an infantry team leader the poems offer gracefully rendered unflinching description but remarkably leave the reader to draw conclusions or moral lessons Here Bullet is a must read for anyone who cares about the war regardless of political affiliation Phantom Noise Brian Turner, 2014-09-01 In the aftermath of best selling Here Bullet Brian Turner deftly illuminates existence as both easily extinguishable and ultimately enduring These prophetic osmotic poems wage a daily battle for normalcy seeking structure in the quotidian while grappling with the absence of forgetting Ten Windows Jane Hirshfield, 2017-02-21 A dazzling collection of essays on how the best poems work from the master poet and popular essayist Poetry Jane Hirshfield has said is language that foments revolutions of being In ten eloquent and highly original explorations she unfolds some of the ways this is done by the inclusion of hiddenness paradox and surprise by a perennial awareness of the place of uncertainty in our lives by language's own acts of discovery by the powers of image statement music and feeling to enlarge in every direction Closely reading poems by Dickinson Bash Szyborska Cavafy Heaney Bishop and Komunyakaa among others Hirshfield reveals how poetry's world making takes place word by charged word By expanding what is imaginable and sayable Hirshfield proposes poems expand what is possible Ten Windows restores us at every turn to a more precise sensuous and deepened experience of our shared humanity and of the seemingly limitless means by which that knowledge is both summoned and forged
