Into Infinity From Earth To The Stars:

Before Earth Came John Russell Fearn, 2014-10-08 BEFORE EARTH CAME launches a new series collecting the early pioneering pulp magazine novelettes of John Russell Fearn with the first ever reprinting of Before Earth Came and Subconscious Both stories abound with unbridled imagination and a sense of wonder examples of the pioneering stories being written in SF more than 80 years ago In Before Earth Came Fearn s storyline of how alien scientists facing the imminent utter destruction of their planet seek to preserve their heritage by sending it to Earth was later copied by the creators of Superman And Subconscious was one of the very first SF stories to utilize the theory of Charles Fort that We are Property a theme that has echoed down science fiction ever since Magnify the Lord with Me Richard M. McMillen, 2006-11 The Works of Francis Bacon, Lord Chancellor of England Francis Bacon, Basil Montagu, 1859 The Universe and the Stars Thomas Wright, 1837 The works of Francis Bacon, lord chancellor of England Francis Bacon (viscount St. Albans), 1859 The Works of Francis Bacon Francis Bacon, 1851 The nature of desire Angelo Aulisa, 2014-01-09 The nature of desire self help non fiction inner guide to meditation to inner being witness consciousness to universal consciousness to nothingness emptiness gate less gate to non being body incorporeal where time space forms duality of mind completely annihilate into formless relation less unfocused awareness that is just an I am ness infinite light infinite relaxation into the core and source of the mystery of the universal body and of life and death and of all duality of mind eternity itself no begin no end eternity in infinite infinity of light no size it vanish into an open relativity not absolute at all that is just an opening unbounded the nature of desire is a revolutionary interpretation of desire the empty desire from object or subject is the really ground of life the desire can only be purify not destroy what remain is the will of life empty for no purpose at all certain full of zest and rich with intrinsic subtle ecstasy but purposeless the empty desire is what the ancient little men unconscious called God is the really ground of life you open your eyes in the morning and your eyes meet the greenery of nature the blue of the sky the redness of the roses and the miracle of life begin to unfold enchanting beautiful for no purpose at all just alive and the will of life pulsating bubbling within you like champagne wow and then the ha experience describe by the psychologist ha yes thousand time ha this yes the empty desire finally at the moment you live your body will be a request for an ultimate annihilation dissolution of your light consciousness into eternity for a real resurrection because if your desire is loaded with subject of emotional attachment with possessiveness with the desire i want stay a little longer in this shore the resurrection will not happen what will happen then is a reincarnation you will go for a journey of reincarnation into the cosmic unconscious but if the desire is empty of object or subject is just the will of life empty pulsating empty you will merge into soundless sound of AUM within your inner being and consciousness and the AUM vibration hear from within will be the gate less gate for annihilate into eternity and for eternity to come flowing intrinsic to eternity because consciousness awareness is tremendous freedom and it respect totally even a slide desire of remaining a little longer or emotional attachment or possession of material thing attachment will recall a reincarnation but if the desire is really empty of object or subject an eternal resurrection is certain this a request for a resurrection to happen welcome Angelo Aulisa

Weaving Words Janice K. Jones, 2014-06-26 Weaving Words raises important questions about the impact of 21st century practices of education upon human creativity and joy in making meaning through writing It questions how writing is experienced and valued as a process and product of research as a means for personal and professional learning and how it is taught and experienced in the classroom and in teacher education Weaving Words brings together a range of critical perspectives upon writing within global agendas for education and research and considers the capacity for writing and reflection to disrupt and transform personal and professional understandings The parallel traditions of spinning and weaving and the sharing of stories through the spoken and written word shape the structure of this book its warp is constituted by chapters written by researchers in education its weft by the poems plays short stories and reflections of pre service teachers Both researchers and pre service teachers consider the challenges of becoming writers and the contradictions they encounter in transferring their understandings of being a writer to the teaching of writing with younger authors and in conducting research as writing Weaving Words engages with emerging debates around what forms of writing are valued and supported within 21st century teaching and research it demonstrates the power of writing for personal expression suggesting that writing that is creative opens spaces for making meaning and for constructing the world that are important for practices of education and for research
