Visualizing Africa in Nineteenth-Century British Travel Accounts Leila Koivunen, 2008-11-19 This study examines and explains how British explorers visualized the African interior in the latter part of the nineteenth century providing the first sustained analysis of the process by which this visual material was transformed into the illustrations in popular travel books At that time central Africa was effectively a blank canvas for Europeans unknown and devoid of visual representations While previous works have concentrated on exploring the stereotyped nature of printed imagery of Africa this study examines the actual production process of images and the books in which they were published in order to demonstrate how why and by whom the images were manipulated Thus the main focus of the work is not on the aesthetic value of pictures but in the activities interaction and situations that gave birth to them in both Africa and Europe Texts and Their Worlds Ii K.

Narayana Chandran, Key Interiors since 1900 Graeme Brooker, 2013-09-23 This book defines the history of modern interior design through the reuse of existing buildings This approach allows the history of the interior to be viewed as separate from the history of architecture and instead enables the interior to develop its own historical narrative The book is organized around six thematic chapters home work retail display leisure and culture Each one comprises a selection of case studies in chronological order 52 key examples dating from 1900 to the present are explored in terms of context concept organization and detail and are illustrated with photographs plans sections concept drawings and sketches This unique history will be invaluable for students of interior architecture and design seeking a survey tailored especially for them as well

Commerce with the Universe Gaurav Desai,2013-09-24 Reading the life narratives and literary texts of South Asians writing in East Africa Gaurav Desai builds a new history of Africa s encounter with slavery colonialism migration nationalism development and globalization Rather than approach literature and culture from a nation centered perspective Desai connects the medieval trade routes of the Islamicate empire the early independence movements galvanized in part by Gandhi s southern African experiences the invention of new ethnic nationalisms and the rise of plural multiethnic nations to the fertile exchange taking place across the Indian Ocean The Love of Nature and the End of the World Shierry Weber NicholSEN,2003-02-28 A psychological exploration of how the love of nature can coexist in our psyches with apathy toward environmental destruction Virtually everyone values some aspect of the natural world Yet many people are surprisingly unconcerned about environmental issues treating them as the province of special interest groups Seeking to understand how our appreciation for the beauty of nature and our indifference to its destruction can coexist in us Shierry Weber NicholSEN explores dimensions of our emotional experience with the natural world that are so deep and painful that they often remain unspoken The Love of Nature and the End of the World is a gathering of meditations and collages Its evocations of our emotional attachment to the natural world and the emotional impact of environmental deterioration are meant to encourage individual and collective reflection on a difficult dilemma NicholSEN draws on work in environmental philosophy and ecopsychology the writings of psychoanalytic thinkers such as Wilfred Bion Donald Meltzer and D W Winnicott and ideas from Buddhist and Sufi traditions She shows how our emotional responses to the vulnerabilities of the natural world range from intense caring and compassion through grief and outrage to diffuse depression Individual chapters focus on silence and the process whereby we move from the unspoken to the spoken the love of nature the perceptual reciprocity with the natural world to which we might mature beauty in the human and natural realms the psychological impact of the destruction of the natural world and reflections on the future Catalogue of the ... Central Lending Library ,1884 Travels to Jerusalem and the Holy Land François-René vicomte de Chateaubriand,1835 Journey to the Centre of the Earth David Whitehouse,2015-04-09 The journey to the centre of the earth is a voyage like no other we can imagine Over 3 000 km below the earth s surface an extraordinary inner world the size of Mars awaits us Dive through the molten iron of the outer core and eventually you will reach a solid sphere an iron clad world held within a metal sea and unattached to anything above At the earth s core is the history of our planet written in temperature and pressure crystals and minerals Our planet appears tranquil from outer space And yet the arcs of volcanoes the earthquake zones and the auroral glow rippling above our heads are testimony to something remarkable happening inside For thousands of years these phenomena were explained in legend and myth Only in recent times has the brave new science of seismology emerged One hundred and fifty years after the extraordinary imaginative feat of Jules Verne s JOURNEY TO THE CENTRE OF THE EARTH David Whitehouse embarks on a voyage of scientific discovery into the heart of our world A Catalogue of the Books, Belonging to the Bristol Library Society City of Bristol Museum and Art Gallery,1814 Handbook of Happiness Saamdu Chetri,Tanusree Dutta,Manas Kumar Mandal,Priyadarshi Patnaik,2023-07-18 This book contains contributions from diverse perspectives and traditions that focus on reflections and happiness practices It addresses diversity in happiness and eastern and western thoughts and practices by contributing authors from around the world from varied backgrounds The book provides ample avenue for readers and researchers to broaden their horizons and deepen their understanding of various aspects of happiness culturally and conceptually It opens opportunities for exploring and understanding how happiness can be practiced experienced taught and learned in various contexts thus assisting both educators and interested readers to create opportunities for themselves or their students to engage in diverse and creative happiness explorations This book is a crucial resource for teachers educators students and researchers involved in the science and practice of happiness It enables them to find new avenues to understand happiness from different perspectives understanding inner and outer spaces and other dimensions of happiness It serves as an essential reference for academicians in related fields of psychology such as cross cultural social and developmental as well as in the upcoming field of happiness studies History of Humanity UNESCO,2005-12-31 Volume V of the History of Humanity is concerned with the early modern period the sixteenth seventeenth and eighteenth centuries It gives an extensive overview of this crucial stage in the rise of the West as well as examining the development of cultures and societies elsewhere Structure The volume is divided into two main parts The first is thematic discussing the geography chronology and sociology of cultural change in this period The second is regional less theoretical and more empirical it stresses cultural diversity the links between different activities in a given region and the importance of social contexts and local circumstances Each chapter has a bibliography which directs the reader to sources of further information The volume is extensively illustrated with line drawings and plates and is comprehensively indexed
