A Little Journey to China and Japan (Classic Reprint) Marian Minnie George, 2017-07-18 Excerpt from A Little Journey to China and Japan The Chinese proudly boast that their government is the oldest on the globe that China was a nation five thousand years before the United States was born that they have books from three to four thousand years old that they used the printing press a thousand years before it was used in Europe More than four thousand years ago these people knew how to make brick from clay how to build canals how to sing and play on musical instruments how to write and how to calculate the movements of the stars also they had domestic animals cultivated the fields and had forms of worship and government They know little of modern inventions and machinery but they have a wonderful skill in handicraft and their artists and artisans are in many lines not equaled by those of any other country They tell us also that their race numbers more than one fourth of all the people on the globe and that their territory includes more than acres of ground or more than the United States About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an

China Road Rob Gifford, 2008-06-03 Route 312 is the Chinese Route 66 It flows three thousand miles from east to west passing through the factory towns of the coastal areas through the rural heart of China then up into the Gobi Desert where it merges with the Old Silk Road The highway witnesses every part of the social and economic revolution that is turning China upside down In this utterly surprising and deeply personal book acclaimed National Public Radio reporter Rob Gifford a fluent Mandarin speaker takes the dramatic journey along Route 312 from its start in the boomtown of Shanghai to its end on the border with Kazakhstan Gifford reveals the rich mosaic of modern Chinese life in all its contradictions as he poses the crucial questions that all of us are asking about China Will it really be the next global superpower Is it as solid and as powerful as it looks from the outside And who are the ordinary Chinese people to whom the twenty first century is supposed to belong Gifford is not alone on his journey The largest migration in human history is taking place along highways such as Route 312 as tens of millions of people leave their homes in search of work He sees signs of the booming urban economy everywhere but he also uncovers many of the country's frailties and some of the deep seated problems that could derail China's rise The whole compelling adventure is told through the cast of colorful characters Gifford meets garrulous talk show hosts and ambitious yuppies impoverished peasants and tragic prostitutes cell phone salesmen AIDS patients and Tibetan monks He rides with members of a Shanghai jeep club hitchhikes across the Gobi desert and sings karaoke with migrant workers at truck stops along the way As he recounts his travels along Route 312 Rob Gifford gives a face to what has historically for Westerners been a faceless country and breathes life into a nation that is so often reduced to economic statistics Finally he sounds a warning that all is not well in the Chinese heartlands that serious problems lie ahead and that the future of the West has become inextricably linked with the fate of 1.3 billion Chinese people Informative delightful and

Washington Post This is a wistful and absorbing volume and a fitting remembrance for all of us who once thought that China was going to be easy to study Jonathan Spence author of The Search for Modern China Teachers' Journeys into International School Teaching in China Adam Poole, 2023-10-12 Poole's book illuminates the experiences and perspectives of host country national teachers at internationalised schools in China The international school sector in China has undergone significant changes in recent years This is due to the growing demand for international education from local middle class families In response a new type of school has emerged Going by various names such as private bilingual or internationalised these schools offer a fusion of national and international curricula and are staffed predominantly by host country national teachers Despite these changes we still know little about who host country national teachers are and what draws them to the world of international schooling Accordingly this book explores the motivations and mobilities of host country national teachers in China It identifies three types of teacher Returners Reachers and Remainers Returners are graduates who have returned to China from overseas study They are drawn to international schools by the opportunity to use their international experience and qualification Reachers are internal migrants who face structural inequality and attracted to international schools by the opportunity for social mobility Remainers are married teachers with children They are motivated to work in international schools by the perceived stability and security these schools offer Discussing implications for teacher recruitment development and retention in international schools this book is an essential read for international educational researchers as well as students researching international education or teacher identity Journey to the People's Republic of China; Review & Analysis Kalman Dubov, On a Holland America Grand Voyage aboard the flagship Amsterdam I had the great fortune of visiting the ancient land of China now known as the People's Republic of China This visit enabled me to for the first time to walk part of the way of the Great Wall visit the Old Summer Palace and see Tien An Men Square and the Forbidden City Besides visiting the capital city the ship also visited Shanghai and Hong Kong China is a huge country whose history goes back millennia The places we visited provided but a glimpse of that history and its current politics In this volume I review China's ancient history with an overview of the many dynasties that made China great For many years China stood at the forefront of technological and scientific discovery known today as the Four Great Discoveries the compass making paper gunpowder and printing Each of these transformed the world in its own way Yet the advancement of science and technology did not stay in China The great conundrum today is exploring the reasons China lost its ability to stand at the helm of such advancement I explore this issue while reviewing the complexities of how China lived both in its dynastic and modern periods Ancient China had civil service examinations as a method to identify the best and brightest minds and then to employ them for service to the emperor Jinshi the highest and most difficult examination was so complicated the successful candidates name was inscribed on stone then selected to remain in Beijing in service to the emperor Such examinations later migrated to other countries in the Far East then to the West where it is in common use today China and its millennium long history reflect an ancient people who today seek to assert their presence and power on the world stage Prior to its current form of government it was forced to capitulate to Western colonial powers Revolts by the Chinese against such foreign intervention resulted in the Opium Wars the loss of Hong Kong and the destruction of its Old Summer Palace I explore China's bitter past together with its current belligerence on the world stage as it seeks to redevelop and transform itself from the ancient Silk Road into the modern OBOR One Belt One Road with dramatic effect on many peoples and nations I also noted the conundrum of seeing tall high rise clusters of apartment buildings structures that could house thousands of people but stand completely empty Passing these buildings at night was eerie not a single light or human is visible anywhere The claim of a surging China at least in the places I visited made me wonder if the building boom the media and economists claim is but a bubble soon to evaporate in the glare of inquiry and reality Nonetheless this visit was dramatic in its own way offering many varieties of the different strata of this complex society During this visit I explored the Jewish community first in Shanghai then in Hong Kong Several Jewish passengers joined to attend the Sabbath Service at the Chabad House We were warmly welcomed and saw a robust community in this remote part of the world In Hong Kong we visited several synagogues noting the pride and activity present in these communities I explore the history of the Jewish community in these centers with a special interest in the Jewish Ghetto of Shanghai where thousands of European Jews were sheltered during the Nazi's Final Solution They were given refuge in Shanghai and the area they lived in is still visible by way of a museum and plaques indicating where they lived and survived the war years The enormity of China demands a multi volume effort to do justice to its geography and history This is but a small contribution of this ancient land

River Road to China Milton E. Osborne, 1996 In 1866 six Frenchmen set out on a dangerous mission to seek a trade route up the Mekong During the two years that followed they would journey through more than four thousand miles of unmapped territory from the tropical heat of the swamps of Vietnam and Cambodia to the bitter cold of the mountain ranges of southwestern China Their historic expedition is the dramatic subject of River Road to China by world renowned Southeast Asia expert Milton Osborne Selected by The New York Times as one of the best books of 1975 when it was originally published this edition has been updated to include a new postscript by the author and more than thirty full color illustrations by the expedition's artist
