Journey To Kars:

Journey to Kars Philip Glazebrook, 1986-01 For Victorian travellers a trip to Turkey was a leap into the dark of Islam Fascinated by their accounts of the far flung down at heel Ottoman Empire novelist and traveller Philip Glazebrook followed in their footsteps His destination was Kars the city within view of Mount Ararat where the Ark was stranded Through the old Serbian and Greek provinces and islands through the ruined cities of Asia Minor to Kars and then back to Trebizond Istanbul and the Balkan capitals this book recounts his adventures

Snow Orhan Pamuk, 2011-10-18 From the Nobel Prize winner and the acclaimed author of My Name is Red comes a spellbinding story of a poet seeking his lost love in a remote Turkish town riven by religious conflict and cut off from the world by a blizzard Returning to Turkey from exile in the West Ka is driven by curiosity to investigate a surprising wave of suicides among religious girls forbidden to wear their head scarves in school But the epicenter of the suicides the eastern border city of Kars is also home to the radiant and newly divorced pek a friend of Ka's youth whom he has never forgotten and whose spirited younger sister is a leader of the rebellious schoolgirls As a fierce snowstorm descends on Kars violence between the military and local Islamic radicals begins to explode and Ka finds his sympathies drawn in unexpected and dramatic directions

Journey to Khiva Philip Glazebrook, 1994 AN EXPEDITION INTO THE HEART OF CENTRAL ASIA Inspired by the great adventurers of the Victorian era and intrigued by the history of the Great Game the century long struggle between Britain and Russia to control Central Asia Philip Glazebrook set out on his own journey to the fabled cities of Tashkent Bokhara Samarkand and Khiva Along the way he encountered remains of two other empires the Soviet Union whose spreading disorder was brought home by a terrifying attack in his Moscow hotel room and the domain of Tamerlane the thirteenth century conqueror whose memory and monuments still dominate the imagination of the region's inhabitants Blending his own experiences with tales from earlier travelers Glazebrook captures the color and fascination of a region where Europe and Asia have long met but never merged a crucial crossroads from the days of the Silk Road to the present

Semi-Peripheral Realism Christinna Hazzard, 2024-05-30 This book explores the geopolitical and symbolic borders of Europe through the concept of the semi periphery Focusing on the North Atlantic island nations Iceland and the Faroe Islands and Turkey a set of very different social and cultural landscapes the book compares the semi peripheral aesthetics of Halldór Laxness's and William Heinesen's novels with the semi peripheral city and borderscapes in works by Orhan Pamuk and Latife Tekin It offers new readings of texts such as Laxness's The Atom Station and Pamuk's Snow and provides original readings of works that little has been written about in English such as Heinesen's The Black Cauldron and Tekin's Swords of Ice Making use of the theory of uneven and combined development and world systems theory the book illustrates that the experience of nation building and capitalist modernisation in the semi periphery results in a particular realist aesthetic that is remarkably similar across different regional literatures The book's world literary method shows that the semi periphery constitutes a vital and productive area of

She launches a polemic against Anglophone readers' instrumental use of literature as a source of crosscultural understanding, contending that this pervasive way of reading across all manner of borders limits the globality it announces because it serves the interests of the Western cultural and educational institutions that produce it.
