human flows of our cities mapping the virtual onto lived realities so too has gaming and game theory played a role in our contemporary understanding of race and racial formation in the United States From the Chinese Exclusion Act and Japanese American internment to the model minority myth and the globalization of Asian labor Tara Finkle shows how games and game theory shaped fictions of race upon which the nation relies Drawing from a wide range of literary and critical texts analog and digital games journalistic accounts marketing campaigns and archival material Finkle illuminates the ways Asian Americans have had to fit the roles play the game and follow the rules to be seen as valuable in the US Exploring key moments in the formation of modern US race relations The Race Card charts a new course in gaming scholarship by reorienting our focus away from games as vehicles for empowerment that allow people to inhabit new identities and toward the ways that games are used as instruments of soft power to advance top down political agendas Bridging the intellectual divide between the embedded mechanics of video games and more theoretical approaches to gaming rhetoric Tara Finkle reveals how this intersection allows us to overlook the predominance of game tropes in national culture The Race Card reveals this relationship as one of deep ideological and historical intimacy how the games we play have seeped into every aspect of our lives in both monotonous and malevolent ways The Gentleman's Magazine, 1749 Contains opinions and comment on other currently published newspapers and magazines a selection of poetry essays historical events voyages news foreign and domestic including news of North America a register of the month's new publications a calendar of forthcoming trade fairs a summary of monthly events vital statistics births deaths marriages preferments commodity prices Samuel Johnson contributed parliamentary reports as Debates of the Senate of Magna Lilliputia Folding Paper Cranes Leonard Bird, 2005 A haunting memoir by Leonard Bird a Marine who was exposed to high doses of radiation during the 1950's atmospheric detonations of nuclear weapons in the Nevada desert He shares his journey to the International Park for World Peace in Hiroshima where he seeks to make peace with his past and with a future shadowed by nuclear proliferation

Racial Stigma on the Hollywood Screen from World War II to the Present Brian Locke, 2009-11-23 Racial Stigma on the Hollywood Screen from WWII to the Present charts how the dominant white and black binary of American racial discourse influences Hollywood's representation of the Asian The Orientalist buddy film draws a scenario in which two buddies one white and one black transcend an initial hatred for one another by joining forces against a foreign Asian menace Alongside an analysis of multiple genres of film Brian Locke argues that this triangulated rendering of race ameliorates the longstanding historical contradiction between U S democratic ideals and white America's persistent domination over blacks
