The Works of Flavius Josephus, the Learned and Authentic Jewish Historian, and Celebrated Warrior Flavius Josephus, 1843 The Complete Family Bible; Or, a Paraphrase, Exposition and Commentary on the Holy Scriptures of the Old & New Testaments, with the Apocrypha at Large, 1806 That Unknown Country, 1888 "That Unknown Country" C. Brodrecht, 2018-06-05 On March 4 1865 the day Abraham Lincoln delivered his second inaugural address Reverend Doctor George Peck put the finishing touches on a collection of his sermons that he intended to send to the president Although the politically moderate Peck had long opposed slavery he along with many other northern evangelicals was not an abolitionist During the Civil War he had come to support emancipation but like Lincoln the conflict remained first and foremost about preserving the Union Believing their devotion to the Union was an act of faithfulness to God first and the Founding Fathers second Our Country explores how many northern white evangelical Protestants sacrificed racial justice on behalf of four million African American slaves and then ex slaves for the Union's persistence and continued flourishing as a Christian nation By examining Civil War era Protestantism in terms of the Union author Grant Brodrecht adds to the understanding of northern motivation and the eventual failure of Reconstruction to provide a secure basis for African American s equal place in society Complementing recent scholarship that gives primacy to the Union Our Country contends that non radical Protestants consistently subordinated concern for racial justice for what they perceived to be the greater good Mainstream evangelicals did not enter Reconstruction with the primary aim of achieving racial justice Rather they expected to see the emergence of a speedily restored prosperous and culturally homogenous Union a Union strengthened by God through the defeat of secession and the removal of slavery as secession s cause Brodrecht eloquently addresses this so called proprietary regard for Christian America considered within the context of crises surrounding the Union s existence and its nature from the Civil War to the 1880s Including sources from major Protestant denominations the book rests on a selection of sermons denominational newspapers and journals autobiographies archival personal papers of several individuals and the published and unpublished papers of Abraham Lincoln Andrew Johnson and Ulysses S Grant The author examines these sources as they address the period s evangelical sense of responsibility for America while keyed to issues of national and presidential politics Northern evangelicals love of the Union arguably contributed to its preservation and the slaves emancipation but in subsuming the ex slaves to their vision for Christian America northern evangelicals contributed to a Reconstruction that failed to ensure the ex slaves full freedom and equality as Americans
