Lesson From Aloes:

A Lesson from Aloes Athol Fugard, 1993-01-01 Two former political activists confront each other and the events which led to their sudden falling out years ago The Dramatic Art of Athol Fugard Albert Wertheim, 2000 Albert Wertheim's study of Fugard's plays is both extremely insightful and beautifully written a book that held my attention from beginning to end It was a pleasure to read Wertheim succeeds in communicating the greatness of Fugard as a playwright actor and director He also conveys well what Fugard has learned from other plays and dramatists Thus he places Fugard's works not so much in a South African context as in a theatrical context He also illuminates his interpretations with the help of Fugard's manuscripts previously available only in South Africa This book is aimed not only at teachers students scholars and performers of Fugard but also at the person who simply loves going to see a Fugard play at the theatre Nancy Topping Bazin Eminent Scholar and Professor Emeritus Old Dominion University Considered one of the most brilliant powerful and theatrically astute of modern dramatists South African playwright Athol Fugard is best known for The Blood Knot MASTER HAROLD and the boys A Lesson from Aloes and Sizwe Bansi Is Dead The energy and poignancy of Fugard's work have their origins in the institutionalized racism of his native South Africa and more recently in the issues facing a new South Africa after apartheid In The Dramatic Art of Athol Fugard Albert Wertheim analyzes the form and content of Fugard's dramas showing that they are more than a dramatic chronicle of South African life and racial problems Beginning with the specifics of his homeland Fugard's plays reach out to engage more far reaching issues of human relationships race and racism and the power of art to evoke change The Dramatic Art of Athol Fugard demonstrates how Fugard's plays enable us to see that what is performed on stage can also be performed in society and in our lives how inverting Shakespeare Athol Fugard makes his stage the world

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell, Dirk

Klopper, Craig Mackenzie, 2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa's history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party's policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele's call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country's literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945
