The Dissolution of Place Shelton Waldrep, 2016-03-16 Postmodern architecture with its return to ornamentality historical quotation and low culture kitsch has long been seen as a critical and popular anodyne to the worst aspects of modernist architecture glass boxes built in urban locales as so many interchangeable generic anti architectural cubes and slabs This book extends this debate beyond the modernist postmodernist rivalry to situate postmodernism as an already superseded concept that has been upended by deconstructionist and virtual architecture as well as the continued turn toward the use of theming in much new public and corporate space It investigates architecture on the margins of postmodernism those places where both architecture and postmodernism begin to break down and to reveal new forms and new relationships The book examines in detail not only a wide range of architectural phenomena such as theme parks casinos specific modernist and postmodernist buildings but also interrogates architecture in relation to identity specifically Native American and gay male identities as they are reflected in new notions of the built environment In dealing specifically with the intersection between postmodern architecture and virtual and filmic definitions of space as well as with theming and gender and racial identities this book provides provides ground breaking insights not only into postmodern architecture but into spatial thinking in general

Productive Postmodernism John N. Duvall, 2012-02-01 Productive Postmodernism addresses the differing accounts of postmodernism found in the work of Fredric Jameson and Linda Hutcheon a debate that centers around the two theorists senses of pastiche and parody For Jameson postmodern texts are ahistorical playing with pastiche images and aesthetic forms and are therefore unable to provide a critical purchase on culture and capital For Hutcheon postmodern fiction and architecture remain political opening spaces for social critique through a parody that deconstructs official history Thinking in the space between these two sharply different positions the essays in this collection investigate a broad range of contemporary fiction film and architecture from such narratives as Don DeLillo's Libra Toni Morrison's Beloved and Ridley Scott's Blade Runner to the vastly different spaces of Las Vegas casinos and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in order to ask what the cultural work of a postmodern aesthetic might
