This book provides a philosophical account of the normative status of killing in Buddhism Its argument theorises on relevant Buddhist philosophical grounds the metaphysical phenomenological and ethical dimensions of the distinct intentional classes of killing in dialogue with some elements of Western philosophical thought In doing so it aims to provide a descriptive account of the causal bases of intentional killing a global justification and elucidation of Buddhist norms regarding killing and an intellectual response to and critique of alternative conceptions of such norms presented in recent Buddhist Studies scholarship It examines early and classical Buddhist accounts of the evaluation of killing systematising and rationally assessing these claims on both Buddhist and contemporary Western philosophical grounds The book provides the conceptual foundation for the discussion engaging original reconstructive philosophical analyses to both bolster and critique classical Indian Buddhist positions on killing and its evaluation as well as contemporary Buddhist Studies scholarship concerning these positions In doing so it provides a systematic and critical account of the subject hitherto absent in the field Engaging Buddhist philosophy from scholastic dogmatics to epistemology and metaphysics this book is relevant to advanced students

On Capitol Hill Dillon has faced her fair share of powerful men leaving the feisty beauty unimpressed by the charming Commander in Chief and the big White House he lives in. Things aren't always as they appear raising the question who is Dillon Stone and what does she know. Ransom finds himself torn between defending the country he swore an oath to and protecting the woman he loves as they become targets of a dangerous game, a lethal conspiracy. Someone wants the President of the United States dead. This riveting continuation of the spellbinding series will keep you on the edge of your seat as danger lurks around every corner and takes you deeper into the secret world of greed, corruption and murder. Assisted Suicide United States. Congress. House. Committee on Commerce. Subcommittee on Health and the Environment, 1997

The Chairman Harry Kraus, Harry Lee Kraus, 2003-09 Nathan MacAllister knows only one thing for certain his life and marriage will never be the same. His entire life now revolves around the one question he cannot answer: What really happened that fateful day in Fischer's Retreat? As Nathan's suspicions rise he is warned to stop asking questions. But the greater mystery for Nathan is what happened to his marriage. Can he convince his wife to fall in love with the new man he's becoming before it's too late for both of them. Changing Lives Peter W. Greenwood, 2008-09-15 One of the most astonishing aspects of juvenile crime is how little is known about the impact of the policies and programs put in place to fight it. The most commonly used strategies and programs for combating juvenile delinquency problems primarily rely on intuition and fads. Fortunately as a result of the promising new research documented in Changing Lives these deficiencies in our juvenile justice system might quickly be remedied. Peter W. Greenwood here demonstrates here that as crime rates have fallen researchers have identified more connections between specific risk factors and criminal behavior while program developers have discovered a wide array of innovative interventions. The result of all this activity he reveals has been the revelation of a few prevention models that reduce crime much more cost effectively than popular approaches such as tougher sentencing, DARE boot camps and scared straight programs. Changing Lives expertly presents the most promising of these prevention programs, their histories, the quality of evidence to support their effectiveness, the public policy programs involved in bringing them into wider use and the potential for investments and developmental research to increase the range and quality of programs. Evil Water: And Other Stories Ian Watson, 2011-09-29 In his fourth short story collection Watson again demonstrates the extraordinary scope of his imagination. The title story has ancient witchcraft meeting complacent modern suburbia in a tale of spine-chilling horror while When the Timegate Failed casts an unexpected light on the dangers of space travel and man's powers of self-delusion. Alien matters of a different kind crop up in Windows in which mysterious artefacts found on Mars prove to be something of a problem for their chic human owners. Evil Water is a highly inventive collection which is a delight to read Assisted Suicide Funding Restriction Act of 1997 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Commerce, 1997 Crime without Punishment Lawrence M. Friedman, 2018-05-31 In this compelling book Lawrence M Friedman looks at situations where killing is condemned by law but not by social norms and therefore is rarely punished He shows how penal codes categorize homicides by degree of intent which are in turn based on society's sense of moral outrage Despite being officially defined as murder many homicides have historically gone unpunished Friedman looks at early vigilante justice crimes of passion murder of necessity mercy killings and assisted suicides In his explorations of these unpunished homicides Friedman probes what these circumstances tell us about conflicts in social and cultural norms and the interaction of law and society The Pang-Yanger Elma Allen Travis, 1905 The Rehearsal of Misunderstanding Karen Van Dyck, 1998-04-30 Drawing on the formative experience of writing under an authoritarian regime 1967 1974 women poets in the 1980s forged a poetics which unsettled and disrupted fixed meanings and gender roles Each of the three collections in this anthology rehearses the myriad ways we are misunderstood and misrepresented by others and ourselves HIV & AIDS And The Older Adult Kathleen M. Nokes, 2020-04-14 First published in 1996 The incidence of HIV AIDS in society has reached epidemic levels People of all ages are contracting the disease and with the advances in medication and treatment those with the disease are living longer This book discusses the unique issues facing older adults with HIV AIDS and addresses living with the disease Queer Omissions Karen M. Pack, 2025-04-30 Protestant Christian historiography has persistently erased unmarried childless women from the story of faith in Australia When women are mentioned they are judged according to a heteronormative maternalist framework built upon the ideology of separate spheres This paradigm creates a lopsided picture whereby women are celebrated for their social and moral influence but are absent from rational intellectual discourse This book asks the question why have unmarried women who devoted themselves to social justice activism motivated by their Christian faith been erased from the pages of Australian religious histories It does this through biographies of two unmarried women each engaged in very different work aimed at creating a more just and equitable Australia Queer Omissions uses biographical case studies of two unmarried childless women Frances Levvy 1831 1924 and Constance Duncan 1896 1970 to critique the writing of Protestant religious histories in Australia asking why those outside a heteronormative framework have been relegated to the margins Motivated by their faith Duncan and Levvy engaged in social justice activism that left an indelible mark on Australian society Yet they remain absent from the histories of their own faith communities Queer Omissions seeks to tell a bigger story of women who chafed against their contracted sphere yet motivated by their faith impacted their world for good In doing so it uniquely expands the categories of those who see themselves in the story finding hope in the process This book will be of great interest to scholars of religion gender and sexuality as well as people of faith trying to understand and reclaim their place in the story Contemporary Christian Authors Janice DeLong, Rachel E. Schwedt, 2000 Finally a summary section

The Euthanasia/Assisted-Suicide Debate Demetra M. Pappas, 2012-09-20 This revealing volume explores recent historical perspectives on the modern euthanasia and assisted suicide debate and the political arenas in which it has unfolded Emotional public responses to widely publicized right to die and euthanasia cases such as those revolving around Dr Jack Kevorkian and Terri Schiavo highlight their volatile mix of medical ethical religious

The Modern Art of Dying Shai J. Lavi, 2009-01-10 How we die reveals much about how we live In this provocative book Shai Lavi traces the history of euthanasia in the United States to show how changing attitudes toward death reflect new and troubling ways of experiencing pain hope and freedom Lavi begins with the historical meaning of euthanasia as signifying an easeful death Over time he shows the term came to mean a death blessed by the grace of God and later medical hastening of death Lavi illustrates these changes with compelling accounts of changes at the deathbed He takes us from early nineteenth century deathbeds governed by religion through the medicalization of death with the physician presiding over the deathbed to the legalization of physician assisted suicide Unlike previous books which have focused on law and technique as explanations for the rise of euthanasia this book asks why law and technique have come to play such a central role in the way we die What is at stake in the modern way of dying is not human progress but rather a fundamental change in the way we experience life in the face of death Lavi argues In attempting to gain control over death he maintains we may unintentionally have ceded control to policy makers and bio scientific enterprises
