Gospel According To Saint Mark By:

Gospel According to St. Mark Hooker, Morna Dorothy Hooker, 1991-01-01 St Mark's Gospel is among the earliest records about Jesus of Nazareth. This commentary focuses primarily on the problem of understanding what Mark himself intended to convey to his readers when he set out to write the good news of Jesus Christ. There is an examination of information in the gospel about the historical Jesus, about the early Christian community, and about Mark's theological concerns. There is also consideration of the sources for the Gospel, of the tradition behind it, and of interventions by editors. Professor Hooker's new commentary takes account of the many lasted twentieth century Markan studies and comes with her own translation of the Gospel. References to Greek sources are included but do not require a knowledge of Greek. The Gospel According to Saint Mark, 1920 *The Gospel According to Saint Mark. The earliest of extant commentators on St Mark urges as his apology for undertaking so serious a task, the neglect which that Evangelist appeared to have suffered at the hands of the great teachers of the Church. While each of the other Gospels had received separate treatment, the Gospel according to St Mark, so far as he could discover, had been passed by as if it needed no elucidation or none which could not be gathered from expositions of St Matthew and St Luke.
