A decorative red circular graphic element, resembling a stylized sun or a lens flare, is positioned to the right of the author's name. It has a soft, glowing red center that fades into a lighter red and then into the white background of the slide.

Gothic Art And The Renaissance In Cyprus:

Gothic Art and the Renaissance in Cyprus Camille Enlart, 1987 Medieval Cyprus Sabine Rogge, Michael Grünbart, 2015 In December 2012 a group of scholars met in Münster to present their recent studies on the multifaceted history and culture of medieval Cyprus and most of the papers presented at that conference are published in this volume. Several deal with the political history of the island: the reign of Isaakios Komnenos, the effects of the crusade of King Peter I in 1365, the so-called Ottoman Venetian war. An overview of the three volumes of the Bullarium Cyprium is given. Aspects of economic life in medieval Cyprus are treated in three papers: organisation, management and economic activities of monastic estates in the Middle Byzantine period; medieval cane sugar production on the island; the commerce between the islands of Cyprus, Majorca and Sardinia. Papers on a major ecclesiastical complex dating from the early 7th century on Cypriot artefacts of the 13th and 14th centuries used in daily life; on luxury metal objects from the Lusignan period; and on some rather disparate elements of 15th-century architecture in Cyprus give insights into the material culture of medieval Cyprus. Furthermore, the topics of settlement patterns and insularity are treated in a paper on the successive relocations of the capital of the island of Cyprus from Late Antiquity to the Middle Ages. The book contains papers by Alexander Beihammer, Nicholas Coureas, Peter Edbury, Michael Grünbart, Michalis Olympios, Tassos Papacostas, Maria Parani, K. Scott Parker, Eleni Procopiou, Ulrike Ritzerfeld, Christopher Schabel, Marina Solomidou, Ieronymidou, Myrto Veiko and Joanita Vroom.

Pilgrims' Castle ('Atlit), David's Tower (Jerusalem) and Qal'at ar-Rabad ('Ajlun) C.N. Johns, Denys Pringle, 2019-05-23 First published in 1997, this collection includes papers on Crusader era architecture in Palestine with a focus on Atlit, the castle of Ajlun and on the Citadel of Jerusalem, both of which have previously been difficult to access. The volume is presented partly to repair the very real deficit in the literature on Crusader architecture and partly as a fitting memorial to the author who died in 1992. Atlit in particular held a special significance for C. N. Johns, being the site of his first major project as a field archaeologist. His Guide to Atlit, a masterly summary of his findings, remains the most complete and comprehensive account of the castle and its suburb. The studies collected here pay tribute to their author's enduring contribution to the medieval archaeology of the Near East. The first part of the book deals with the Pilgrims' Castle, the great Templar fortress and town at Atlit. The significance of Johns' excavations at this site has been relatively neglected because it remains in a military area inaccessible to visitors and because almost the entire stock of his major publication was lost in 1947. This Guide to Atlit, a synthesis of historical, archaeological and architectural research on the monument, is reprinted here together with all the interim reports relating to the medieval period. Also included are Johns' studies on the Citadel of Jerusalem, the Tower of David and on the Islamic castle of Ajlun. Together they represent a fundamental contribution to the study of the period of the Crusades and to the military architecture of the Middle Ages. The notes by Denys Pringle bring the accounts up to date in the light of recent research. Byzantine Images and their Afterlives Lynn Jones, 2016-12-05 The twelve papers written for this volume reflect the wide scope of Annemarie Weyl Carr's interests and the equally wide impact of her work. The concepts linking the essays include the examination of form and meaning, the relationship between original and copy, and reception and cultural identity in medieval art and architecture. Carr's work focuses on the object but considers the audience, looks at the copy for retention or rejection of the original form and meaning, and always seeks to understand the relationship between intent and perception. She examines the elusive nature of center and periphery, expanding and enriching the discourse of manuscript production, icons and their copies, and the dissemination of style and meaning. Her body of work is impressive in its chronological scope and geographical extent, as is her ability to tie together aspects of patronage, production, and influence across the medieval Mediterranean. The volume opens with an overview of Carr's career at Southern Methodist University by Bonnie Wheeler, Kathleen Maxwell, Justine Andrews, and Pamela Patton, who contribute chapters in which they examine workshops, subgroups, and influences in manuscript production and reception. Dilyana Angelova, Lynn Jones, and Ida Sinkevic offer explorations of intent and reception, focusing on imperial patronage, relics, and reliquaries. Cypriot studies are represented by Michele Bacci and Maria Vassilaki, who examine aspects of form and style in architecture and icons. The final chapters by Jaroslav Folda, Anthony Cutler, Rossitza Schroeder, and Ann Driscoll are linked by their focus on the nature of copies and tease out the ways in which meaning is retained or altered, and the role that is played by intent and reception.

Medieval Paradigms: Volume I S. Hayes-Healy, 2016-04-30. This collection of essays in two volumes explores patterns of medieval society and culture spanning from the close of the late antique period to the beginnings of the Renaissance. In the first volume, the articles unravel the complexities of authority and community and then turn to the multiple rubrics of behavior which bound and defined medieval societies. Volume 1 thus ends with a discussion of morality from models of civic virtue and vice to Christian prescriptions and prohibitions.

Proceedings of the 4th Biennial of Architectural and Urban Restoration. Host of the Itinerant Congress Hidden Cultural Heritage: Under Water, Under Ground and Within Buildings, 2018-09-02. The Biennial of Architectural and Urban Restoration is composed by a series of cultural events like seminars, shows, art exhibitions, projections of documentaries, debates, visits, all open and also aimed to the public. The purpose of these activities is to bring out the architectural and urban local heritage and raise public awareness to its protection, creating an international forum of discussion between countries with similar problems but various economic and socio-political situations.

The Armenian Church of Famagusta and the Complexity of Cypriot Heritage Michael J.K. Walsh, 2017-04-27. This book explores seven centuries of change in Cyprus and the Eastern Mediterranean world through the rise and fall of Famagusta's medieval Armenian Church. An examination of the complex and its art escorts the reader from the era of the Crusades in Lusignan Cyprus through the rise and fall of the Venetian, Ottoman, and British Empires to the political stasis of the present day. The Armenian church was a home for displaced villagers during the post-independence era, became a military storage facility post 1974, and eventually fell into abandonment once again. This study represents a pioneering history of the Armenian community in Famagusta and a probing analysis of the art and architecture it left behind It is also a permanent record of the long term engagement and commitment of Nanyang Technological University Singapore the World Monuments Fund and the Famagusta Municipality to protect this precious site under extremely challenging circumstances

Crusading and Archaeology Vardit R. Shotten-Hallel, Rosie Weetch, 2020-11-03 Between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries the social and cultural worlds of medieval Europe and the Eastern Mediterranean were transformed by the religious impetus of the crusades Today we bear witness to these transformations in the material and environmental record revealed by new archaeological excavations and reappraisals of museum collections This volume highlights new archaeological knowledge being developed by scholars working in the fields of history archaeology numismatics and architecture to demonstrate its potential to change and augment our understanding of the crusades The 16 chapters in this volume deploy a contemporary scientific approach to archaeology of the crusades to give an up to date account into the diverse range of research in this area They explore five key themes the implications of scientific methods new excavations and surveys architectural analyses sigillography and the application of social interpretations Together these chapters provide a new way of approaching the study of the crusades and demonstrate the value of taking a holistic view that utilises the full diverse range of evidence available to us

Byzantium Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2004 The fall of the Byzantine capital of Constantinople to the Latin West in 1204 during the Fourth Crusade abruptly interrupted nearly nine hundred years of artistic and cultural traditions In 1261 however the Byzantine general Michael VIII Palaiologos triumphantly re entered Constantinople and reclaimed the seat of the empire initiating a resurgence of art and culture that would continue for nearly three hundred years not only in the waning empire itself but also among rival Eastern Christian nations eager to assume its legacy Byzantium Faith and Power 1261 1557 and the groundbreaking exhibition that it accompanies explores the artistic and cultural flowering of the last centuries of the Empire of the Romans and its enduring heritage Conceived as the third of a trio of exhibitions dedicated to a fuller understanding of the art of the Byzantine Empire whose influence spanned more than a millennium Byzantium Faith and Power 1261 1557 follows the 1997 landmark presentation of The Glory of Byzantium which focused on the art and culture of the Middle Byzantine era the Second Golden Age of the Byzantine Empire 843 1261 In the late 1970s The Age of Spirituality explored the early centuries of Byzantium s history The present concluding segment explores the exceptional artistic accomplishments of an era too often considered in terms of political decline Magnificent works from splendid frescoes textiles gilded metalwork and mosaics to elaborately decorated manuscripts and liturgical objects testify to the artistic and intellectual vigor of the Late and Post Byzantine era In addition forty magnificent icons from the Holy Monastery of Saint Catherine Sinai Egypt join others from leading international institutions in a splendid gathering of these powerful religious images While the political strength of the empire weakened the creativity and learning of Byzantium spread farther than ever before The exceptional works of secular and religious art produced by Late Byzantine artists were emulated and transformed by other Eastern Christian centers of power among them Russia Serbia Bulgaria and Cilician Armenia The Islamic world adapted motifs drawn from Byzantium s imperial past as Christian minorities in the Muslim East continued Byzantine customs From Italy to the Lowlands Byzantium s artistic and intellectual practices deeply influenced the development of the Renaissance while in turn Byzantium s own traditions reflected the empire s connections with the Latin West. Fine examples of these interrelationships are illustrated by important panel paintings, ceramics and illuminated manuscripts among other objects. In 1557 the Empire of the Romans as its citizens knew it, which had fallen to the Ottoman Turks in 1453, was renamed Byzantium by the German scholar Hieronymus Wolf. The cultural and historical interaction and mutual influence of these major cultures, the Latin West and the Christian and Islamic East, during this fascinating period are investigated in this publication by a renowned group of international scholars in seventeen major essays and catalogue discussions of more than 350 exhibited objects.

Franco et Orientaux dans le monde des croisades
Jean Richard, 2024-10-28. This latest volume by Jean Richard is concerned with the evolution of the crusading movement and with the interaction between crusaders and indigenous peoples of the Near East. The articles look at changes in the concept of crusading, means of financing it and forms of indulgence, at how the adoption of maritime transport created a need to control the sea and how contacts with the Muslims could lead to peaceful means of resolving conflict and dealing with prisoners. In their lands in the east, the Latins accommodated the feudal structures they brought with them to local conditions, especially in the mountains. Both in this and in the religious sphere, compromises were made and in this co-existence each community preserved its individuality. The final section then considers roles played by eastern Christians in the contacts between Europeans and Mongols. Si les origines de la croisade retiennent l'attention, son évolution mène aussi à la conception de la croisade, les modalités du financement, la forme d'indulgence, se sont modifiées, l'adoption du transport par bateau a nécessité la prise du contrôle de la mer. Les affrontements avec les Musulmans ont provoqué des contacts, ainsi pour régler le sort des prisonniers on a cherché des solutions pacifiques au conflit. Dans leurs possessions orientales, les Francs ont adapté le régime seigneurial aux conditions locales et tout en gardant intacte leur structure féodale, ont servi surtout dans les montagnes leur place aux chefs indigènes. Les contacts de civilisation sont réels mais chaque communauté garde quelque individualité. Il en est de même dans le domaine religieux où il a fallu adopter des compromis pour permettre une réelle coexistence. Et finalement les chrétiens orientaux ont été les agents du rapprochement entre Francs et Mongols.

Lemesos
Angel Nicolaou Konnari, Chris Schabel, 2015-10-13. This volume is the first scholarly work in English examining the history of the town and district of Limassol in Cyprus from antiquity to the 1570 Ottoman conquest of the island. Based on original research and adopting a multidisciplinary approach, six established scholars study Limassol's political, social and economic history as well as its artistic and cultural contribution in ancient, Byzantine, Frankish and Venetian times. A second volume will explore the history of Limassol up to 1960.

Crusader Archaeology
Adrian J. Boas, 2023-12-19. The third edition of Crusader Archaeology updates previous editions to include coverage of important recent work in the field. It examines what life was like for European settlers and travellers to the crusader states during the centuries of Latin rule. Examining past, recent and ongoing archaeological discoveries and research in the field from Israel, Jordan, Syria, Turkey and Cyprus, this volume includes recent findings and approaches, including new exploration work in urban sites such as Jerusalem, Acre and Caesarea, new work on industrial sites and new discoveries in research including DNA studies the field of weaponry and many other topics It covers such topics as settlement types fortification daily life day to day activities warfare religious life arts industry leisure pursuits building technology agriculture medicine death and burial It considers in all these fields the manner in which the Frankish population was influenced by the local and neighbouring populations and how in many of their endeavours the Franks evolved and developed their own unique and often remarkably advanced material culture Together with the archaeological evidence Crusader Archaeology provides a historical background to the various topics in order to give context to each of the discussions Crusader Archaeology remains the only comprehensive study of the architecture and material finds of the Crusader period This well illustrated volume serves as a basic textbook for students and scholars with an interest in the Middle Ages and in particular the Crusades and the Latin East The Military Orders Volume VI (Part 1) Jochen Schenk, Mike Carr, 2016-10-26 Forty papers link the study of the military orders cultural life and output with their involvement in political and social conflicts during the medieval and early modern period Divided into two volumes focusing on the Eastern Mediterranean and Europe respectively the collection brings together the most up to date research by experts from fifteen countries on a kaleidoscope of relevant themes and issues thus offering a broad ranging and at the same time very detailed study of the subject
