Jungvolk Wilhelm Gehlen,Don Gregory,2008-06-19 An extraordinary account of a young boy caught up in the middle of a war frank and even funny at times utterly absorbing Books Monthly This is the wartime memoir of a boy named Will who happened to be the nephew of the head of Nazi Germany s intelligence agency The author only ten years old when the war began became a helper at the local Luftwaffe flak battery fetching ammunition It was exciting work for Will a member of the Jungvolk and by the end of the war he had become expert at judging attacks As fighter raids increased in frequency he noted that the pilots became less skilled Gehlen s town was repeatedly bombed and he often had to help with the wreckage or to pull survivors from basements He witnessed more death than a child ever should nevertheless his flak battery continued firing until US tanks were almost on top of the position In this book Gehlen provides an intimate glimpse of the chaos horror and black humor of life just behind the front lines As seen through the eyes of a child who was expert in aircraft identification and bomb weights food rationing and tank types one encounters a view of life inside Hitler's wartime Reich that is both fascinating and rare Although the memories Gehlen shares are narrow and offer little insight into the Reich itself they're remarkable for the child's perspective they bring to bear on a warring country's ferocious struggle Publishers Weekly A real gem a quiet tour de force Despite its serious subject matter the book reads as an adventure story from start to finish Military Modelling

Nam Sense Arthur Wiknik, 2005-07-19 A candid memoir of being sent to Vietnam at age nineteen witnessing the carnage of Hamburger Hill and returning to an America in turmoil Arthur Wiknik was a teenager from New England when he was drafted into the US Army in 1968 shipping out to Vietnam early the following year Shortly after his arrival on the far side of the world he was assigned to Camp Evans near the northern village of Phong Dien only thirty miles from Laos and North Vietnam On his first jungle patrol his squad killed a female Viet Cong who turned out to have been the local prostitute It was the first dead person he had ever seen Wiknik's account of life and death in Vietnam includes everything from heavy combat to faking insanity to get some R tricked unwitting US suppliers into providing his platoon with hard to get food defied a superior and was punished with a dangerous mission and struggled with himself and his fellow soldiers as the antiwar movement began to affect them Written with honesty and sharp wit by a soldier who was featured on a recent History Channel documentary about Vietnam Nam Sense spares nothing and no one in its attempt to convey what really transpired for the combat soldier during this unpopular war It is not about glory mental breakdowns flashbacks or self pity The GIs Wiknik lived and fought with during his yearlong tour were not drug addicts or war criminals or gung ho killers They were there to do their duty as they were trained support their comrades and get home alive Recipient of an Honorable Mention from the Military Writers Society of America
