Ideals Country 1998 Ideals Publications,1998 Struggle Country Graeme Davison,Marc Brodie,2005 Struggle Country revitalises the field of rural history bringing a nuanced approach to studies of the bush that distinguishes between farmers and country town dwellers and their different experiences and beliefs Country House Discourse in Early Modern England Kari Boyd McBride,2017-07-05 In this study Kari Boyd McBride defines country house discourse as a network of fictions that articulated and mediated early modern concerns about the right use of land and the social relationships that land engendered McBride provides new perspectives on the roles of the discourse she identifies linking it with a number of larger historical shifts during the time period Her interdisciplinary focus allows her to bring together a wide range of material including architecture poetry oil painting economic and social history and proscriptive literature in order to examine their complex interrelationship revealing connections unexplored in more narrowly focused studies McBride delineates the ways in which the country house on the landscape and in literature provided a locus for the construction of gender race class and nation Of particular interest is her focus on women s relationships to the country house their writing of country house poetry and their representation in that literature their designing of country houses and their lives within those architectural spaces whether as lady of the house or domestic servant One of the most important and promising insights in this study is that country house discourse was not simply static and nostalgic but actually worked to mediate change All in all she presents a fresh and detailed study of the great disparities between country house reality and the ideals that informed country house discourse Town and Country in the Middle Ages: Contrasts, Contacts and Interconnections, 1100-1500: No. 22 Christopher Dyer,Kate Giles,2024-11-01 Proceedings of the Society s conference held at the University of York in April 2002 This book brings together the papers presented at the Society for Medieval Archaeology s spring conference held in York in 2002 The conference set out to reunite urban and rural archaeology Papers define the differences between town and country compare the two ways of life trace the interconnecting links between townspeople and country dwellers and show how they interacted and influenced one another Contributors include archaeologists concerned with artefacts buildings environment and regions historical geographers working on urban space and historians interested in material culture Country Life ,1908 How to Find Your Ideal Country Home Gene GeRue,1996 Landscape, Nature, and the Body Politic Kenneth Olwig,2002-06-14 This text is an exploration of the origins and lasting influence of two contesting but intertwined discourses that persist today when we use the words landscape country scenery and nature Management Challenges for Africa in the Twenty-First Century Felix M. Edoho,2000-12-30 Edoho and his contributors examine the management challenges facing African governments and businesses on the eve of a new millennium As the authors make clear Africa s future is defined by how Africa does in the 21st century For Africa a major challenge is how to effectively and efficiently manage its vast wealth Africa is not poor because it is poor it is poor because it cannot manage its development process The shortages of managerial knowledge skills and talents are pervasive Consequently the region lacks the ability to organize production and run operations effectively and efficiently The task of developing managerial manpower in Africa is not only imperative it is urgent After outlining theoretical and applied perspectives on management the volume examines the public and private sector planning and management It then explores the globalization of management technology provides case studies of African management dilemmas looks at management ethics and morality and concludes with an analysis of the role of management in African national development As the authors make clear abundant resources will not of themselves usher in an African economic renaissance Africa needs skills to identify and analyze its resources to undertake investment and to establish and run all kinds of organizations Until Africa develops its indigenous managerial talents development will continue to be elusive and the process traumatizing An important resource for scholars students and policy makers involved with African economic development

Neiwert, 2021-09-24 Rather than simply demonizing or directing outrage at Patriot and militia organizations as some recent high visibility publications have done David Neiwert takes the approach of allowing Patriot extremists to speak for themselves and largely on their own terms His critical journalistic dialogue allows us to better understand the social economic philosophical and religious complexities of how and why these people have come to think the way they do There is no question that strains of racism paranoia ill will and even evilness can characterize many of these people but it is equally true that they often minimally educated and economically and socially challenged by the changing times are desperately responding to feelings of having been marginalized and even disenfranchised from the American dream Neiwert s comprehensive manuscript presents an overview of the multitude of Patriot organizations and beliefs found in the Northwest today Neiwert feels it is essential to maintain some kind of dialogue with Patriots because after all these people went into a tail spin culminating in social and political upheavals that saw Soeharto's resignation in May 1998 and resulting in a succession of presidents as Indonesia entered a period of democratization. These events are well known even to casual observers but Kees van Dijk has penned a magnificent account of Indonesia between 1997 and 2000 that fleshes out the story in rich detail and analysis. The volume itself closes as the soon to be ousted President Abdurrahman Wahid is facing two major corruption collusion and nepotism scandals (KKN) and the political forces are arraying against him. The author has clearly sifted through a mountain of materials principally Indonesian language newspaper sources to bring about an excellent chronicle. At 621 pages this is quite a large book and one can only marvel at the way in which a vast array of sources have been combined. Despite its size and detail it is a thoroughly absorbing read especially if one is already familiar with the events and characters that set the stage for a political and social transformation. The main substantive chapters of the book are supplemented by a large number of helpful appendices showing political parties cabinet line ups military leaders a glossary and so on.
