New Perspectives on Indian English Writings Malti Agarwal, 2007 New Perspectives On Indian English Writings Is A Collection Of Thirty Eight Research Papers On Various Fictionists Dramatists And Poets Of Indian Origin These Papers Contributed By Scholars And Teachers Of Repute Study In Depth The Major Works Of The Pioneers As Well As Emerging Indian Authors Writing In English The Writers Included In This Volume Are Kamala Markandaya Jhumpa Lahiri Shashi Deshpande Nayantara Sahgal Girish Karnad Manju Kapur Bharati Mukherjee R K Narayan Salman Rushdie Arundhati Roy Gita Mehta Kamala Das Nissim Ezekiel Ruth Praver Jhabvala And Many Others The Wide Range Of The Authors Covered In This Volume Makes It Useful For Researchers Teachers And Postgraduate Students Studying In Various Universities Of India

The Writing of the Nation by Its Elite MK Raghavendra, 2021-07-15 This volume examines the idea of India as it emerges in the writing of its anglophone elite post 2000 Drawing on a variety of genres including fiction histories non fiction assessments economic political and business travel accounts and so on this book maps the explosion of English language writing in India after the economic liberalization and points to the nation s sense of its growing importance as a producer of culture From Ramachandra Guha to William Dalrymple from Arundhati Roy to Pankaj Mishra from Jhumpa Lahiri to Amitav Ghosh from Amartya Sen to Gurcharan Das from Barkha Dutt to Tarun Tejpal this investigation takes us from aesthetic imaginings of the nation to its fractured political fault lines the ideological predispositions of the writers often pointing to an asymmetrically constituted India A major intervention on how postcolonial India is written about and imagined in the anglophone world this book will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of cultural studies literature history and South Asian studies It will also be of interest to general readers with an inclination towards India and Indian writing In

Translation □ Reflections, Refractions, Transformations Paul St-Pierre, Prafulla C. Kar, 2007-05-16 With contributions by researchers from India Europe North America and the Caribbean In Translation Reflections refractions transformations touches on questions of method and on topics including copyright cultural hybridity globalization identity construction and minority languages which are important for the disciplinary development of translation studies but also of interest to other fields as well most notably comparative literature cultural studies and world literature The volume provides a forum for new voices to be heard alongside those of well established scholars and for current concerns to express themselves often focusing on practices in areas of the world other than Europe or North America which have until now tended to dominate the field Acknowledging difference and celebrating it the contributions conceive of translation as a process which reconstitutes and transforms which brings renewal and growth an interaction in a new context a new reading a new writing The Fictions of Translation Judith Woodsworth, 2018-02-15 In The Fictions of Translation emerging and seasoned scholars from a range of cultures bring fresh perspectives to bear on the age old practice of translation The current movement of people knowledge and goods around the world has made intercultural communication both prevalent and indispensable Consequently the translator has become a more prominent figure and translation an increasingly present theme in works of literature. Embedding translation in a fictional setting and considering its most extreme forms pseudotranslation or self translation for example are fruitful ways of conceptualizing the act of translating and extending the boundaries of translation studies. Taken together the various translational fictions examined in this collection yield new insights into questions of displacement, migration and hybridity all characteristic of the modern world. The Fictions of Translation will thus be of interest to practising translators, students and scholars of translation and literary studies as well as a more general readership.

Semiotic Encounters, 2009-01-01. Semiotic Encounters: Text, Image and Trans Nation aims at opening up scholarly debates on the contemporary challenges of intertextuality in its various intersections with postcolonial and visual culture studies. Commencing with three theoretical contributions which work towards the creation of frameworks under which intertextuality can be re-viewed today, the volume then explores textual and visual encounters in a number of case studies. While the dimension of the intertextual in the traditional sense as specified e.g. by Genette and the widening of the concept towards visual and digital culture govern the structure of the volume, questions of the transnational and/or postcolonial form a recurrent subtext. The volume's combination of theoretical discussions and case studies which predominantly deal with English classics and their rewritings, film adaptations and/or rereadings will mainly attract graduate students and scholars working on contemporary literary theory, visual culture and postcolonial literatures.

The Fictional World of Jhumpa Lahiri: A Study in Merging Identities Padmini Sahu, 2022-09-22. This book examines Jhumpa Lahiri as an author interested in non-gender specific issues such as immigration, identity, alienation and diaspora addressed in the domain of postcolonial theory by highlighting marginality, alienation and nostalgia as the three chief features in her writings, testifying to a sensibility that remains compulsively subsumed in her family's ethnic heritage and the lives of South Asian immigrants in the United States. The study explains how her search for the self and national identity merged in two cultures and two nations perforce crystallize the metaphors of her own creative consciousness.

Contemporary Indian Writing in English N. D. R. Chandra, 2005.

Translation Reconsidered Chandrani Chatterjee, 2009-12-14. The present work is an interdisciplinary study cutting across the disciplines of translation studies, genre studies, literary history and cultural history. It primarily deals with a phase of transition in the socio-cultural history of Bengal but has implications for the study of Indian literature as a whole. It takes the view that translation does not merely relocate the text in the target language but negotiates several sets of relationships between the two cultures involved, altering the nature of relations between them. The study considers the mediating and shaping agency of genre in this context. Not only are works translated but genres are translated too and assume striking and unprecedented shapes in the linguistic culture of the target audience.

Memories and Postmemories of the Partition of India Anjali Roy, 2019-07-12. This book examines the afterlife of Partition as imprinted on the memories and postmemories of Hindu and Sikh survivors from West Punjab to foreground the intersection between history memory and narrative It shows how survivors script their life stories to reinscribe tragic tales of violence and abjection into triumphalist sagas of fortitude resilience industry enterprise and success At the same time it reveals the silences stutters and stammers that interrupt survivors narrations to bring attention to the untold stories repressed in their consensual narratives By drawing upon current research in history memory narrative violence trauma affect home nation borders refugees and citizenship the book analyzes the traumatizing effects of both the tangible and intangible violence of Partition by tracing the survivors journey from refugees to citizens as they struggle to make new homes and lives in an unhomely land Moreover arguing that the event of Partition radically transformed the notions of home belonging self and community it shows that individuals affected by Partition produce a new ethics and aesthetic of displacement and embody new ways of being in the world An important contribution to the field of Partition studies this book will be of interest to researchers on South Asian history memory partition and postcolonial studies

Other Tongues, 2009-01-01 Other Tongues Rethinking the Language Debates in India explores the implications of the energetic and at times acrimonious public debate among Indian authors and academics over the hegemonic role of Indian writing in English From the 1960s the debate in India has centered on the role of the English language in perpetuating and maintaining the cultural and ideological aspects of imperialism The debate received renewed attention following controversial claims by Salman Rushdie and V S Naipaul on the inferior status of contemporary Indian language literatures This volume offers nuanced analysis of the language audience and canon debate provides a multivocal debate in which academics writers and publishers are brought together in a multi genre format academic essay interview personal essay explores how translation mediates this debate and the complex choices that translation must entail Other Tongues is the first collective study by to bring together voices from differing national linguistic and professional contexts in an examination of the nuances of this debate over language By creating dialogue between different stakeholders seven scholars three writers and three publishers from India the volume brings to the forefront underrepresented aspects of Indian literary culture
