as separate subjects though the two are intimately linked in the practice of literary scholarship Literary scholarship is guided by literary theories and expressed through writing it doesn't make sense to learn each in isolation Literary theories are intellectual models that scholars use to understand stories novels poems plays and other texts Different theories prioritize different historical social or methodological concerns The authors believe students of literature should learn about many literary theories so they can discover which interpretive tools work best for them when they write about literature in their classes and beyond This book aims to help students build up a personal toolbox of interpretive possibilities Online resource

Literary Scholarship Norman Foerster, 1941      The Aims and Methods of Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures (Classic Reprint) James Thorpe, 2017-10-12 Excerpt from The Aims and Methods of Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures A collection of essays cannot convert us into able scholars of course For that we need much learning the capacity to deal creatively with knowledge and a certain amount of good luck But we also need a discipline to help us shape our material into the form of useful contributions and that discipline ultimately derives from a recognition of the aims and methods of scholarship These essays discuss four forms of scholarship linguistics textual criticism literary history and literary criticism In each case the writer offers his ideas about fundamental questions facing the modern scholar the range of purpose open to him the basic problems confronting him the presuppositions underlying his work the methods and procedures available to him Of the various themes which run through these essays either by direct statement or by implication it seems to me that there are two which ought to be kept in mind while considering the propositions set forth in each essay One theme reiterated over and over again is the interdependence of these four forms of scholarship The partitioning of scholarship into these essays is a convenient division of functions not of people each essay is about a characteristic type of study not about a separate band of scholars living apart from the rest of the learned world All literary scholars these essays assert need at least an elementary grasp of all four forms and they cannot work effectively without being able to use the relevant evidence which can be or has been gained through each of those modes of inquiry Any given literary problem may turn out to involve all of them and a scholar can treat his problem with complete reliability only if he exploits all sources of understanding The individual scholar generally finds it is true that he has more interest and greater skill in one mode of study than in another But what the professor of scholarship needs if he wants his work to be adequate is the ability to follow any promising approach that may lead to a sounder understanding of the topic on which he happens to be engaged About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve
