The Problem with Interreligious Dialogue Muthuraj Swamy, 2016-03-24 Muthuraj Swamy provides a fresh perspective on the world religions paradigm and interreligious dialogue By challenging the assumption that world religions operate as essential entities separate from the lived experiences of practitioners he shows that interreligious dialogue is in turn problematic as it is built on this very paradigm and on the myth of religious conflict Offering a critique of the idea of dialogue as it has been advanced by its proponents such as religious leaders and theologians whose aims are to promote inter religious conversation and understanding the author argues that this approach is elitist and that in reality people do not make sharp distinctions between religions nor do they separate political economic social and cultural beliefs and practices from their religious traditions Case studies from villages in southern India explore how Hindu Muslim and Christian communities interact in numerous ways that break the neat categories often used to describe each religion Swamy argues that those who promote dialogue are ostensibly attempting to overcome the separate identities of religious practitioners through understanding but in fact they re enforce them by encouraging a false sense of separation The Problem with Interreligious Dialogue Plurality Conflict and Elitism in Hindu Christian Muslim Relations provides an innovative approach to a central issue confronting Religious Studies combining both theory and ethnography

Evaluating Interreligious Peacebuilding and Dialogue Mohammed Abu-Nimer, Renáta Katalin Nelson, 2021-09-20 In the emerging fields of religious and interreligious peacebuilding the question of monitoring and evaluation is a challenging yet necessary process The need to develop comprehensive yet fitting evaluation models for religious and interreligious peacebuilding is not only important for donor interests but also critical as a means of documenting and learning for peacebuilders themselves Theories and best practices in monitoring and evaluation have become prevalent in many fields yet the amount of literature on evaluating intercultural and especially religious and interreligious projects remains scant in comparison This volume offers a unique contribution that not only looks at several of the challenges and implications faced by religious and interreligious peacebuilders but also provides concrete examples of new models and tools for monitoring and evaluating religious and interreligious peacebuilding projects In doing so this volume serves as a tool and point of reference for individuals and organizations developing and implementing interreligious dialogue and peacebuilding projects

Muslims, Christians, and the Challenge of Interfaith Dialogue Jane I. Smith, 2007-10-11 The attacks of September 11 2001 instantly heightened the American public's sensitivity toward matters of religious difference Many Americans realized not only that non Muslims need to learn more about Islam but also that Muslims must better understand and articulate their own faith to themselves and others In this volume Jane Idleman Smith examines the current American Christian Muslim dialogue contextualized both through the history of Islam and of the contemporary West As we approach the sixth anniversary of 9 11 Smith dares to ask what progress has been made through this dialogue what happens when that dialogue fails and what direction it will take in the years to come Smith examines the recent theological writings of both Catholics and Protestants about dialogue and pluralism and shows that since 9 11 a few Muslim scholars in the West have also begun to write about these issues Now she argues many Christians and Muslims are expressing their desire to move beyond theological discussion into what is often called the dialogue of engagement As evidence she points to initiatives among young people women and

African Americans as they attempt to find ways to work together in local projects of justice and community service Throughout the book one hears the personal voices of these Muslim and Christian participants in the American interfaith dialogue While many of the encounters between Islam and Christianity over the past 14 centuries have been peaceful Americans know little about the history of religious interaction beyond the Crusades or the fear Europe felt in the face of the invasions of the Turks This volume is intended to educate Americans about the great diversity of Muslims in this country while illustrating how Christians and Muslims are coming together not only to talk to each other but to work together for the common good

Dialogue as an Imperative to Ecumenical and Interreligious Problems in Nigeria Casmir Chimezie Obi, 2015-08-06 The Church is the Sacrament of Communion with God and unity among all men Cf Vatican II doc L G 1 Christ prayed for this unity amongst his adherents in accordance with the unity between him and God the Father Cf Jn 17 21 This unity will be a sign by which the outside world is to believe in him hence calling on the Church to rise up to this demand Efforts were made by the Church to respond to this demand but it was at the Second Vatican Council that the search for unity became an imperative With this Council the Church acknowledged the possibility of Salvation for the members of other Christian traditions and people of other religions The Church has done a lot to promote this unity through the teachings of the Magisterium and the activities of the recent Popes It is then important to study the situation of Nigeria where this call of the Vatican II has received scant response both in ecumenical and interreligious relations Having done pastoral work in places with interdenominational and interreligious rivalry in Nigeria I became concerned and worried The present religious crises in Nigeria has escalated to an issue of grave concern with the Boko Haram insurgency My motivation is to demonstrate the teaching of the Church regarding interdenominational and interreligious dialogue within Nigeria There has been no sustained effort to build bridges of religious unity in the country This research will demonstrate the necessity of ecumenical dialogue as a prelude to interreligious dialogue in Nigeria On the global level the need for various religions to foster relationships has become an imperative Two important bodies CAN and NIREC will be studied in this book The work aims at demonstrating the involvement of the Nigerian Christians and Muslims in ecumenical and interreligious dialogue Essentially concerned with the Catholic view of ecumenical and interreligious dialogue its application to the Nigerian situation No in depth study of the religions involved It is rather the fact of their existence the role dialogue will play with them to solve religious problems in Nigeria Though ATR was considered in this work but the issue of dialogue will only involve Nigerian Muslims Christians The research wishes to provoke further study on dialogue between ATR and any of the other two religions Two issues involved the reality importance of the Catholic teachings on ecumenical interreligious dialogue and their application to the Nigerian situation Key methods involved in this work are literary research and analysis through theological historical critical descriptive analytical expository approaches

Nostra Aetate, Non-Christian Religions, and Interfaith Relations Kail C. Ellis, 2020-10-01 This book explores how Nostra Aetate the Declaration on the Relation of the Church with Non Christian Religions of the Second Vatican Council can influence inter religious dialogue and understanding in the modern world Although influential in religious academic and scholarly circles it is relatively unknown outside these areas The contributors remedy that deficit by highlighting the declaration's difficult historical and social context and the Church's evolving relationship with non-Christians. Contentious topics are examined such as the link between the Jewish people and the land and state of Israel that questions the Catholic understanding of the relativity of national borders and identity and the challenges posed to the Church's relationship with Islam by its prioritization of human rights and religious freedom for Christians and minorities in certain Muslim regimes. Given its scope it is an ideal resource for graduate students and researchers in the fields of political science, international relations, religion and minority studies. Interreligious Dialogue and the Partition of India Mario I. Aguilar, 2018-06-21 In a time of schism, violence and forced migration, how can God be understood? With his latest book, Catholic Benedictine hermit Mario Aguilar explores the religious identities of Hindus and Muslims in the aftermath of the 1947 partition of India. Looking at the experiences of the victims who were silenced, he reveals how out of this traumatic period has emerged a peaceful dialogue between faiths held together by shared humanity and prayerfulness. Founded on a fascination with what unites rather than divides religions, Aguilar offers a theological reading of a major event in twentieth-century history that is both creative and constructive. Christian-Muslim Dialogue Heidi Hirvonen, 2012-11-09 Lebanon is a significant region of encounter between Muslims and Christians in the Middle East. This book examines how Christian-Muslim dialogue is envisioned by four present-day Lebanese thinkers: Great Ayatollah Muhammad Husayn Fadlallah and Doctor Mahmoud Ayoub from the Shiite tradition and Metropolitan Georges Khodr and Doctor Father Mouchir Basile Aoun from the Eastern Christian Antiochian tradition. The study seeks to bring the four thinkers into dialogue on a number of topics including doctrinal themes, ethical principles and the issue of political power sharing in Lebanon. All four thinkers make several suggestions for facilitating mutual understanding and transcending old debates. The concept of God and the principle of neighbourly love seem to have particular potential as fruitful bases for further dialogue.
