Intersecting Voices Dilemmas Of Gender Political Philosophy And Policy:

Intersecting Voices Iris Marion Young, 1997-07-27 Iris Marion Young is known for her ability to connect theory to public policy and practical politics in ways easily understood by a wide range of readers This collection of essays which extends her work on feminist theory explores questions such as the meaning of moral respect and the ways individuals relate to social collectives together with timely issues like welfare reform same sex marriage and drug treatment for pregnant women One of the many goals of Intersecting Voices is to energize thinking in those areas where women and men are still deprived of social justice Essays on the social theory of groups communication across difference alternative principles for family law exclusion of single mothers from full citizenship and the ambiguous value of home lead to questions important for rethinking policy How can women be conceptualized as a single social collective when there are so many differences among them What spaces of discourse are required for the full inclusion of women and cultural minorities in public discussion Can the conceptual and practical link between self sufficiency and citizenship that continues to relegate some people to second class status be broken How could legal institutions be formed to recognize the actual plurality of family forms In formulating such questions and the answers to them Young draws upon ideas from both Anglo American and Continental philosophers including Seyla Benhabib Joshua Cohen Luce Irigaray Susan Okin William Galston Simone de Beauvoir and Michel Foucault Ethics and

Phenomenology Mark Sanders, Jeremy Wisniewski, 2012-01-01 Ethics and Phenomenology examines the relevance of major phenomenologists and phenomenological concepts to ethical inquiry in general as well as to a broad range of contemporary ethical issues Identities and Freedom Allison Weir, 2013-03-21 How can we think about identities in the wake of feminist critiques of identity and identity politics Allison Weir rethinks conceptions of individual and collective identities in relation to freedom

Marxism and Phenomenology Bryan Smyth, Richard Westerman, 2021-10-25 Marxism and Phenomenology The Dialectical Horizons of Critique edited by Bryan Smyth and Richard Westerman offers new perspectives on the possibility of a philosophical outlook that combines Marxism and phenomenology in the critique of capitalism Although Marxism's focus on impersonal social structures and phenomenology's concern with lived experience can make these traditions appear conceptually incompatible the potential critical force of a theoretical reconciliation inspired several attempts in the twentieth century to articulate a phenomenological Marxism Updating and extending this approach the contributors to this volume identify and develop new and previously overlooked connections between the traditions offering new perspectives on Marx Husserl and Heidegger exploring themes such as alienation reification and ecology and examining the intersection of Marxism and phenomenology in figures such as Michel Henry Walter Benjamin and Frantz Fanon These glimpses of a productive reconciliation of the respective strengths of phenomenology and Marxism offer promising possibilities for illuminating and resolving the increasingly intense social crises of capitalism in the twenty first century

On Feminist Ethics and Politics Claudia Card, 1999 For years mainstream feminist ethics focused criticism on male supremacy Feminist philosophers in this volume adopt a less male focused stance to look closely at oppression's impact on women's agency and on women's relations with women Examining legal social and physical relationships these philosophers confront moral ambiguity moral compromise and complicity in perpetuating oppression Combining personal experience with philosophical inquiry they vividly portray their daily engagement with oppression as both victims and perpetrators They explore such issues as how pornography silences women and radical feminist politics complicity in racism Among these insightful essays Sandra Bartky argues that women share guilt for racism when they benefit from it without protest Susan Brison reflects on uses of narrative in trauma recovery from such experiences as being targeted for rape or murder Joan Callahan examines fallout of derogatory speech directed at lesbians Virginia Held proposes carrying care into marketplaces and governments and in her introduction Claudia Card draws on Primo Levi's conception of gray zones in exploring dangers of character damage to victims of misogyny A fitting companion to Card's highly regarded Feminist Ethics this volume interweaves observations on character political ethics violence and love into an accessible sourcebook for students It tackles some of feminism's most pressing issues and helps readers to identify and then overcome the real damage caused by oppression

The Priority of Injustice Clive Barnett, 2017-11 This original and ambitious work looks anew at a series of intellectual debates about the meaning of democracy Clive Barnett engages with key thinkers in various traditions of democratic theory and demonstrates the importance of a geographical imagination in interpreting contemporary political change Debates about radical democracy Barnett argues have become trapped around a set of oppositions between deliberative and agonistic theories contrasting thinkers who promote the possibility of rational agreement and those who seek to unmask the role of power or violence or difference in shaping human affairs While these debates are often framed in terms of consensus versus contestation Barnett unpacks the assumptions about space and time that underlie different understandings of the sources of political conflict and shows how these differences reflect deeper philosophical commitments to theories of creative action or revived ontologies of the political Rather than developing ideal theories of democracy or models of proper politics he argues that attention should turn toward the practices of claims making through which political movements express experiences of injustice and make demands for recognition redress and repair By rethinking the spatial grammar of discussions of public space democratic inclusion and globalization Barnett develops a conceptual framework for analyzing the crucial roles played by geographical processes in generating and processing contentious politics

Sustainable Modernity Nina Witoszek, Atle Midttun, 2018-04-17 The Open Access version of this book available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781351765633> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license In the 21st century Norway Denmark and Sweden remain the icons of fair societies with high economic productivity and quality of life But they are also an enigma in a cultural evolutionary sense though by no means following the same socio economic formula they are all cases of a non hubristic socially sustainable modernity that puzzles outside observers Using Nordic welfare states as its laboratory Sustainable Modernity combines evolutionary and socio cultural perspectives to illuminate the mainsprings of what the authors call the well being society The main contention is that the Nordic uniqueness is not merely the outcome of one particular set of historical institutional or political arrangements or sheer historical luck rather the high welfare creation inherent in the Nordic model has been predicated on a long and durable tradition of social cooperation which has interacted with global competitive forces Hence the socially sustainable Nordic modernity should be approached as an integrated and tightly orchestrated ecosystem based on a complex interplay of cooperative and competitive strategies within and across several domains normative cultural socio political and redistributive The key question is Can the Nordic countries uphold the balance of competition and cooperation and reproduce their resilience in the age of globalization cultural collisions the digital economy the fragmentation of the work life division and often intrusive EU regulation With contributors providing insights from the humanities the social sciences and evolutionary science this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of political science sociology history institutional economics Nordic studies and human evolution studies

Political Identity and the Metaphysics of Politics Gabriele De Anna, Manuele Dozzi, 2023-05-05 The chapters in this volume clarify the notion of political identity by focusing on the metaphysics of politics By analysing the notion of political identity they provide the conceptual resources for a deeper understanding of the theoretical and practical debates on populism the crisis of sovereignty the feasibility of a world government and ethical religious and cultural pluralism What is a political community Any answer to this question lies at the intersection between three fields metaphysics philosophy of action and political philosophy The question concerns how and why a plurality of individuals becomes a political unity what principles or forces keep that unity together and what threats that unity can encounter In this volume the contributors investigate how different metanormative views affect the possible answers to this metaphysical question They explore the role that the individual identities of agents play in grounding common practices that underpin political life They investigate the individual identities of agents as the result of the interplay between natural and cultural factors Finally they observe the ways in which a political community as a collection of individuals who hang together in an attempt to reach common purposes demonstrate a certain metaphysical solidity Political Identity and the Metaphysics of Politics will appeal to researchers and advanced students working in metaphysics political philosophy political theory and philosophy of action

Home and Away Dr. Stephen Burns, Clive Pearson, 2013-01-11 Home and Away provides new vantage points in contextual theology An initial stream looks at the significance of postcodes as a way of mapping local areas as situations for pastoral ministry and theological reflection A second but not ancillary stream of essays considers the local within a range of glocal and global dynamics The essays do not unfold a single trajectory of thought about context and at various points they indirectly question and challenge each other The pieces meld into an international and ecumenical conversation about contemporary Christian ministry It includes voices from North America Europe and Austral Asia Although open ended and constantly crisscrossing questions from one context to another the collection is emphatic in its common conviction that attention to very local circumstance is crucial for Christian ministry just as are wider views of a locality's position in broader flows

Violence Against Women and the Law David L Richards, Jillienne Haglund, 2015-11-17 This book examines the strength of laws addressing four types of violence against women rape marital rape domestic violence and sexual harassment in 196 countries from 2007 to 2010 It analyzes why these laws exist in some places and not others and why they are stronger or weaker in places where they do exist The authors have compiled original data that allow them to test various hypotheses related to whether international law drives the enactment of domestic legal protections They also examine the ways in which these legal protections are related to economic political and social institutions and how transnational society affects the presence and strength of these laws The original data produced for this book make a major contribution to comparisons and analyses of gender violence and law worldwide
