The Working Classes and Higher Education Amy E. Stich, Carrie Freie, 2015-12-22 Within the broader context of the global knowledge economy wherein the college for all discourse grows more and more pervasive and systems of higher education become increasingly stratified by social class important and timely questions emerge regarding the future social location and mobility of the working classes Though the working classes look very different from the working classes of previous generations the weight of a universal working class identity background amounts to much of the same economic vulnerability and negative cultural stereotypes all of which continue to present obstacles for new generations of working class youth many of whom pursue higher education as a necessity rather than a choice Using a sociological lens contributors examine the complicated relationship between the working classes and higher education through students distinct experiences challenges and triumphs during three moments on a transitional continuum the transition from secondary to higher education experiences within higher education and the transition from higher education to the workforce In doing so this volume challenges the popular notion of higher education as a means to equality of opportunity and social mobility for working class students University Partnerships for Community and School System Development Patrick Blessinger, Barbara Cozza, 2015-12-07 This volume examines the diverse ways in which universities and colleges around the world are partnering and collaborating with other institutions to fulfil their missions and visions Youth Voices, Public Spaces, and Civic Engagement Stuart Greene, Kevin J. Burke, Maria K. McKenna, 2016-02-26 This collection of original research explores ways that educators can create participatory spaces that foster civic engagement critical thinking and authentic literacy practices for adolescent youth in urban contexts Casting youth as vital social actors contributors shed light on the ways in which urban youth develop a clearer sense of agency within the structural forces of racial segregation and economic development that would otherwise marginalize and silence their voices and begin to see familiar spaces with reimaged possibilities for socially just educational practices Readings in the Anthropocene Sabine Wilke, Japhet Johnstone, 2017-09-21 Readings in the Anthropocene brings together scholars from German Studies and beyond to interpret the German tradition of the last two hundred years from a perspective that is mindful of the challenge posed by the concept of the Anthropocene This new age of man unofficially pronounced in 2000 holds that humans are becoming a geological force in shaping the Earth's future Among the biggest challenges facing our future are climate change accelerated species loss and a radical transformation of land use What are the historical philosophical cultural literary and artistic responses to this new concept The essays in this volume bring German culture to bear on what it means to live in the Anthropocene from a historical ethical and aesthetic perspective
