Grief in Childhood Michelle Y. Pearlman, Karen D'Angelo Schwalbe, Marylène Cloutre, 2010-01-01 Children vary in their response to the death of a loved one Some children develop relatively few symptoms or problems while others face significant or prolonged symptoms such as posttraumatic stress disorder or anxiety Similarly children vary in their circumstances and preferences Thus clinicians who work with bereaved children must customize interventions to meet the specific needs of each individual child This book presents Integrated Grief Therapy for Children an evidence based model for treating bereaved children that draws extensively on cognitive behavioral family systems and narrative approaches to therapy The model shows clinicians how to assess the needs of bereaved children treat common distressing symptoms depression posttraumatic stress disorder anxiety and behavioral problems and address the grief itself while fostering resilience Because emotional and behavioral problems following grief are manifested in different ways the model allows for flexibility based on the age symptom presentation and needs of the child And because the inclusion of a surviving parent or caregiver is critical to working with grieving children the model involves the parent in the interventions With a thorough literature review on bereavement in childhood extensive case examples and dialogues to illustrate therapeutic techniques and over 20 activity handouts that therapists can photocopy and use in sessions this book provides everything needed to treat bereaved children

America Corr and Balk's book will help adults find many ways to lead bereaved children to a hopeful belief in their future despite their considerable losses. This book is a real contribution to the growing literature in this field. Nancy Boyd Webb, DSW, LICSW, RPT, S, Distinguished Professor of Social Work Emerita, Fordham University. Children struggling with death-related issues require care and competent assistance from the adults around them. This book serves as a guide for care providers including counselors, social workers, nurses, educators, clergy, and parents who seek to understand and help children as they attempt to cope with loss. This book comprehensively discusses death and grieving within the context of the physical, emotional, social, behavioral, spiritual, and cognitive changes that children experience while coping with death. The chapters also explore new critical, imaginative, conceptual models and interventions including expressive arts therapy, resilience-based approaches, new psychotherapeutic approaches, and more. Key features: Presents guidelines for assisting children coping with the loss of parents, siblings, friends, or pets; Discusses ethical issues in counseling bereaved and seriously ill children; Provides guidelines for helping children manage their emerging awareness and understanding of death; Emphasizes research-based, culturally sensitive, and global implications as well as current insights in thanatology.
