Intimate Expanses 25 Scottish Poem:

Intimate Expanses Robyn Marsack, Ken Cockburn, 2004 Presenting an anthology of 25 Scottish poems this book also offers an alternative view of how quarter of a century has unfolded in Scotland At the End of the Broken Bridge István Turczi, 2005 This anthology of 25 Hungarian poems one from each year from 1978 to 2002 presents an alternative view of how the past quarter century has unfolded in Hungary A number of poets in this volume will be familiar to Anglophone poetry lovers such as Agnes Nemes Nagy Otto Orban and Sandor Weores while others are being translated for the first time BOOK JACKET How to Address the Fog Anni Sumari, 2005 Part of a series of bilingual poetry anthologies this book contains twenty five Finnish poems in translation It documents the developments in Finnish history and literature and also includes biographical and bibliographical information on the poets and translators The poets include Gosta Agren Kari Aronpuro Bo Carpelan and others Light Off Water Iolanda Pelegrí, Anna Crowe, 2007 Revealing a deep rooted Catalan literary tradition long suppressed by the Spanish government during Franco s regime this remarkable collection of 25 poems illustrates how Catalan poetry has blossomed in the past quarter century The pieces each by a different poet were written between 1978 and 2002 and offer an insightful look into this period of abrupt change The Night Begins with a Question Iain Galbraith, 2007 A varied anthology this book documents the development of Austrian poetry from the 1970s to the present day Translated by Scottish poets in the context and the company of some of their Austrian contemporaries each poem seeks its own often volatile space and categories like British Scottish or Austrian are too narrow to frame the imaginative reach of a single authentic poem While these poems are authentically Austrian they are permeated by the greater world and penned by recognized poets including Rainer Maria Rilke Paul Celan Friederike Mayrcker and Evelyn Schlag Romantic Generations Lene Østermark-Johansen, 2003 Unlike the first two volumes of ANGLES on the English Speaking World this special issue does not originate in a set of conference papers The idea of compiling a collection of essays on Romanticism emerged from the unusually strong concentration on Romantic studies among the graduate students of the English Department a couple of years ago This volume places their work in the context of distinguished international scholars of greater seniority scholars who have become academic contacts through conferences and assessment committees and whose contributions I am very pleased to be able to include alongside the works of local contributors The Romantic generations of the title of this volume thus strike a number of different chords generations of scholars in Romantic studies conventional divisions of Romantic poets into first second and possibly third generations the self generative aspect of Romanticism the awareness of poetic reputation and the image and afterlife of the poet The collection spans just over a hundred years from the 1780s to the 1890s and while not in any way attempting to define Romanticism or raise issues of periodization the volume allows for the continued existence of Romantic features right until the end of the nineteenth century Poetry looms large in this issue of ANGLES apart from Ian Duncan s essay on Hume Scott and the Rise of Fiction all the other essays are in some way concerned with the Romantic poet and his poetry The Romantic poet is thus represented as a collector and editor of ballads as a political radical and printmaker as other to himself essentially ignorant of the process of poetic composition as a rival and collaborator with other poets or as a poet long dead the subject of successive generations of poetic lament The boundaries between poetry and the visual arts is explored in a couple of the essays indeed the rivalry between portraiture and literature pervades no less than three of the contributions and no matter whether the subject of inquiry is the image of the poet or the image of the poet's mother the Romantic poet displays a high degree of self consciousness with respect to both literary and visual media Romantic generations generate both selves and others in poetry and portraiture PN Review ,2004 Documentary History of Education in Upper Canada Ontario.
