Intimate Letters Correspondence Of The Heart:

Searching the Heart Karen Lystra, 1992-06-25 In January 1862 Charles Godwin courted Harriet Russell ultimately unsuccessfully with the following lines Like cadences of inexpressibly sweet music your kind words came to me causing every nerve to vibrate as though electrified by some far off strain of heavenly harmony Almost ten years later Albert Janin upon receiving a letter from his beloved Violet Blair responded with I kissed your letter over and over again regardless of the small pox epidemic at New York and gave myself up to a carnival of bliss before breaking the envelope And in October 1883 Dorothea Lummis wrote candidly to her husband Charles I like you to want me dear and if I were only with you I would embrace more than the back of your neck be sure In Karen Lystra s richly provocative book Searching the Heart we hear the voices of Charles Albert Dorothea and nearly one hundred other nineteenth century Americans emerge from their surprisingly open intimate and emotional love letters While historians of nineteenth century America have explored a host of private topics including courtship marriage birth control sexuality and sex roles they have consistently neglected the study of romantic love Lystra fills this gap by describing in vivid detail what it meant to fall in love in Victorian America Based on a vast array of love letters the book reveals the existence of a real openness even playfulness between male and female lovers which challenges and expands more traditional views of middle class private life in Victorian America Lystra refutes the common belief that Victorian men and women held passionlessness as an ideal in their romantic relationships Enabling us to enter the hidden world of Victorian lovers the letters they left behind offer genuine proof of the intensity of their most private interactions feelings behaviors and judgments Lystra discusses how Victorians anthropomorphized love letters treating them as actual visits from their lovers insisting on reading them in seclusion sometimes kissing them as Albert does with Violet s and even taking them to bed She also explores how courtship rituals which included the setting and passing of tests of love succeeded in building unique emotional bonds between lovers and how middle class views of romantic love which encouraged sharing knowledge and intimacy gave women more power in the home Through the medium of love letters Searching the Heart allows us to enter unnoticed the Victorian bedroom and parlor We will leave with a different view of middle class Victorian America

Archaeologies of the Heart Kisha Supernant, Jane Eva Baxter, Natasha Lyons, Sonya Atalay, 2020-02-13 Archaeological practice is currently shifting in response to feminist indigenous activist community based and anarchic critiques of how archaeology is practiced and how science is used to interpret the past lives of people Inspired by the calls for a different way of doing archaeology this volume presents a case here for a heart centered archaeological practice Heart centered practice emerged in care based disciplines such as nursing and various forms of therapy as a way to recognize the importance of caring for those on whom we work and as an avenue to explore how our interactions with others impacts our own emotions and heart Archaeologists are disciplined to separate mind and heart a division which harkens back to the origins of western thought The dualism between the mental and the physical is fundamental to the concept that humans can objectively study the world without being immersed in it Scientific approaches to understanding the world assume there is an objective world to be studied and that humans must remove themselves from that world in order to find the truth An archaeology of the heart rejects this dualism rather we see mind body heart and spirit as inextricable An archaeology of the heart provides a new space for thinking through an integrated responsible and grounded archaeology where there is care for the living and the dead acknowledges the need to build responsible relationships with communities and with the archaeological record and emphasize the role of rigor in how work and research is conducted The contributions bring together archaeological practitioners from across the globe in different contexts to explore how heart centered practice can impact archaeological theory methodology and research throughout the discipline The Heart in the Glass Jar William E. French, 2018-05-01 A history of love and courtship in Mexico from the 1860s through the 1930s based on love letters preserved in legal cases involving courtship Hell Hath No Fury Anna Holmes, Anne Boleyn, Cindy Chupack, Charlotte Bronte, 2003-12-30 It s as old as time the breakup letter The kiss off The Dear John The big adios Simple in its premise stunningly perfect in its effect From Anne Boleyn to Sex and the City writer producer Cindy Chupack from women both well known and unknown imaginary and real the letters here span the centuries and the emotions providing a stirring utterly gratifying glimpse at the power wit and fury of a woman s voice In a never before published letter Ana s Nin gives her lover C L Baldwin a piece of her mind Charlotte Bront in formal fashion refuses the marriage proposal of Henry Nussey In a previously unpublished letter Sylvia Plath writes to her childhood friend and brief lover Phillip McCurdy expressing her wish to maintain a platonic relationship And Susie Q lets Johnny Smack O know that she s onto his philandering The brilliance of the mad missives caustic communiqu s downhearted dispatches sweet send offs and every other sort of good bye that fills these pages will surely resonate with anyone who has ever loved lost left languished or laughed a hearty last laugh

Families, Lovers, and their Letters Sonia Cancian, 2010-05-01 Families Lovers and their Letters takes us into the passionate hearts and minds of ordinary people caught in the heartbreak of transatlantic migration It examines the experiences of Italian migrants to Canada and their loved ones left behind in Italy following the Second World War when the largest migration of Italians to Canada took place In a micro analysis of 400 private letters including three collections that incorporate letters from both sides of the Atlantic Sonia Cancian provides new evidence on the bidirectional flow of communication during migration She analyzes how kinship networks functioned as a means of support and control through the flow of news objects and persons how gender roles in productive and reproductive spheres were reinforced as a means of coping with separation and how the emotional impact of both temporary and permanent separation was expressed during the migration process Cancian also examines the love letter as a specific form of epistolary exchange a first in Italian immigrant historiography revealing the powerful effect that romantic love had on the migration experience Families of the Heart Ann Campbell, 2022-11-11 In this innovative analysis of canonical British novels Campbell identifies a new literary device the surrogate family as a signal of cultural anxieties about young women's changing relationship to matrimony across the long eighteenth century. By assembling chosen families rather than families of origin, Campbell convincingly argues female protagonists in these works compensate for weak family ties, explore the world and themselves, prepare for idealized marriages or sidestep marriage altogether. Tracing the evolution of this rich convention from the female characters in Defoe's and Richardson's fiction, who are allowed some autonomy in choosing spouses, to the more explicitly feminist work of Haywood and Burney, in which connections between protagonists and their surrogate sisters and mothers can substitute for marriage itself, this book makes an ambitious intervention by upending a traditional trope, the model of the hierarchical family, ultimately offering a new lens through which to regard these familiar works.

The Lost Love Letters of Heloise and Abelard Constant J. Mews, 2016-09-23 This new edition offers fascinating insights into one of the most celebrated love affairs of the Middle Ages. A new chapter charts the debate about the letters and offers fresh evidence to attribute them to Abelard and Heloise. The complete Latin text is reproduced with an annotated translation by Chiavaroli and Mews.

Love Letters from Golok Holly Gayley, 2016-12-06 Love Letters from Golok chronicles the courtship between two Buddhist tantric masters, Tare Lhamo (1938-2002) and Namtrul Rinpoche (1944-2011), and their passion for reinvigorating Buddhism in eastern Tibet during the post-Mao era. In fifty-six letters exchanged from 1978 to 1980, Tare Lhamo and Namtrul Rinpoche envisioned a shared destiny to heal the damage done to Buddhism during the years leading up to and including the Cultural Revolution. Holly Gayley retrieves the personal and prophetic dimensions of their courtship and its consummation in a twenty-year religious career that informs issues of gender and agency in Buddhism, cultural preservation among Tibetan communities, and alternative histories for minorities in China. The correspondence between Tare Lhamo and Namtrul Rinpoche is the first collection of love letters to come to light in Tibetan literature. Blending tantric imagery with poetic and folk song styles, their letters have a fresh vernacular tone comparable to the love songs of the Sixth Dalai Lama but with an eastern Tibetan flavor. Gayley reads these letters against hagiographic writings about the couple, supplemented by field research to illuminate representational strategies that serve to narrate cultural trauma in a redemptive key quite unlike Chinese scar literature or the testimonials of exile Tibetans. With special attention to Tare Lhamo's role as a tantric heroine and her hagiographic fusion with Namtrul Rinpoche, Gayley vividly shows how Buddhist masters have adapted Tibetan literary genres to share private intimacies and address contemporary social concerns.

Love Letters: Great Literary Romances examines the lives of great writers: John Keats, Franz Kafka, Leonard Woolf, a celebrated composer, Leo Janáček, and two great lovers of mediaeval Europe, Abelard and Heloise, to see their turbulent and sometimes tormented romantic lives played out in the passionate declarations of love in the letters they wrote.

Singleness of Heart Diane Leclerc,2001-10-23 This book in light of recent feminist theology on the doctrine of sin attempts to provide historical support for such feminist considerations It examines fourth century church fathers John Wesley and Phoebe Palmer as places where an alternative of traditional definitional definition pride can be found Diane Leclerc devotes this study to an important twofold question What is the most adequate Christian diagnosis of our fundamental human problem and the corollary How should we understand the wholeness holiness that Christianity seeks to promote While this interrelated topic is challenging in its own right she has also chosen to approach it by bringing into dialogue some diverse conversation partners What makes Leclerc s study so instructive is that no partner in this conversation emerges without some challenge for revision or without some affirmation of their central concerns Vita Sackville-West
