Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself Lenn E. Goodman, 2008-01-02 In this book Lenn E Goodman writes about the commandment to love thy neighbor as thyself from the standpoint of Judaism a topic and perspective that have not often been joined before Goodman addresses two big questions What does that command ask of us and what is its basis Drawing extensively on Jewish sources both biblical and rabbinic he fleshes out the cultural context and historical shape taken on by this Levitical commandment In so doing he restores the richness of its material content to this core articulation of our moral obligations which often threatens to sink into vacuity as a mere nostrum or rhetorical formula Goodman argues against the notion that we have this obligation simply because God demands it a position that too readily makes ethics seem arbitrary relativistic dogmatic authoritarian contingent or just unpalatable Rather he proposes that we learn much about how we ought to think about God from what we know about morals He shows that natural reasoning and appeals to scripture tradition and revelation reinforce one another in ethical deliberation For Goodman ethics and theology are not worlds apart connected only by a kind of narrow one way passage the two realms of discourse can and should inform each other Engaging the philosophers including Aristotle Spinoza and Kant and assembling three thousand years worth of Jewish textual masterpieces Goodman skillfully weaves his Gifford Lectures which he delivered in 2005 into an indispensable work business owners make regarding suppliers and customers How should bosses treat workers Teachers treat students Parents treat children Government treats citizens Power dynamics affect people on a political level a social level and a deeply personal level as well The newest volume in the Jewish Choices Jewish Voices series examines these dynamics and includes essays by such fine contributors as U S Representative Henry Waxman NBC Universal Television West Coast President Marc Graboff and author and scholar James Diamond Two Faiths, One Covenant? Eugene Korn, John Pawlikowski, 2005 In the twenty first century Jews and Christians are challenged to reconsider their theological assumptions by two inescapable truths the moral tragedy of the holocaust demands that Christian thinkers acknowledge the violent effects of theologically delegitimizing Jews and Judaism and the pervasive reality of cultural and religious pluralism calls both Christian and Jewish theologians to rethink the covenant in the presence of the Other Two Faiths One Covenant Jewish and Christian Identity in the Presence of the Other is a breakthrough work that embraces this contemporary challenge and charts a path toward fruitful interfaith dialogue The Christian and Jewish theologians in this book explore the ways that both religions have understood the covenant and reflect on how it can serve as a reservoir for a positive theological relationship between Christianity and Judaism not merely one of non belligerent tolerance but of respect and theological pluralism however limited
