Faces Of Destiny:

Faces of Destiny Precioso M. Nicanor, 1977 Faces of Destiny Joseph Ross, 1996-05-01 Destiny's Faces Irene Ayo Asuen, 2009-07 Faces in the Fire, and Other Fancies Frank W. Boreham, 1916 One More Play Dr. James M. Perdue, 2012-10-19

At age sixteen James grew up fast when his father died. He played baseball in high school and received a college scholarship. Concerned about his mother and brothers, he hoped his athletic talent would lead to a financially successful professional baseball career. Then one day while playing a pick up football game, James was seriously injured and diagnosed a quadriplegic. He asked the doctor, "How bad is it?" The doctor responded, "Bad enough. You'll never walk again and possibly not move from the neck down." Thankfully, God placed James within a family that didn't accept such advice. After years of hard work, fortitude, and perseverance, he was able to return to college. After completing his bachelor's degree, it took him three years to land a teaching contract. Prospective employers saw the wheelchair, not the applicant. As an educator, James received teaching and coaching awards. Confident he decided to return to college. After completing his doctoral degree in May 2011, James became a motivational speaker, encouraging other people to triumph over tragedies. He knows all of this would not have been possible without God in his life, his family's support, and his personal values: the desire to succeed in life and overcome adversities.

Cassandra Wilcox didn't believe in the devil. It seemed harmless enough to play along for a time, but then things started to happen—strange things that Cassie couldn't explain. What seemed like a harmless flirtation became a struggle to survive as Cassie chases a mysterious key that everyone wants, even though no one knows what it opens. With the clock running out, Cassie must rely on Nick, but can he be trusted? If she does find the key, where will it take her? What exactly is the fate that destiny has prepared for her?

Portal of Creation Andrew Brassil, 2011-11-28

Katelyn spent the next five minutes inching her way forward as she slowed her heart rate to match that of the pulsing blue spiral. She was now two-thirds of the way to the safety fence as she lifted her gaze from the pendant. The portal was iridescent and shimmering, a kaleidoscope of symmetry and energy in an intricate dance of spiraling colours. It was as though someone had taken a rainbow arch and crumpled it like a piece of paper. The topology looked infinite in complexity but seemed to follow some rules of interplay. Katelyn thought of the numerous fractal art generators she had played with, but this occupies three-dimensional space.

Who Am I? Miguel Angel Gonzalez-Torres, 2024-10-17

Identity as a concept does not appear in psychoanalysis until the work of Erik Erikson in the 1950s, but today it is considered a key factor in understanding individuals and groups. It is a concept of enormous complexity encompassing biological aspects, internalised object representations that determine the inner world of the subject, and relational aspects in the real world. Answering the question "Who am I really?" is a task that can span a lifetime. Constructing one's own identity involves social, cognitive, rational, and unconscious processes. These elements

underpin the answer to this question and its corollary What is my value As we move from looking at individuals in isolation to looking at groups we are also confronted with processes of identity construction and repair this time group identities through movements in which sexuality and its expression in the group play a major role This volume begins by exploring how issues of identity underlie many of the phenomena that attract our attention today both as clinicians and as citizens It opens with social and political phenomena such as nationalism where identity issues are most evident and then looks at individual nations such as Spain and their difficulty in maintaining a valuable identity shared by its citizens This is followed by an analysis of some aspects of social violence and the response to it electoral processes and the manipulation of citizens and also the impact on personal and group identity of the contemporary dynamics in large corporations where double speak and the infantilisation of employees have become commonplace In the second part Miguel Angel Gonzalez Torres reflects on how we can understand the sexual functioning of individuals and groups from an identity perspective emphasising the role of female sexuality as a sentinel element that signals deep group identity dynamics Gender identities and the social response to new proposals and attitudes in this area the contrast between desire and submission and the under explored complexity of the father s role in the contemporary family unit also require a look at the role of individual and collective identity Finally the focus is on artistic creation Mythical authors and mythical works always have an impact on personal and even social identity Many cinematographic works presuppose that the authors are searching for an answer to the question of identity who am I Or rather who are we The book concludes with a reflection on the reparative effect that the urban landscape can have on citizens through buildings and urban plans that relate to people and respond to their desires both conscious and unconscious The book proposes a journey through these three main areas reflecting on the importance of the construction and repair of individual and collective identity in our lives as social beings in our attitudes to sexuality and desire and in our dual role as creators and viewers of art It is the perfect book for curious minds

Through Minds' Eyes Ryan J. Hite, 2013-03-27 This is a book of history ethics and philosophy It is a record of teachings passed down through the generations from the East and the West It contains the fullness of the sealed covenant established between man and the laws of the universe As we evolve as a race we take things out of our lives because we better understand who we are and what we have achieved The divine refers to the laws of nature and the universe that guide us in our everyday lives The creator that guides our everyday lives is not something that we should worship or pray to out of fear or love it is something that remains unseen and works in natural forces to explain all the events that happen on Earth It is merely a force and it is not necessary to belong to a group to experience the light The path to the light is straight and broad The creator of the universe is a divine and intellectual force by which all things came into being The sealed covenant is a pact between all of humanity to the world around us and the universal laws that guide our everyday lives to come together and love one another and come to make the world a better place for all people This shall usher in the evolution of religious traditions and humanity to a new age of prosperity Mian
