Faces Of Change:

Faces of Change ,1976 Trafficking in Persons Report ,2004 To Remember the Faces of the Dead Thomas Maschio,1994 As he challenges classical semiological accounts of cultural representation in this ethnography of Melanesian religious phenomenology Thomas Maschio shows that ritual and poetic performance are about the enactment expression and invention of the self Maschio demonstrates how such emotions as nostalgia anger sadness and grief are creatively transformed during the course of religious performance and expression into a form of cultural memory one that juxtaposes a pattern of cultural meaning with the emotional feeling of plenitude the Melanesian Rauto call makai Evoked during initiation mourning and agricultural rites and figuring prominently in Rauto discourse about the self makai joins personal memory to patterned sets of images and meanings that Westerners would call culture Catalog of Copyright Entries. Bertenthal,2015-09-09 social neuroscience social psychology developmental psychology social cognition vision research and clinical psychology social neuroscience social psychology developmental psychology sThis comprehensive volume reviews current developments in our evolving knowledge of social attention and its processes In doing so it examines the brain behavioral bases of social attention from diverse complementary fields including disordered and healthy adult findings infant and developmental studies and social neuroscience The studies explored in this volume reflect the ongoing shift toward naturalistic context based experiments and integrative scientific approaches and away from relying solely on standardized tasks in laboratory settings In keeping with this proactive perspective the authors pose critical questions throughout the book to point readers toward the potential next wave of research developments and interventions Included in the coverage The development of social attention in human infants Neural bases for social attention in healthy humans Social attention social presence and the dual function of gaze Early departures from normative processes of social engagement in infants with Autism Spectrum Disorder Aberrant social attention and its underlying neural correlates in adults with ASD The future of social attention research The Many Faces of Social Attention will interest researchers in social neuroscience social psychology developmental psychology social cognition visual attention and cognition and clinical psychology and inspire new advances in this increasingly important area of study ocial cognition vision research and clinical psychology New Faces of Harbour Cities Şebnem Gökçen Dünder,Hilmi Evren Erdin,Neslihan Karataş,2014-10-21 New Faces of Harbour Cities explores the changing so called faces of harbour cities Whilst urban regeneration and harbour cities are discussed as related realms within the wider field of urban competitiveness few studies have attempted to give place to the broader set of economic social legal environmental and cultural dimensions of urban waterfront regeneration in harbour cities concerning not only Western and Northern Europe but also Aegean and Mediterranean cities The book provides a multi disciplinary yet holistic analysis of the port city interface as a major goal of creating new domains of entrepreneurial activity. Offering noteworthy potential, the abandonment of port districts offers new opportunities in placing brownfield port areas back into public use through their comprehensive revitalization. With the rapid growth of special interest in the waterfront regeneration of port districts, many harbour cities in the world are making an effort to give their cities a brand new face. However, there are still specific cases showing that this goal may not always find success, as is discussed for various cities in this book. Key features of the book include a highly readable discussion of the relationship between urban waterfront regeneration and port cities that both address the evolution of the port city interface and contemporary patterns of activity. The book also includes a wide range of international case studies in both developed and developing cities whilst providing a balanced view of the critical issues and related cases. While focusing on key themes, the discussion also considers the critique of issues such as risk management, legal challenges in planning, and the balance between the need for logistic activities and brownfield regeneration of port districts as a major asset in terms of urban image. As such, New Faces of Harbour Cities will serve as an important reference to academic studies that explore key themes such as urban waterfront regeneration, brownfield development, the port city interface, green energy, mixed use, regeneration, and legal aspects in planning.

The Three Faces of Leadership Mary Jo Hatch, Monika Kostera, Andrzej K. Kozminski, 2009-02-04. The Three Faces of Leadership takes readers inside the minds of CEOs who have been celebrated by the Harvard Business Review over the last decade of the twentieth century. Drawing on interviews with these famous CEOs, Mary Jo Hatch, Monika Kostera, and Andrzej K. Kozminski demonstrate how business leaders today use aesthetics specifically storytelling, dramatizing, and mythmaking to lead their companies successfully. They look at how they inspire organizations through their creativity, virtue, and faith, and thus show the faces of the artist and priest alongside the technical and rational face of the manager. The Three Faces of Leadership features clear and accessible explanations of the aesthetic philosophy of management as applied to the concepts of creativity, imagination, courage, virtue, inspiration, faith, and ethics. It presents techniques for developing these qualities as an essential part of leadership, together with the capacity to communicate them to others. Aesthetic leadership practices are linked to organizational culture, change, vision, values, and identity. In this way, the book encourages students and executives to align the creative and spiritual aspects of business with their technical training and practice.
