Failed Transition Bleak Future War And Instability In Central Asia And The Caucasus:

Failed Transition, Bleak Future? Hooman Peimani, 2002-04-30 Peimani challenges the practical indifference of many Western and non Western countries with interests in Central Asia and the Caucasus to their plight Independence in 1991 suddenly worsened all the economic and social problems of the countries of the Caucasus Azerbaijan Armenia and Georgia and Central Asia Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Their failure to address their numerous economic problems and to develop their economies has created a suitable ground for the rise of social and political popular dissent including ethnic conflicts in all these multi ethnic countries Concerned about the stability of their political systems their ruling elites have all opted for authoritarianism The prevailing intolerance of dissent and the suppression of opposition political parties have paved the way for the emergence of anti government extremist ideologies and political groups The domestic situation has become ripe for the rise of violent political activities and ethnic conflicts with a great possibility for their escalation to civil wars The ethnic structure of both the Caucasus and Central Asia makes their development into interstate wars a strong possibility The unsettled ethnic and territorial conflicts within and between countries which turned into wars in the early 1990s could easily re emerge There is a potential for the further escalation of military conflicts in those regions because of the intentional or unintentional intervention of Iran China Turkey Russia and the United States which have long term interests in the two regions Given the geographical characteristics of the Caucasus and Central Asia as a link between Asia and Europe war and instability in those regions could destabilize the two continents hosting six declared nuclear powers Of particular interest to scholars and other researchers involved with Eurasian Central Asian and Caucasian countries

Conflict and Security in Central Asia and the Caucasus Hooman Peimani, 2009-07-08 This is the only book since the fall of the Soviet Union to analyze the security of the newly emerged independent states in the strategically vital region of Central Asia and the Caucasus This insightful work maps out the possibilities and dangers that lie ahead for the nations of Central Asia and the Caucasus The book analyzes the current security situation and clarifies its historical context identifying the factors that have shaped the security of these young nations since their independence It also examines the parameters political economic ethnic energy and military that will decide the security of the region in the future The book's author tells the whole story behind the headlines when he discusses for example the real reason for the wine war of 2006 when Russia banned imports of Georgian wine for health reasons or when explaining the impact of the expanding American presence both political and military after September 11 Conflict and Security in Central Asia and the Caucasus is a primer for those who want to know more about this strategic region and essential reading for all students of world affairs

Globalization on the Margins Iveta Silova, 2011-01-01 The essays in Globalization on the Margins explore the continuities and changes in Central Asian education development since the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991 Reflecting on two decades of post socialist transformations they reveal that education systems in Central Asia responded to the rapidly changing political economic and social environment in profoundly new and unique ways Some countries moved towards Western models others went backwards and still others followed entirely new trajectories Yet elements of the old system remain Rather than viewing these post Soviet transformations in isolation Globalization on the Margins places its analyses within the global context by reflecting on the interaction between Soviet legacies and global education reform pressures in the Central Asian countries of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Instead of portraying the transition process as the influx of Western ideas into the region the authors provide new lenses to critically examine the multidirectional flow of ideas concepts and reform models within Central Asia Notwithstanding the variety of theoretical perspectives methodological approaches and conceptual lenses the authors have one thing in common both individually and collectively they reveal the complexity and uncertainty of the post Soviet transformations By highlighting the political nature of the transformation processes and the uniqueness of historical political social and cultural contexts of each particular country Globalization on the Margins portrays post Soviet education transformations as complex multidimensional and uncertain processes

Islam, Oil, and Geopolitics Elizabeth Van Wie Davis, Rouben Azizian, 2006-11-06 Since the tragic events of September 11 Central Asia has been drawn into the intense struggle of the international community against the forces of religious extremism and transnational crime The great powers were able to put aside their geopolitical differences in order to crush al Qaeda and the Taliban With the marginalization of the Taliban and the eviction of al Qaeda from Afghanistan however the tension between the great powers is notably increasing as is the discomfort of Central Asian states who find themselves their political development and their oil reserves in the middle of a renewed Great Game Islam Oil and Geopolitics is a truly international volume including chapters written by senior scholars upcoming students in the field prominent diplomats and renowned academics from Russia China the United States and the Central Asian republics They collaborate to focus on three important issues that are usually and unfortunately analyzed separately Islamic political issues energy security and geopolitical maneuvering Once an obscure and little known region Central Asia has become an important test of America's ability to consistently promote global liberal change of Russia's true foreign policy agenda and of China's readiness to translate economic power into political influence Terrorism economics and politics all converge in this strategic region with important implications for Asia and the world This significant and timely volume helps readers understand current events in Central Asia and how those events affect the rest of the world Contributions by Kamoludin Abdullaev Rouben Azizian Gaye Christoffersen Elizabeth Van Wie Davis Feng Shaolei Pan Guang Shireen Hunter Alisher Khamidov Mikhail A Konarovskiy Najibullah Lafraie Murat Laumulin Sergey I Lounev Aleksei V Malashenko Orhon Myadar Manabu Shimizu Thomas W Simons Jr Robert Smith Sergei Trough Kang Wu and Shi Yinhong Falling Terrorism and Rising Conflicts Hooman Peimani, 2003-09-30 The Taliban's fall and the massive American military and political presence in South and West Asia have created grounds for a polarization into two camps India Iran and Russia to which China is affiliated and the United States and Pakistan In Peimani's analysis their incompatible interests will push them towards confrontations with regional and international implications Contrary to expectations the fall of the Taliban did not bring peace and stability to Afghanistan The Afghan interim government is simply too weak to act as a central government this results in the re emergence of warlords turf wars and the expansion of drug trafficking This unstable situation may well result in the emergence of Taliban like groups Added to this the threat of the spillover of instability from Afghanistan into neighboring regions on the one hand and the rapid expansion of American military and political power in Central Asia the Caucasus the Persian Gulf Afghanistan and Pakistan on the other have created fear among the regional powers The stated indefinite stay of American forces well after the end of the anti terrorist war in Afghanistan has worsened that fear as it reflected the American government's plan to pursue certain strategic interests unrelated to that war Consequently as Peimani shows the regional anti terrorist coalition has disintegrated in the absence of a common objective to help focus the region Fear of the long term American objectives and those of its Pakistani ally in South and West Asia incompatible with those of the regional powers have facilitated the creation of two camps consisting of Iran India and Russia to which China is affiliated and Pakistan and the United States Respectively these implicit and explicit camps are likely to collide over their regional interests especially in the strategically important energy producing Persian Gulf and Caspian Sea regions      Empires, Post-Coloniality and Interculturality Leoncio Vega,2014-09-24 Empires Post Coloniality and Interculturality The New Challenges for Comparative Education presents some outcomes of the 25th Conference of the Comparative Education Society in Europe CESE held in Salamanca in June 2012 The central aim proposed for the debates of the Conference revolves around an intellectual effort to re think and re direct the scientific discipline of Comparative Education based on the broad cultural trends that influence the internationalization and or globalization of education Reconsidering and or re thinking our discipline involves studying the influence exerted on it by three major international forces First empires not so much in terms of discipline or governance but more related to cultural technological and knowledge perspectives This area addresses both historical process and contemporary circumstances and is expressed through networks research programs academic reform in universities supported by criteria of governance and efficiency transnational mobility and linguistic monopolies Second it is necessary to re think the influence of post colonialism in educational models and models of citizens education not only from the perspective of their impact on the curricular reorganization of education systems but also of their educational and sociocultural expression Both forms were acclaimed both in the 19th century and the 20th century within different international geographic contexts The third component of the discourse triangle is the reconsideration not only historical of the impact of migratory fluxes or better said of cultural migrations and their relationship with the reordering of curricular and educational processes in both education systems and in the social framework Education is now in a transition from monoculture to multiple cultures in the classroom This publication is structured along four themes that illustrate the academic contributions to the Conference The themes are as follows I From Empires History and Memory Comparative Studies of Education II Learning and Assessment Processes an International Perspective III Transnational Education and Colonial Approach IV International Education Comparative Dimensions      Caucasus: Oxford Bibliographies Online Research Guide Oxford University Press,2010-05-01 This ebook is a selective guide designed to help scholars and students of Islamic studies find reliable sources of information by directing them to the best available scholarly materials in whatever form or format they appear from books chapters and journal articles to online archives electronic data sets and blogs Written by a leading international authority on the subject the ebook provides bibliographic information supported by direct recommendations about which sources to consult and editorial commentary to make it clear how the cited sources are interrelated related A reader will discover for instance the most reliable introductions and overviews to the topic and the most important publications on various areas of scholarly interest within this topic In Islamic studies as in other disciplines researchers at all levels are drowning in potentially useful scholarly information and this guide has been created as a tool for
