Brown,1984 Includes section Book reviews      The Liberated Imagination Leland Ryken,2005-08-03 The arts merely entertaining or indispensable The arts belong to the Christian life And in The Liberated Imagination author Leland Ryken explores the God ordained significance of art its nature and purpose in relating to truth and everyday life For both artist and audience for student teacher and critic this book is a road to discovering how participation in art and the imagination leads to a more intense sharing in life s riches a deeper celebration of all that God has created and a new awareness of the wideness of his grace      Fictional Transfigurations of Jesus Theodore Ziolkowski,2002-04-12 Many novels revolve round the figure of Jesus Some of the finest of them are defined by Ziolkowski as fictional transfigurations of Jesus They share a modern hero patterned on Jesus the culture hero whose life consisted of the motifs of the last supper lonely agony betrayal trial and crucifixion The aesthetic challenge of adapting this most familiar story for their generation has attracted an unusual number of great writers among them Papini Kazantzakis Hesse Mann Greene Faulkner and Gore Vidal The form began with the new image of a humanized Jesus which developed in the 19th century The interest in religious paranoia and hysteria at the turn of the century instantly expanded its potentialities as novelists began to explore the theme of christomania This was followed by studies of Jesus as a mythic figure and then Marxist oriented portraits of Comrade Jesus Finally the form became inverted into parody in the Fifth Gospels in which not Jesus but Judas is the central figure      Essays on Theological Librarianship Peter De Klerk,Earle Hilgert,1980      The Predicament of Postmodern Theology Gavin Hyman,2001-01-01 Gavin Hyman explores in depth two antithetical schools of postmodern theology the radical orthodoxy of John Milbank and the nihilist textualism of Don Cupitt Hyman critiques Milbank s influential project from a postmodern perspective and then points out the major difficulties with Cupitt s approach Finally he explores the work of Mark C Taylor and Michael de Certeau to articulate a third way that leads beyond the responses of both Cupitt and Milbank      The United Methodist Periodical Index ,1961      Union Seminary Quarterly Review ,1962      Journal of Bible and Religion ,1964 Includes section Book reviews      The God That Did Not Fail Robert Royal,2010 Secular humanists and other progressives have been predicting the demise of religion for the past 250 years But they keep running into a problem those who were supposed to be liberated by the secular gospel that God is Dead aren t buying it Except for some parts of western Europe and in countries culturally destroyed by Communism secularization in the radical sense has not occurred While it has not obliterated the religious impulse however the drive towards progressive irreligion has Robert Royal believes encouraged ignorance of religion s central role in the development of the West In The God That Did Not Fail Royal offers an original reading of religion in ancient Greece and Rome of Christianity and Judaism the Middle Ages the Renaissance and Reformation the several modern Enlightenments culminating with a profound assessment of our current postmodern moment He concludes that since religion is a permanent part of human nature and of the particular character of the West our efforts should be directed not into a quixotic effort to deny the undeniable especially as we face challenges from Islamic fundamentalism but into promoting a well thought out and dynamic interplay of faith reason and modern freedoms     The Christian Scholar ,1964     Religion in Film John R. May,Michael S. Bird,1982 This carefully edited collection of essays explores in greater diversity and depth than has been attempted before the relationship between film and religion Combining perspectives from traditional film criticism and from religious studies Religion in Film asserts that it is no longer possible to view films simply in terms of their moral impact nor is it reasonable to limit religious meaning only to those films that make an explicit appeal to religious elements The essays offer a variety of theoretical reflections on the religious interpretation of film explore particular cinematic variations on the archetypal images of savior and demon analyze significant cultural trends of a religious nature related to film and assess thirteen sensibilities Altman Bergman Bunuel Chaplin Coppola Fellini Hitchcock Jutra Kubrick Peckinpah Russell Truffaut and Wertmuller The contributors provide a firm basis for analysis while respecting a variety in interpretation As the overall structure of the book leads from the universal to the particular from theory to individual directors and films so its concern with religious interpretation flows naturally from the universally religious to particular religious worldviews Among world religions Christianity claims attention in proportion to its dominant cultural influence in the West where film has more obviously flourished The insights and interpretations presented in these essays will be of importance to cinema scholars film critics and students of religion and of interest to film buffs particularly those who are sensible of the religious dimension of films
