Can she pull the pieces together to help her family return to normalcy and their thrones Say and Seal, Volume I Susan Warner, Anna Bartlett Warner, 2021-03-16 Say and Seal (Complete) Susan Warner, 1888-01-01 The street was broad with sidewalks and wide grass grown borders and a spacious track of wheels and horses feet in the centre Great elms which the early settlers planted waved their pendant branches over the peaceful highway and gave shelter and nest room to numerous orioles killdeer and robins putting off their yellow leaves in the autumn and bearing their winter weight of snow in seeming quiet assurance that spring would make amends for all So slept the early settlers in the churchyard Along the street at pleasant neighbourly intervals not near enough to be crowded nor far enough to be lonely stood the houses comfortable spacious compact with no nonsense about them The Mong lay like a mere blue thread in the distance its course often pointed out by the gaff of some little sloop that followed the bends of the river up toward Suckiaug The low rolling shore was spotted with towns and spires over all was spread the fairest blue sky and floating specks of white Not many sounds were astir the robins whistled thief like over the cherry trees the killdeer from some high twig sent forth his sweet clear note and now and then a pair of wheels rolled softly along the smooth road the rush of the wind filled up the pauses Anybody who was down by the Mong might have heard the soft roll of his blue waters any one by the light house might have heard the harsher dash of the salt waves I might go on and say that if anybody had been looking out of Mrs Derrick s window he or she might have seen what Mrs Derrick really saw For she was looking out of the window or rather through the blind at the critical moment that afternoon It would be too much to say that she placed herself there on purpose let the reader suppose what he likes At the time then that the village clock was striking four when meditative cows were examining the length of their shadows and all the geese were setting forth for their afternoon swim a stranger opened Mrs Derrick s little gate and walked in Stretching out one hand to the dog in token of good fellowship a classical mind might have fancied him breaking the cake by whose help Quickear got past the lions he went up the walk neither fast nor slow ascended the steps and gave what Mrs Derrick called considerable of a rap at the door That done he faced about and looked at the far off blue Mong Not more intently did he eye and read that fair river not more swiftly did his thoughts pass from the Mong to things beyond human ken than Mrs Derrick eyed and read his back and suffered her ideas to roam into the far off regions of speculation The light summer coat the straw hat were nothing uncommon but the silk umbrella was too good for the coat the gloves and boots altogether extravagant

Josef's Journey of Faith Josef Herz,2023-05-22 A Journey of Faith is a compilation of the life of Josef Born in 1943 during WWII while millions of soldiers died on the battlefields and millions of civilians died because of the bombing of cities and starvation Josef survived against all odds He was nursed and raised by a naturopathic treatment practicing mother utilizing alternative medicine and prayer She relieved her families sicknesses at a time when few hospitals were operating and only a small number of doctors available At the age of twenty Josef with his pregnant wife immigrated to America with not much money but by the grace of God and hard work came to be part owner a food processing company In gratitude for the grace and many blessings of God it created in me a yearning to comfort those who have been less fortunate and have fallen on hard times His hope is that this book will remind people what God can and will do no matter how humble our beginnings and circumstance Trust in Him

Life, Faith, and Trials Christine Ellison Tipton,2024-10-31 Writing this book was never intended to hurt or embarrass anyone but it is my story to tell If this story helps one person then all the blood sweat and tears have been worth it In my first marriage there was so much physical and mental abuse I feared not only for my safety but that of my children When I left the marriage I had no self esteem I felt worthless and scared In my second marriage it was a blessing for about seventeen years Then the unthinkable happened The adultery started Then started the feeling of not being good enough and helplessness How does a man love and raise three children as his own and walk away as if it s nothing Then my Lord opened yet another door for me and I walked through meeting the love of my life My mother son and granddaughter battled mental illness which was devastating to them and our family Through all of this I had a health scare which would forever change my life With all of life s ups and downs deep down I always knew that my Lord was with me and would see me through
