Faith Of A Physicist Reflections Of A Bottom Up Thinker:

The Faith of a Physicist John C. Polkinghorne, 2014-07-14 Is it possible to think like a scientist and yet have the faith of a Christian Although many Westerners might say no there are also many critically minded individuals who entertain what John Polkinghorne calls a wistful wariness toward religion they feel unable to accept religion on rational grounds yet cannot dismiss it completely Polkinghorne both a particle physicist and Anglican priest here explores just what rational grounds there could be for Christian beliefs maintaining that the quest for motivated understanding is a concern shared by scientists and religious thinkers alike Anyone who assumes that religion is based on unquestioning certainties or that it need not take into account empirical knowledge will be challenged by Polkinghorne's bottom up examination of Christian beliefs about events ranging from creation to the resurrection The author organizes his inquiry around the Nicene Creed an early statement that continues to summarize Christian beliefs He applies to each of its tenets the question What is the evidence that makes you think this might be true The evidence Polkinghorne weighs includes the Hebrew and Christian scriptures their historical contexts and the possible motivations for their having been written scientific theories and human self consciousness as revealed in literary philosophical and psychological works He begins with the words We believe and presents understandings of the nature of humanity showing for example that Cartesian theory evolution and natural selection do not tell the entire story of what humans are about especially in light of many sources that attest to our spirituality Moving through the Creed Polkinghorne considers the concept of divinity and God as creator in discussions that cover the Theory of Everything the Big Bang Theory and the possibility of divine presence within reality so that God is not simply an outside observer Chapters on Jesus analyze the different ways events are described in the Gospels and the way motivation for belief is conveyed for example how do these writings explain why a young man killed in public disgrace could inspire a following when other major world religious leaders lived to become highly revered elders in their communities Faith seeking understanding is according to Polkinghorne like the scientific quest Both are journeys of intellectual discovery in which those who survey experience from an initially chosen point of view must be open to correction in the light of further experience Religion he writes has long known that ultimately every human image of God proves to be an inadequate idol The Faith of a Physicist based on the prestigious 1993 Gifford Lectures delivers a powerful message to scientists and theologians theists and atheists alike Originally published in 1994 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The Faith of a Physicist J. C. Polkinghorne, 1996 Based on his 1993-94 Gifford Lectures Polkinghorne's task here is to ask challenging questions of the contemporary scientific worldview and to show how the range of possible answers carries beyond biology to spirit and beyond physics to God The single most important work of his theological corpus First Things Wrestling with Nature Peter Harrison, Ronald L. Numbers, Michael H. Shank, 2011-06 When and where did science begin Historians have offered different answers to these questions some pointing to Babylonian observational astronomy some to the speculations of natural philosophers of ancient Greece Others have opted for early modern Europe which saw the triumph of Copernicanism and the birth of experimental science while yet another view is that the appearance of science was postponed until the nineteenth century Rather than posit a modern definition of science and search for evidence of it in the past the contributors to Wrestling with Nature examine how students of nature themselves in various cultures and periods of history have understood and represented their work The aim of each chapter is to explain the content goals methods practices and institutions associated with the investigation of nature and to articulate the strengths limitations and boundaries of these efforts from the perspective of the researchers themselves With contributions from experts representing different historical periods and different disciplinary specializations this volume offers a fresh perspective on the history of science and on what it meant in other times and places to wrestle with nature Agnes Sanford and Her Companions William L. De Arteaga, 2015-08-17 Agnes Sanford was arguably the most original and spiritually fruitful theologians of the twentieth century Among her achievements were the discovery and development of the inner healing ministry the development of a theology of the light of God missing in Western theology and the first ever theology of nature prayers as in stilling storms She and her husband developed a school to teach ministers and lay leaders healing and deliverance prayer and the gifts of the Spirit a decade before the charismatic renewal made such things acceptable in mainline churches In spite of these achievements she is largely ignored and unrecognized today This work examines her career and shows why her theology though deeply biblical was unacceptable to orthodox critics Sanford was part of a group who worked from the 1900s through the 1960s to make healing and deliverance prayer as normal in church They had to confront the erroneous established theology of cessationism which affirmed that the healing ministry of the church was past Visions of Discovery Raymond Y. Chiao, 2011 World leading researchers including Nobel Laureates explore the most basic questions of science philosophy and the nature of existence From Yahweh to Yahoo! Doug Underwood, 2010-10-01 Presenting religion as journalism s silent partner From Yahweh to Yahoo provides a fresh and surprising view of the religious impulses at work in contemporary newsrooms Focusing on how the history of religion in the United States entwines with the growth of the media Doug Underwood argues that American journalists draw from the nation s moral and religious heritage and operate in important ways as personifications of the old religious virtues Underwood traces religion s influence on mass communication from the biblical prophets to the Protestant Reformation from the muckraker and Social Gospel campaigns of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries to the modern age of mass media While forces have pushed journalists away from identifying themselves with religion they still approach such secular topics as science technology and psychology in reverential ways Underwood thoughtful analysis covers the press's formulaic coverage of spiritual experience its failure to cover new and non-Christian religions in America and the complicity of the mainstream media in launching the religious broadcasting movement

The Dialogical Spirit Amos Yong, 2015-04-30 Contemporary proposals for Christian theology from post liberalism to Radical Orthodoxy and beyond have espoused their own methodological paradigms Those who have ventured into this domain of theological method however have usually had to stake their claims vis a vis trends in what may be called the contemporary post al age whether of the post modern post Christendom post Enlightenment post Western or post colonial varieties This volume is unique among offerings in this arena in suggesting a way forward that engages on each of these fronts and does so from a particularistic Christian perspective without giving up on Christian theology's traditional claims to universality This is accomplished through the articulation of a distinctive dialogical methodology informed by both Pentecostalism and Evangelicalism one rooted in the Christian salvation history narrative of Incarnation and Pentecost that is yet open to the world in its many and various cultural ethnic religious and disciplinary discourses Amos Yong here engages with twelve different interlocutors representing different ecumenical religious and disciplinary perspectives The Dialogical Spirit thus not only proffers a model for Christian theological method suitable for the twenty first century global context but also exemplifies this methodological approach through its interactions across the contemporary scholarly inter religious and theological landscape

Species of Origins Karl W. Giberson, Donald A. Yerxa, 2002-10-09 In Species of Origins Karl W. Giberson and Donald A. Yerxa examine America's controversial conversation about creation and evolution While noting that part of the discord stems from the growing cultural and religious diversity of the United States they argue powerfully that the real issue is the headlong confrontation between two seemingly incompatible worldviews upon which millions of Americans rely modern naturalistic science and traditional Judeo-Christian religions

The Study of Science and Religion Carl Reinhold Brakenhielm, 2018-06-06 The main aim of this book is to contribute to the relationship between science and religion This book aims to do constructive theological work out of a particular cultural context The point of departure is contemporary Swedish religion and worldviews One focus is the process of biologization i.e. how the worldviews of the general public in Sweden are shaped by biological science Is there a gap between Swedes in general and the perceptions of Swedish clergy The answer is based on sociological studies on science and religion in Sweden and the United States Furthermore the book contains a study of Swedish theologians from Nathan Soderblom to the present Archbishop Antje Jackelen and their shifting understanding of the relation between science and religion The philosophical aspects of this relation are given special consideration What models of the relation inform the contemporary scholarly discussion Are science and religion in conflict separate or in mutual creative interaction

Miracles : 2 Volumes Craig S. Keener,2011-11-01 Christianity Today 2013 Book Award Winner Winner of The Foundation for Pentecostal Scholarship s 2012 Award of Excellence 2011 Book of the Year Christianbook com s Academic Blog Most modern prejudice against biblical miracle reports depends on David Hume s argument that uniform human experience precluded miracles Yet current research shows that human experience is far from uniform In fact hundreds of millions of people today claim to have experienced miracles New Testament scholar Craig Keener argues that it is time to rethink Hume s argument in light of the contemporary evidence available to us This wide ranging and meticulously researched two volume study presents the most thorough current defense of the credibility of the miracle reports in the Gospels and Acts Drawing on claims from a range of global cultures and taking a multidisciplinary approach to the topic Keener suggests that many miracle accounts throughout history and from contemporary times are best explained as genuine divine acts lending credence to the biblical miracle reports

Moritz,2017-11-13 After a bibliographic introduction highlighting various research trends in science and religion Joshua Moritz explores how the current academic and conceptual landscape of theology and science has been shaped by the history of science even as theology has informed the philosophical foundations of science The first part assesses the historical interactions of science and the Christian faith looking at the cases of human dissection in the Middle Ages and the Galileo affair in order to challenge the common notion that science and religion have always been at war Part two investigates the nature of the interaction between science and Christian theology by exploring the role that metaphysical presuppositions and theological concepts have played and continue to play within the scientific process Radical Embodiment David H Nikkel,2011-05-26 Radical embodiment refers to an epistemology and anthropology fundamentally rooted in our bodies as always in correlation with our natural and social environments All human rationality meaning and value arise not only instrumentally but also substantively from this embodiment in the world Radical embodiment reacts against Enlightenment mind body dualism as well as its monistic offshoots including the physicalism that reduces everything to component matter energy at the expense of subjectivity and meaning It also rejects certain forms of postmodernism that reinscribe modern dualisms David H Nikkel develops and explores this perspective of radical embodiment by examining varieties of modern and postmodern theology and the nature and role of tradition in terms of linguistic and non linguistic experience the religion and science dialogue on the nature of consciousness and the immanent and transcendent aspects of God Beloved Community Hinlicky, Paul R.,2015-05-04 An original comprehensive system of theology especially apropos to the post Christendom North American context In this scholarly work Paul Hinlicky transcends the impasse between dogmatic and systematic theology by articulating and arguing a single cognitive claim God is the One who has determined to redeem the creation by the missions of his Son and Spirit Deploying an unusual Spirit Son Father trinitarian scheme Hinlicky treats the problem of the knowledge of God and the nature of the theological discipline and he proceeds to carefully develop his system of theology through expansive wideranging argumentation Each main part of his work includes discussion of the ecumenical convergences in doctrine gained over the last generation and exploration of interreligious dialogues especially with Judaism and Islam Throughout the book Hinlicky engages with other theologians particularly with Robert Jenson s Systematic Theology and concludes each major section with a discussion of an alternate perspective on the subject

Transcendence and Spatiality of the Triune Creator Chan Ho Park,2005 Since Augustine many philosophers and theologians have discussed the relation of God to time whereas the relation between God and space has been rarely discussed This book deals with the relationship of God to space Divine transcendence is one important aspect of the Christian God However God is also immanent in the world of space and time The author investigates the concept of divine spatiality and presents case studies of three modern theologians Torrance Pannenberg and Moltmann He also analyses divine spatiality by using Dyrness s three categories relationship agency and embodiment
