The Scholarly Vocation and the Baptist Academy Roger A. Ward, David P. Gushee, 2008 Offers a look at how Baptists have formed and sustained scholarly life in America This title is based on a group of Baptist scholars interested in critically examining the history challenges and possibilities of a scholarly life in the Baptist Academy Christian Faith and English Language Teaching and Learning Mary Shepard Wong, Carolyn Kristjansson, Zoltán Dörnyei, 2013 This book explores the possible role and impact of teachers and students faith in the English language classroom Restoring the Vocation of a Christian College Brad Pardue, Andrew T. Bolger, 2022-05-19 Restoring the Vocation of a Christian College examines the vocation of a Christian institution of higher learning to faithfully educate students and how individual Christian teachers and scholars can participate in this process no matter their discipline It surveys and engages developments over the last few decades in Christian worldview studies Christian pedagogy character formation and vocational reflection Through individual essays by college administrators cocurricular staff and faculty from a wide range of disciplines it provides both thoughtful reflection and concrete application of these often abstract concepts to specific institutional settings and the actual classroom A Critical Examination of the Doctrine of Revelation in Evangelical Theology Carisa A. Ash, 2015-07-14 experience How God reveals himself is an important matter for Christians especially evangelicals For too long Carisa Ash contends evangelicals have rightly affirmed that God reveals through the created world but then they functionally neglect such revelation In this monograph Ash offers a corrective to this practice by presenting a theology of revelation that explores the commonalities between various forms of revelation world written and spoken word and Incarnate Word Particularly aimed at theologians interested in theological method Ash s study will also benefit people interested in faith and learning or interdisciplinary integration Ash argues that evangelicals must strive to align more closely their affirmations and their practice Her critique of current practices in theological method and integration along with the proposed theology of revelation are designed to help move the conversation forward The Future of Baptist Higher Education Donald D. Schmeltekopf, Dianna M. Vitanza, 2006 The Future of Baptist Higher Education investigates four key issues that inform Baptist efforts at higher education the denominational conflict that has afflicted Baptists since the 1980s the secularization of higher education in America the dominance of the market driven tendencies in American higher education today and the meaning of Christian higher education but more specifically the meaning of Baptist higher education This volume clearly illustrates that the meaning of Baptist and Christian higher education as with the Christian life itself is far more complex than any one imperial interpretation Conceiving the Christian College Duane Litfin, 2004-09-24 This book is designed to help those who are interested in Christian higher education explore anew the unique features opportunities and contemporary challenges of one distinct type of educational institution the Christian college What distinguishes Conceiving the Christian College from the many other books on this subject is its incisive discussion of a set of crucial ideas widely misunderstood in the world of Christian higher education Now serving in his eleventh year as president of one of the nation s foremost Christian colleges Duane Litfin is well placed to ask pressing questions regarding faith based education What is unique about Christian colleges What is required to sustain them How do they maintain their bearing in the tumultuous intellectual seas of the twenty first century Litfin's themes are large but they are meant to refocus the conceptual challenges to Christian education in ways that will strengthen both the academic environment of today s Christian colleges and their impact on culture at large Philosophy, Who Needs It? Jason D. Crowder, 2016-03-02 Too often skeptics charge Christians with having a blind faith Unfortunately believers have added fuel to the charges of skeptics by speaking of their faith illogically But the Christian faith is not a blind faith In fact biblical faith is never a blind irrational faith Christianity rests firmly on the stone that was rejected by the builders which has become the cornerstone Jesus Christ Acts 4 11 Living biblically requires thinking biblically just as to think biblically entails to live biblically as Winfried Corduan notes in the Foreword As followers of Christ believers cannot separate biblical thinking and biblical living These two behaviors are eternally connected not only in the person of Jesus Christ but they stem from the eternal being of God the Father and his eternal truth Christ mandates that his followers love God with their entire being heart soul mind and strength Mark 12 30 How are believers to go about living out this biblical mandate Christian faith is a warranted belief This is why it is so essential that Christians recognize the value and importance of philosophy and its proper place in Christendom and in the Christian's walk The Legacy of John Paul II Tim Perry, 2007-10-16 The papacy of John Paul II was phenomenal and not least for the fact that many evangelicals came to honor and respect him Tim Perry calls on some of the best evangelical minds to offer their assessments of the thought of John Paul II as expressed in his major encyclicals Renewing Minds David S. Dockery, 2008 Renewing Minds encourages readers to better serve God the church and society by taking part in or supporting Christian higher education

The Motif of Hospitality in Theological Education Davina Hui Leng Soh, 2016-12-14 These are exciting times in theological education as old models are being reassessed and teachers and schools are looking for guidance on how best to do the job and how to profitably relate to students in the ministry of teaching Increasingly the motif of hospitality is being used to guide our thinking and practice but it needs a careful assessment if it is to be of maximum use to theological education today This book provides an integrated biblical theological and educational rationale to inform theological educators of the place of hospitality in enhancing their quest to create more effective learning environments for the holistic formation of students Dr Davina Soh explores key elements of hospitality such as inclusion presence care and reciprocity which when combined can deliver the best possible educational experience for theological students and transform an entire institution Emerging Voices Barry L. Saylor, 2020-11-30 Recent research has demonstrated a loss of verbalization or grasp of the Christian language in the emerging generations of Western Christianity As contemporary culture rejects Christian identity more and more subsequent generations are losing the ability to proclaim their faith well This is particularly troubling for those on the theological campus seeking to train and disciple today s emerging adults as the next generation of ministers Emerging Voices attempts to identify factors behind this phenomenon and to map out a better way forward particularly for the theological campus As contemporary issues such as the elimination of faith from public discourse and the ubiquitous influence of technology shape students in the years before college what can be done to reclaim the Christian language for students tasked with preaching the gospel This project combines a deep dive into some of the leading research regarding religion and spirituality in youth and emerging adulthood alongside of a focused study group In uniting these approaches Emerging Voices attempts to give expression to those who most need to be heard in the coming decades of the Christian church in Western culture A Theology of Higher Education Mike Higton, 2012-03-16 In this book Mike Higton provides a constructive critique of Higher Education policy and practice in the UK the US and beyond from the standpoint of Christian theology He focuses on the role universities can and should play in forming students and staff in intellectual virtue in sustaining vibrant communities of inquiry and in serving the public good He argues both that modern secular universities can be a proper context for Christians to pursue their calling as disciples to learn and to teach and that Christians can contribute to the flourishing of such universities as institutions devoted to learning for the common good In the process he sets out a vision of the good university as secular and religiously plural as socially inclusive and as deeply and productively entangled with the surrounding society Along the way he engages with a range of historical examples the medieval University of Paris the University of Berlin in the nineteenth century and John Henry Newman's work in Oxford and Dublin and with a range of contemporary writers on Higher Education from George Marsden to Stanley Hauerwas and from David Seeing the Light Samuel Schuman, 2010-01-18 Samuel Schuman examines the place of religious Ford to Rowan Williams colleges and universities particularly evangelical Protestant institutions in contemporary American higher education Many faith based schools are flourishing They have rigorous academic standards impressive student recruitment ambitious philanthropic goals and well maintained campuses and facilities Yet much of the U S higher education community ignores them or accords them little respect Seeing the Light considers instead what can be learned from the viability of these institutions The book begins with a history of post secondary U S education from the perspective of the religious traditions from which it arose After focusing briefly on nonevangelical institutions Schuman next looks at three Roman Catholic institutions the College of New Rochelle Villanova University and Thomas Aguinas College He then profiles evangelical colleges and universities in detail discovering the factors contributing to their success These institutions range from nationally recognized to little known from rich to poor with both highly selective and open admission requirements Interviews with key administrators faculty and students reveal the challenges the successes and the goals of these institutions Schuman concludes that these schools Baylor University Anderson University New Saint Andrews College Calvin College North Park University George Fox University Westmont College Oral Roberts University Northwestern College and Wheaton College and others like them offer important and timely lessons for the broader higher education community

Theology After Christendom Joshua T. Searle, 2018-02-14 Christianity must be understood not as a religion of private salvation but as a gospel movement of universal compassion which transforms the world in the power of God's truth Amid several major global crises including the rise of terrorism and religious fundamentalism and a sudden resurgence of political extremism Christians must now face up fearlessly to the challenges of living in a post truth age in which deceitful politicians present their media spun fabrications as alternative facts This book is an attempt to enact a transformative theology for these changing times that will equip the global Christian community to take a stand for the gospel in an age of cultural despair and moral fragmentation The emerging post Christendom era calls for a new vision of Christianity that has come of age and connects with the spiritual crisis of our times In helping to make this vision a reality Searle insists that theology is not merely an academic discipline but a transformative enterprise that changes the world Theology is to be experienced not just behind a desk in an armchair or in a church but also in hospitals in foodbanks in workplaces and on the streets Theology is to be Love Your God with All Your Mind J.P.
