The Natural Wealth of Nations David Roodman, 2014-04-08 Every year the world's governments spend over US 700 billion subsidizing activities that harm the environment. The Natural Wealth of Nations shows how cutting these wasteful subsidies can actually boost the economy, save tax, and help the environment. By raising taxes on harmful activities like air pollution whilst cutting taxes on payrolls and profits, pollution is discouraged and both work and investment boosted. In a comprehensive global survey, The Natural Wealth of Nations provides examples from Sweden to Spain to Malaysia of the growing number of countries that are successfully using these market-based approaches to clean up their environments. This is an accessible practical book offering concrete proposals for cleaning up the world's environment and overcoming ecological ignorance. Hazardous Handouts John C. Ryan, Rhys Roth, Northwest Environment Watch (Organization), 1995

The Car and the City Alan Thein Durning, 1996 Many people recognize that the increasing number of automobiles is choking our cities, polluting our air, endangering our streets, and isolating us from our communities. This book shows how resurgent cities could make cars work again and even solve problems ranging from oil wars to urban decay, rising seas to violent crime. Not just an analytic approach to economic and environmental urban concerns, The Car and the City is an offbeat journey through three great metropolises: Seattle, Portland, and Vancouver by car, train, bicycle, and foot. It's a fascinating conversation with people who are quietly but radically rearranging the furniture of the modern city. La situación del mundo 1997, 1997 Los informes anuales sobre la situación en el mundo producidos por el Worldwatch Institute se han convertido en una de las fuentes de análisis e información sobre medio ambiente más destacadas en el plano internacional. Realizados a partir de 1984, son ampliamente utilizados por entidades oficiales y no gubernamentales debido a su actualidad y rigurosidad. La entrega correspondiente al presente año incluye los siguientes trabajos: El legado de Río, Ante la perspectiva de la escasez de alimentos, La conservación de las tierras de cultivo, Prevención de las enfermedades crónicas en los países en desarrollo, La ecología del cambio climático, La valoración de los servicios de la naturaleza, La transformación de la seguridad, La reforma de las subvenciones, Las lecciones de la experiencia del ozono. Paying the Piper David Malin Roodman, 1996

Perverse Subsidies Norman Myers, Outlines hundreds of examples of perverse subsidies that are granted at the expense of the environment. Addresses the implications of perverse subsidies in six leading sectors and shows how these subsidies undercut economies and environments alike. State of the Northwest John C. Ryan (Environmentalist), Northwest Environment Watch (Organization), 1994 Célébrations du 50e anniversaire de l'UICN, 1999 Imaginar el mundo del mañana : talleres del Simposio, 1999 Report summaries United States. Environmental Protection Agency, 1983

Environment in the 21st Century and New Development Patterns K. Matsushita,2013-06-29 Economic growth after World War II was made possible through dramatic increases in the use of material resources and energy It is apparent that current development patterns followed by industrialized countries are causing serious environmental problems and that they are neither ecologically nor socially sustainable In recent years many Asian developing countries which have suffered from poverty for decades are experiencing high rates of economic growth by introducing material intensive production and consumption patterns The globalization trends magnify on a global scale the problems associated with current development patterns How can we transform existing economic and social systems into more environmentally benign and sustainable ones This book presents a number of issues that must be considered when discussing new development patterns which are environmentally friendly and socially fair It covers concepts of new development patterns new energy and water supply sustainable agriculture information technology and environment information disclosure and poverty alleviation Audience This volume will be of interest to those who are involved in innovative interdisciplinary policy studies on environment and development particularly in Asia and the Pacific region Also those who are interested in realizing sustainable development through agriculture water supply information technology chemical industry and sustainability issues in China and India
