Henry James Untried Years 1843 187:

Henry James: The untried years, 1843-1870 Leon Edel, 1953 Henry James's Psychology of Experience Granville H. Jones, 2019-01-29 No detailed description available for Henry James's Psychology of Experience Insurgency and Counterinsurgency in the Nineteenth Century Mark Lawrence, 2020-12-17 Insurgency and Counterinsurgency in the Nineteenth Century examines insurgency and counterinsurgency across the globe in the nineteenth century The volume includes chapters from distinguished and rising historians from Europe North and South America and covers irregular wars in Spain Ireland France Latin America China USA Africa Central Asia and Burma The authors explore links between insurgencies and nationalism including learning curves and emulation in counterinsurgency With a special emphasis on non Western warfare this volume includes case studies such as the Katanga and White Lotus rebellions largely unknown to Western readers The military history of the nineteenth century thus reveals much more than the symmetrical warfare of Napoleon Grant and Moltke This volume shows the commonalities of responses more than their differences and refracts these through themes which crop up repeatedly in different times and places These themes include common problems and solutions the challenge of commanding local intelligence networks public opinion millenarianism magic and religion technology hearts and minds the legal framework of state violence racial stereotypes and patterns of forgetting and remembering guerrilla conflicts The first recent study to examine Western and non Western warfare in equal measure stressing the prevalence of commonalities between guerrilla warfare and counterinsurgency across the globe Insurgency and Counterinsurgency in the Nineteenth Century will be of great interest to scholars of military and strategic studies as well as modern military history It was originally published as a special issue of Small Wars Insurgencies Tragedy in the Victorian Novel Jeannette King, 1978-01-26 How does one dominant literary genre fall into decline to be superseded by another The classic instance is the rise of the novel in the nineteenth century and how it came to embody the tragic vision of life which had previously been the domain of drama Dr King focuses on three novelists George Eliot Thomas Hardy and Henry James All three while trying to offer a realistic picture of life in prose narrative wrote with the concept of tragedy clearly in mind The concern was widespread and Victorian literary critics found themselves discussing the problem of how one might reconcile concepts as dissimilar as tragedy and realism Their criticism provides Dr King with her starting point Dr King examines the work of her three authors in relation to the large concepts of traditional tragic thought and also examines how the form of specific novels was affected by their differing ideas of tragedy Henry James Leon Edel, 1953 Henry James's American Girl Virginia C. Fowler, 1984 The figure of the American girl is one that surfaces regularly in Henry James's fiction Most prominent in the international novels where the compelling portrait of an Isabel Archer or a Maggie Verver commands attention James's girl is a complex character eager for experience yet crippled by fear hungry for selfhood yet tragically incapable of achieving it In this lucid exploration of James's young women Professor Fowler examines the psychology literary function and cultural roots of the American girl The result is a new perspective on James's fiction and a reassessment of his views on feminine identity sexual relations and American culture that will be of interest and value to all students of American literature women's studies and Henry James

Writing Life Mhairi Pooler, 2015-12-01 Writers' lives are endlessly fascinating for the reading public and literary scholars alike By examining the self-representation of authors across the schism between Victorianism and Modernism via the First World War this study offers a new way of evaluating biographical context and experience in the individual creative process at a crucial point in world and literary history Writing Life explores how and why a select group of early twentieth-century writers including Edmund Gosse Henry James Siegfried Sassoon and Dorothy Richardson adapted the model of the German Romantic Künstlerroman or artist narrative for their autobiographical writing Instead of misreading these autobiographies as historical documentation Pooler examines how these authors conduct a Romantic style conversation about literature through literature as a means of reconfirming the role of the artist in the face of shifting values and the cataclysm of the Great War

Acting Beautifully Sigi Jottkandt, 2012-02-01 What is the matter with the women in Henry James In The Portrait of a Lady The Wings of the Dove and his short story The Altar of the Dead one woman returns to a monster of a husband another dies rather than confront the truth of her lover's engagement while yet another stakes her all on having a candle lit for a dead lover only to promptly reject it Exploring these strange choices Sigi Jottkandt argues that the singularity of these acts lies in their ethical nature and that the ethical principle involved cannot be divorced from the question of aesthetics She combines close readings of James with suggestive tours through Kantian aesthetics and set theory to uncover the aesthetic underpinning of the Lacanian ethical act which has been largely overlooked in the current drive to discover a Cartesian origin for the subject as the subject of science
