Gijselaers,Richard G. Milter,2013-03-29 This book tackles the latest challenges in education in the business sector outlining how the students of the future must be taught to adapt to a highly fluid business environment in which their ability to acquire new skills and collaborate with others is more important than possessing facts Taking its cue from the growing body of theory advocating multi faceted and often multilingual education the book focuses on competences and collaborative team oriented project based learning Beginning with a set of studies on the differences in individual learning and ways of supporting students the volume moves on to a collection of papers on learning at the level of the group which include material on team learning and the sharing of knowledge in problem based learning The editors view these factors in education as an inevitable feature of pedagogy reflecting the fact that knowledge and its acquisition is increasingly collaborative in our working lives and especially in business A final section applies the principles developed in the first two parts at an organizational level evaluating the enormous implications these developments in our ideas about learning have for the educational institutions charged with teaching future generations Combining research and theory with practical factors in business education and training the volume provides wide ranging perspectives on developing best practice in the sector

Facilitating Learning in Online Environments Steven R. Aragon, 2010-04-22 This volume presents models methods and strategies that facilitate and promote learning within online environments Arguing that success in online environments is dependent on the role of autonomy in order to create sustained and enduring learners the introductory chapter presents current research and identifies ways through which autonomous learning is established within the learning environment Contributors demonstrate how quality online programs are made up of a blend of technology pedagogy organization strategy and vision explore the concept of online social presence as a significant factor in improving instructional effectiveness and contributing to a feeling of community among learners and offer strategies for instructors facing the new challenges and opportunities of the online educational experience Two chapters examine master's level online programming by exploring a model through which the design template for one such program was built and presenting the actual experiences students who completed master's degrees online Editor Steven R. Aragon joins his colleagues to make the case that instructional designers need ways to support quality teaching and learning within online environments that take into account the variability in student learning styles provide external motivation for the isolated students and build community collaboration and communications among learners Finally contributors from the field analyze the impact that online technology is having on training and development initiatives of business and industry and demonstrate how current trends have cultivated an environment open to online learning This is the 100th issue of the Jossey Bass series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education
