

FACING THE FUTURE

This volume reflects Terence Rosenman's lifelong concern for the current reality of the American Jewish community and its future in a world of rapid change. He sought answers to difficult questions in all facets of Jewish life as Jewish identity, culture, traditions, assimilation, race, family life, through careful research and analysis. In place of simple platitudes and emotional diatribes, what is provided are well-reasoned visions which help us prepare ourselves and American Jews for the future designed to enhance Jewish life.

Throughout, many of which were specifically contributed to the volume, cover a broad range of interests: demography, culture, assimilation, the Jewish educational leadership, Jewish religious observance, and Jewish identity and education. Some articles give you a look at Jewish Rosenman presented through the American Jewish Community's Jewish Community Action Department, and most of his own articles which emphasize his thinking on the Jewish family and Jewish education are included. The personal articles by family and friends which are in the volume help to capture Terence's personality and his commitment to Jewish life.

The reader may find these volumes as detailed treatments of Jewish issues and the list of contributors reads like a "Who's Who" of contemporary Jewish sociological and demographic studies. Nathan Glazer, Irving M. Kertov, Charles Liebman, Terence Rosenman, David S. Sussman, and Sergio DellaPergola, among others, have written Jewish identity, Jewish education, and Jewish culture.

the future     Postmodern Love in the Contemporary Jewish Imagination Efraim Sicher, 2022-03-17 Offering a radical critique of contemporary Israeli and diaspora fiction by major writers of the generation after Amos Oz and Philip Roth this book asks searching questions about identity formation in Jewish spaces in the twenty first century and posits global transnational identities instead of the bipolar Israel diaspora model The chapters put into conversation major authors such as Jonathan Safran Foer Nicole Krauss Michael Chabon and Nathan Englander with their Israeli counterparts Zeruya Shalev Eshkol Nevo and Etgar Keret and shows that they share common themes and concerns Read through a postmodern lens their preoccupation with failed marriage and failed ideals brings to the fore the crises of home nation historical destiny and collective memory in contemporary secular Jewish culture At times provocative at others iconoclastic this innovative study must be read by anyone concerned with Jewish culture and identity today whether scholars students or the general reader The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license     The New Republic Herbert David Croly, 1922     In the Face of Adversity Thomas Nolden, 2023-02-20 In the Face of Adversity explores the dynamics of translating texts that articulate particular notions of adverse circumstances The chapters illustrate how literary records of often painful experiences and dissenting voices are at risk of being stripped of their authenticity when not carefully handled by the translator how cultural moments in which the translation of a text that would have otherwise fallen into oblivion instead gave rise to a translator who enabled its preservation while ultimately coming into their own as an author as a result and how the difficulties the translator faces in intercultural or transnational constellations in which prejudice plays a role endangers projects meant to facilitate mutual understanding The authors address translation as a project of making available and preserving a corpus of texts that would otherwise be in danger of becoming censored misperceived or ignored They look at translation and adaptation as a project of curating textual models of personal communal or collective perseverance and they offer insights into the dynamics of cultural inclusion and exclusion through a series of theoretical frameworks as well as through a set of concrete case studies drawn from different cultural and historical contexts The collection also explores some of the venues that artists have pursued by transferring artistic expressions from one medium into another in order to preserve and disseminate important experiences in different cultural settings media and arts     The Reform Advocate , 1912     The Jewish Woman , 1946     Jewish Wayfarers in Modern China Matthias Messmer, 2012 Jewish Wayfarers in Modern China focuses on the many extraordinary contacts between East and West in China during the 20th century Through a collection of short biographies situated in the context of Chinese and Western history it offers a panoramic view of China as experienced by many different persons of Jewish origins during their sojourn in the Middle Kingdom The book offers a journey across vast reaches of space and back through time Our impressions of visits to China have often been biased by sensational journalism Hollywood films and literary entertainment that have distorted the reality of this vast country Jewish

A Revised Consent Model for the Transplantation of Face and Upper Limbs: Covenant Consent James L. Benedict, 2017-04-25 This book supports the emerging field of vascularized composite allotransplantation VCA for face and upper limb transplants by providing a revised ethically appropriate consent model which takes into account what is actually required of facial and upper extremity transplant recipients In place of consent as permission giving waiver or autonomous authorization the standard approaches this book imagines consent as an ongoing mutual commitment i e as covenant consent The covenant consent model highlights the need for a durable personal relationship between the patient subject and the care provider researcher Such a relationship is crucial given the recovery period of 5 years or more for VCA recipients The case for covenant consent is made by first examining the field of vascularized composite allotransplantation the history and present understandings of consent in health care and the history and use of the covenant concept from its origins through its applications to health care ethics today This book explains how standard approaches to consent are inadequate in light of the particular features of facial and upper limb transplantation In contrast use of the covenant concept creates a consent model that is more appropriate ethically for these very complex surgeries and long term recoveries
