Among the stories this year: In a moving story about faith and the hope for redemption a trio of strangers keeps vigil in a hospital waiting room for a man who has miraculously survived a fall from twenty four storeys. A glamorous party provides the backdrop for a monologue at once deftly comic and uncomfortably familiar by a wannabe poet desperate to impress. When a disgruntled employee decides to take measures into her own hands she is unprepared for the consequences. For almost two decades The Journey Prize Stories has been taking the pulse of Canada's literary scene presenting the best stories published each year by some of our most exciting up and coming writers. Among the stories this year: A holdup marks the beginning of a spectacularly ill fated romance between a free spirit and a man with the heart and soul of a criminal born. When her young imagination is captured by a photo of a Hungarian refugee child a girl becomes determined to make the orphan a part of her family's life. In a story set in Venice amid complications both legal and romantic a Canadian expat comes to understand the restless path his father's life has taken. A boy discovers something about fame, mortality and triple force fields when the kids in his neighbourhood vie for a coveted spot on an arcade game's high scores list. In a modern fairytale with a twist a woman who is always cold is given an unexpected gift. A near drowning in the Indian Ocean reveals difficult truths to a documentary filmmaker during what is supposed to be a career advancing trip.

The Notebooks Michelle Berry, 2010-08-13. In the tradition of the Paris Review The Notebooks is an exciting collection of original short fiction and in depth interviews from Canada's most celebrated and innovative young writers. A provocative examination of the writer's life in the twenty first century. The Notebooks charts a new direction in Canadian literature. It brings together a unique collection of accomplished fiction ranging from the classic storytelling of Michael Redhill to the more experimental style of Lynn Crosbie. In his keenly observed story Serotonin Russell Smith captures the sensuous pleasures and dizzying energy of the rave scene. Big Trash Day a hybrid of fiction and poetry by Esta Spalding is a devastating commentary on poverty and a striking portrait of the shorthand that develops within intimate relationships. In a sample from a novel in progress Yann Martel shares the process through which rough sketches become realized characters and disparate moments become fleshed out scenes. The interviews remarkable for their honesty and insight bring us into the writer's world revealing the passion and inspiration that motivates these young writers as well as the hardships they endure in pursuit of their art. By asking thoughtful and probing questions Michelle Berry and Natalee Caple elicit frank and intriguing details of how writers work, structure their days and order their physical space to facilitate the act of writing. Many of the authors here explore the impact of technological innovation and mass culture on contemporary fiction as well as the influence of various art forms on the way they imagine stories The writers in The Notebooks speak candidly about their political engagement their passion for writing and their desire to produce art that will last Contributors Catherine Bush Eliza Clark Lynn Coady Lynn Crosbie Steven Heighon Yann Martel Derek McCormack Hal Niedzviecki Andrew Pyper Michael Redhill Eden Robinson Russell Smith Esta Spalding Michael Turner R M Vaughan Michael Winter Marnie Woodrow These seventeen writers come from different backgrounds different parts of the country have different lifestyles and write very different kinds of fiction yet the connections between them are still plentiful As a group they are highly engaged with the world around them politically sophisticated intelligent modest about their potential success and passionate about the act of writing We hope that The Notebooks inspires an ongoing discussion with young writers at work and answers some of the silent questions that readers have longed to ask From the Introduction

Translating Canada Luise von Flotow, Reingard M. Nischik, 2007-10-25 In the last thirty years of the twentieth century Canadian federal governments offered varying degrees of support for literary and other artistic endeavour A corollary of this patronage of culture at home was an effort to make the resulting works available for audiences elsewhere in the world Current developments in the study of translation and its influence as cultural transfer have made possible new assessments of such efforts to project a national image abroad Translating Canada examines cultural materials exported by Canada in addition to those selected for acquisition by German publishers theatres and other culture brokers It also considers the motivations of particular translators and the reception by German reviewers of works by a wide variety of Canadian writers novelists and poets playwrights and children s authors literary and social critics Above all the book maps for its readers a number of significant though frequently unsuspected roles that translation assumes in the intercultural negotiation of national images and values The chapters in this collection will be of value to students teachers and scholars in a number of fields Informed lay readers too will appreciate the authors insights into the different ways in which translation has contributed to German reception of Canadian books and culture
