threat and someone he wishes to prove the lesser for both the betrayal of their southern roots in acting and of Dixie as well especially of Maryland Oh Maryland a song Booth ever hums or sings out like a political fanatic The play ends not in Garretts Barn but in a dream on the deck of the USS Levant where Booth meets Philip Nolan in the fog on the deck Yes Philip Nolan in the Man Without a Country a book by Everett Hale a book Booth had read in his recent days The sets need not be elaborate since this one like Shakespeare plays themselves requires little for it relies on the language which Booth himself as well as Lincoln no less and admirer of the Bard bring to the fore of attention making all extravagant scenery an option Most necessary as a set piece however is the large full body mirror in the center stage that serves both as a swinging door from the realm of one White House room to another as well as a conduit into the others prescience at first and later full consciousness and thru which both protagonist and antagonist speak unknowingly right at one another the while more so engaged in monologues to themselves and yet directing other lines more poignantly at their adversary who likewise happens to be at his own mirror prepping and primping and worse imagining the ominous or oppressive other Both Lincoln and Booth begin within their individual personas as characters in the real play of their lives and wind up through the vicissitudes of the times and the pressures of political warfare taking assumed characters unconsciously and yet not without their true natures which brought them both to the catastrophe of their tragic fates within this drama or play of their real lives a fact that amazed me during or later on in my research for this work William Vincent author If there is any staging or adaptational interest in this script or in any others I have as yet been unable to publish I wrote myself into poverty in the love and the belief in them Please visit www.beggarmuse.yahoo.com for a list and or discussions or arrangements Leave a message Silk ,1924 Handbook of Museum Textiles, Volume 2 Seiko Jose, Sabu Thomas, Pintu Pandit, Ritu Pandey, 2022-11-29 Handbook of Museum Textiles Textiles have been known to us throughout human history and played a vital role in the lives and traditions of people Clothing was made by using different materials and methods from natural fibers There are different varieties of textiles out of which certain traditional textiles archaeological findings or fragments are of cultural historical and sentimental value such as tapestries embroideries flags shawls etc These kinds of textiles due to their historical use and environmental factors require special attention to guarantee their long term stability Textile conservation is a complex challenging and multi faceted discipline and it is one of the most versatile branches of conservation Volume II of the Handbook of Museum Textiles provides precise instruction for conservation techniques to preserve the textile heritage more scientifically and technologically Additionally the book covers the most modern techniques used to characterize archaeological textiles and dyes Progress and innovation in nanotechnology based interventions in museum textiles are emphasized Chapters cover the general introduction to biological damage caused by physical and chemical agents and their prevention methods Information on microscopy and characterization of historical textiles ancient dyes and prints is highlighted Several aspects of assessment of degradation repair and stabilization of antique textiles are presented in depth Experimental research methods for
