Uncanny Fairy Tales Francesca Arnavas, 2024-05-31 There are fairy tales that surprise destabilise or even shock us these are uncanny fairy tales that manipulate familiar stories in creative and bewildering ways in order to express new meanings This work analyses these tales basing its approach on a reformulation of Freud's concept of the uncanny Through a cognitive outlook the employed theoretical framework provides new perspectives on the study of experimental literary fairy tales Considering English language literature complex and unsettling reinterpretations of the fairy tale discourse began to appear during the Victorian Age later resurfacing as a postmodern trend This research individuates uncanny related narrative techniques and cognitive responses as means to decodify and explore these tales and as ways to discover unseen connections between Victorian and postmodern texts The new theorisation of the uncanny is linked with three subconcepts mirror hybridity and wonder which function as tools to describe and investigate the cognitive and emotional entanglements characterising enigmatic and disorienting fairy tales

A Complete Identity Rachel E. Johnson, 2014-05-28 This book offers an examination of the hero figure in the work of G A Henty 1832 1902 and George MacDonald 1824 1905 and a reassessment of oppositional critiques of their writing It demonstrates the complementary characteristics of the hero figure which construct a complete identity commensurate with the Victorian ideal hero The relationship between the expansion of the British Empire and youthful heroism is established through investigation of the Victorian political social and religious milieu the construct of the child and the construct of the hero A connection between the exotic geographical space of empire and the unknown psychological space is drawn through examination of representation of the other in the work of Henty and MacDonald This book demonstrates that Henty s work is more complex than the stereotypically linear masculine imperialistic critique of his stories as historical realism allows and that MacDonald s work displays more evidence of historical embedding and ideological interpellation than the critical focus on his work as fantasy and fairy tale considers Greater understanding of the effect of this heroic ideal on nineteenth century society leads to a greater understanding of the implications for subsequent children s literature and Western cultures including that of the twenty first century

Goodman for Architects Remei Capdevila-Werning, 2013-10-15 American philosopher Nelson Goodman 1906 1998 was one of the foremost analytical thinkers of the twentieth century with groundbreaking contributions in the fields of logic philosophy of science epistemology and aesthetics This book is an introduction to the aspects of Goodman s philosophy which have been the most influential among architects and architectural theorists Goodman specifically discussed architecture in his major work on aesthetics The Languages of Art An Approach to a Theory of Symbols 1968 and in two essays How Buildings Mean 1985 and On Capturing Cities 1991 His main philosophical notions in Ways of Worldmaking 1978 also apply well to architecture Goodman s thought is particularly attractive because of its constructive aspect there is not a given and immutable world but both knowledge and reality are constantly built and rebuilt Whereas other theories such as deconstruction implicitly entail an undoing of modern precepts Goodman's conception of world making offers a positive constructive way to understand how a plural reality is made and remade Goodman's approach to architecture is not only relevant thinking in providing new insights to understanding the built environment but serves also as an illustration of analytical thinking in architecture This book shows that the methods concepts and ways of arguing characteristic of analytical philosophy are helpful tools to examine buildings in a novel and fruitful way and they will certainly enhance the architect's critical skills when designing and thinking about architecture
