A Book of Faith Seeking Understanding Philip John Fisk, 2021-11-23 Far too often the God of the philosophers those who for the most part had no appointment at a university are the primary sources relied upon by many authors nowadays in their approach to the problem of evil These fifty two Lord's day or Sabbath day readings draw the reader into a dialogue with university professors of the late medieval era and sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries The theme of these literary renditions of yesteryear's debates and disputations is the perennial quest by theologians to exonerate God from the charge that he is the author of evil The sophistication and complexity of their scholastic method and solutions to the problem of evil may surprise but hopefully will persuade modern day readers to rethink their own conclusion about the problem and to take up and read university theologians who were formerly unknown all in the spirit of Anselm's faith seeking

Diverse and Creative Voices Sung Wook Chung, Dieumeme Noelliste, 2015-09-24 As the twentieth century passed its midpoint and was rushing toward its end a growing number of Majority World theologians came to realize that they could in fact do theology in their own contexts for the benefit of their own people Thus from the 1960s onward theologians in the global South have embarked on a form of theological construction that has sometimes been described as contextual reflection or contextualized theology This volume is motivated by the conviction that these efforts have resulted in theological work that is also beneficial for Christians in other parts of the world The editors have invited Majority World theologians to share their reflections on several themes of Christian faith from their own socio historical perspectives but
