Literature And Thought Of Modern Africa:

The Literature and Thought of Modern Africa Claude Wauthier, 1979 The Literature and Thought of Modern Africa Claude Wauthier, 1966 The Black Mind Oscar Ronald Dathorne, 1976 African Political Thought Guy Martin, 2012-12-05 For most of its history the African continent has witnessed momentous political change remarkable philosophical innovation and the complex cross fertilization of ideologies and belief systems This definitive study surveys the concepts values and historical upheavals that have shaped African political systems from the ancient period to the postcolonial era and beyond Beginning with the emergence of indigenous political institutions it traces the most important developments in African history including the Africanization of Islam liberal democratic movements socialism Pan Africanism and Africanist Populist resistance to the neoliberal world order The result is an invaluable resource on a region too often ignored in the history of political thought African Literature in the Twentieth Century O. R. Dathorne, 1975 Explores intellectual currents in African prose and verse from sung or chanted lines to modern writings Africa's Ouest for a Philosophy of Decolonization Messay Kebede, 2004-01-01 This book discovers freedom in the colonial idea of African primitiveness As human transcendence freedom escapes the drawbacks of otherness as defended by ethnophilosophy while exposing the idiosyncratic inspiration of Eurocentric universalism Decolonization calls for the reconnection with freedom that is with myth making understood as the inaugural act of cultural pluralism. The cultural condition of modernization emerges when the return to the past deploys the future Critiquing the Postcolonial Construct in Chinua Achebe's Novels Ranjana Das Sarkhel, 2018-11-21 Chinua Achebe s novels have always been read as texts from an erstwhile colonised African nation interpreted within the parameters suggested by postcolonial theorists. The confines of postcolonial readings have raised questions about when the postcolonial period would end so that writers would no longer need to write back to the empire or rewrite their histories. This work explores how Achebe s novels articulate his knowledge of his own people and the manner in which he participates in the politics of representation He critiques the postcolonial methodology and seeks out recovers and provides an alternative narrative of the postcolonial experience and its aftermath even as he seems to be moving beyond it Achebe s narratives do not conform to the postcolonial constructs of history as telling rather than recalling and of nations in terms of states rather than people Achebe combines the techniques available to historians documentation with those of novelists the imaginative re creation of events for his fictional evocation of the past He emphasises both the African artists role in helping to create a more egalitarian society and that of the act of storytelling as a shaping force in people s lives As he negotiates between his narrative form and realistic subject matter Achebe puts forward a powerful critique of colonisation and its aftermath Achebe represents a canonical voice in the emerging discourse of writers struggling to break free from the clich d world of anti imperialism and decolonisation Writing and Africa Mpalive-Hangson Msiska, Paul Hyland, 2017-07-28 This volume reflects one of the new areas of English Studies as it broadens to take in non western literatures and places more emphasis on the contexts and broader notions of writing In discussing writing from and about Africa this collection touches on studies in black writing colonialism and imperialism and cultural development in the third world It begins by providing a historical introduction to the main regional traditions and then builds on this to discuss major issues such as oral tradition the significance of literature as a western import representations of Africa in western writing African writing against colonialism and its themes and politics in a post colonial world popular writing and the Twelve African Writers Gerald Moore, 2024-04-01 Originally published in 1980 this book introduces the student to twelve of the most exciting and significant African authors of the 20th Century whose work represents Anglophone and Francophone writing with translation drawn from West East and Southern Africa Twelve African Writers was a revised updated and extended edition of the pioneering Seven African Writers which did so much to make students aware of African literature The book also contains an extensive bibliography of the works not just of the selected writers but other important African authors and recommendations of further critical works Mind Your Colour V. A. February, 2019-06-04 This book is essentially about stereotypes as found in the literature and culture of South Africa It deals specifically with those people referred to in the South African racial legislation as coloureds The book is also an illustration of the way in which stereotypes function as a means of social control and repression First published in 1981 Routledge is an Mother is Gold Adrian Roscoe, 1971-07-02 How did West African imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company literature in English begin What influences affected its birth and development How much does it imitate European models How is traditional African culture influencing modern writing What kind of experiments are being tried These are some of the questions relevant to African writing throughout the continent which this critical study discusses by examining the most significant work in verse prose drama children's literature journalism and political writing in West Africa The author examines the writing of major figures such as Soyinka Achebe Okara Clark Tutuola and Ekwensi as well as that of authors The Literature and Thought of Modern Africa Claude Wauthier, 1966 whose work is not as widely known Africa Shoots Back Melissa Thackway, 2003 Filmmakers in sub Saharan francophone Africa have been using cinema since independence in the 1960s to challenge Western stereotypes This text shows how directors have produced alternatives focusing on issues of memory and history African Theatre and Politics: The evolution of theatre in Ethiopia, Tanzania and Zimbabwe Jane Plastow, 2023-01-30 This study the first book length treatment of its subject draws on a large base of elusive material and on extensive field research It is the result of the author's wide experience of teaching and producing theatre in Africa and of her fascination with the ways in which traditional performance forms have interacted with or have resisted non indigenous modes of dramatic representation in the process of evolving into the vital theatres of the present day A comparative historical study is offered of the three national cultures of Ethiopia Tanganyika Tanzania and Rhodesia Zimbabwe Not only scripted drama is treated but also theatre in the sense of the broader range of performance arts such as dance and song The development of theatre and drama is seen against the background of centuries of cultural evolution and interaction from pre colonial times through phases of African and European imperialism to the liberation struggles and newly won independence of the present The seminal relationship between theatre society and politics is thus a central focus Topics covered include the function in theatre of vernacular and colonial languages performance forms under feudal communalist and socialist r gimes cultural militancy and political critique the relationship of theatre to social lites and to the peasant class state control funding and censorship racism and separate development in the performing arts contemporary performance structures amateur professional community and university theatre Due attention is paid to prominent dramatists theatre groups and theatre directors and the author offers new insight into African perceptions of the role of the artist in the theatre as well as dealing with the important subject of gender roles in drama in performance ritual and in theatre practice The book is illustrated with contemporary photographs Postcolonial Criticism Bart Moore-Gilbert, Gareth Stanton, Willy Maley, 2014-05-12 Post colonial theory is a relatively new area in critical contemporary studies having its foundations more Postcolonial Criticism brings together some of the most important critical writings in the field and aims to present a clear overview of and introduction to one of the most exciting and rapidly developing areas of contemporary literary criticism It charts the development of the field both historically and conceptually from its beginnings in the early post war period to the present day The first phase of postcolonial criticism is recorded here in the pioneering work of thinkers like Aim C saire Frantz Fanon Edward Said and Gayatri Spivak More recently a new generation of academics have provided fresh assessments of the interaction of class race and gender in cultural production and this generation is represented in the work of Aijaz Ahmad bell hooks Homi Bhabha Abdul JanMohamed and David Lloyd Topics covered include negritude national culture orientalism subalternity ambivalence hybridity white settler societies gender and colonialism culturalism commonwealth literature and minority discourse The collection includes an extensive general introduction which clearly sets out the key stages figures and debates in the field The editors point to the variety even conflict within the field but also stress connections and parallels between the various figures and debates which they identify as central to an understanding of it The introduction is followed by a series of ten essays which have been carefully chosen to reflect both the diversity and continuity of postcolonial criticism Each essay is supported by a short introduction which places it in context with the rest of the author's work and identifies how its salient arguments contribute to the field as a whole This is a field which covers many disciplines including literary theory cultural studies philosophy geography economics history and politics It is designed to fit into the current modular arrangement of courses and is therefore suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate courses which address postcolonial issues and the new literatures in English Third World Film Makina and the West Roy Armes, 1987-07-29 This is the fully comprehensive account of film production in the Third World Although they are usually ignored or marginalized in histories of world cinema Third World countries now produce well over half of the world's films Armes places this huge output in a wider context examining the forces of tradition and colonialism that have shaped the Third World In addition to charting filmic developments too little known in Europe and the United States the book calls into question many of the assumptions that shape conventional film history It stresses the role of distribution in defining and limiting production queries simplistic notions of independent national cinemas and points to the need to take social and economic factors into account when considering authorship in cinema Above all the book celebrates the achievements of a mass of largely unknown film makes who in difficult circumstances have distinctively expanded our definitions of the art of The Writing of East and Central Africa G. D. Killam, 1984 New Postcolonial Dialectics Sarbani Sen cinema Vengadasalam, 2018-11-30 This book closes a gap in postcolonial theory through its scrutiny of how four Indian and Nigerian English plays that are situated in national traditions reframed their own cultural terrain in international terms It maps the trajectory that Indian and Nigerian dramatists such as Rabindranath Tagore Wole Soyinka and Badal Sircar adopted as they moved from the specific to the bicultural to the global The intercultural dialectic validated here provides a protean comparative scaffolding that evolves out of and reflects the interculturality of the literatures it is critiquing allowing the book to be an entry point practical guide and reference for those interested in studying and comparing literatures from Asia and Africa written or translated into English Its approach and dialectic can also be expanded for use in comparative literary studies on all intercultural encounters Concepts of Cabralism Reiland Rabaka, 2014-07-16 By examining Amilcar Cabral s theories and praxes as well as several of the antecedents and major influences on the evolution of his radical politics and critical social theory Concepts of Cabralism Amilcar Cabral and Africana Critical Theory simultaneously reintroduces chronicles and analyzes several of the core characteristics of the Africana tradition of critical theory Reiland Rabaka s primary preoccupation is with Cabral's theoretical and political legacies that is to say with the ways in which he constructed deconstructed and reconstructed theory and the aims objectives and concrete outcomes of his theoretical applications and discursive practices The book begins with the Negritude Movement and specifically the work of L opold Senghor Aim C saire and Jean Paul Sartre Next it shifts the focus to Frantz Fanon's discourse on radical disalienation and revolutionary decolonization Finally it offers an extended engagement of Cabral's critical theory and contributions to the Africana tradition of critical theory Ultimately Concepts of Cabralism chronicles and critiques revisits and revises the black radical tradition with an eye toward the ways in which classical black radicalism informs or should inform not only contemporary black radicalism African nationalism and Pan Africanism but also contemporary efforts to create a new anti racist anti sexist anti capitalist anti colonialist and anti imperialist critical theory of contemporary society what has come to be called Africana critical theory The literature and thought of modern Africa (L'Afrique des Africains, engl Claude Wauthier, 1979)
